A Vote for Buron Fitts for Governor Today Is a Vote for Southern California!

Today's vote in the ten counties of Southern California will answer for the next four years this question: Shall Southern California, after years of unjust political subjugation to the north, name a Governor closely and sympathetically informed of the needs, aspirations and rights of this part of California, and pledged to give exact justice to every part of the State proportionate to its wealth and population? The only answer satisfactory to the south will be found in the nomination of Buron Fitts as the Republican gubernatorial candidate. Fitts either will be nominated, which means his election in November, or he will be eliminated by the nomination of one of the Northern California candidates. The primary election today will end all uncertainty in this matter. Therefore, if you are a registered Republican and want to make sure that you are going to vote for California's next Governor, vote today; vote for Fitts if you want to help in equalizing representation in California's State government, but regardless of your preference, The Times urges you to vote.

Southern California has a greater Republican registration than Northern California. Southern California pays more State taxes than Northern California. Southern California receives less State support than Northern California. A vote for Fitts will not change the system to the disadvantage of the north, but will begin the work of securing equitable representation for the south. On another page of The Times will be found the recommendations of this newspaper concerning the various candidates for State, judicial and county offices. The polls will open at 6 a.m. and will close at 7 p.m. Any desired information concerning polling places may be obtained from the Registrar of Voters, MUtual 9211.

FIRE DAMAGES SHIP EN ROUTE TO JAPAN

SEATTLE (Wash.) Aug. 25. (AP)—Considerable damage to cargo of the steamship Oregon Maru was done by fire Saturday when 850 miles out of Vancouver, B. C., a message to the company representatives here said. The Oregon Maru put about and should arrive at Victoria, B. C., late today. It sailed the 20th inst. from Vancouver, B. C., for Yokohama.

Will Rogers Remarks:

TAHOE TAVERN, Aug. 25.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Well, this week takes care of pretty much the last of the primaries. This will throw thousands in every State back among the unemployed. Everybody is always asking if women voting has made any real change in our political system. It has. It has just doubled the amount of candidates. The only way we can possibly have more people seeking public pensions is to give the children the vote. We have done it for the wife, let's do it for the kiddies. Children have the same qualification for office the grown-ups have, they are out of work.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

GEN. BERNAL GIVEN POST TAPIA QUIT

New Governor to Leave for Mexicali Wednesday to Assume Duties

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 25. (AP)—Announcement that Gen. Arturo Bernal will leave Wednesday for Mexicali to assume the governorship of Northern Baja California was published in the press this afternoon.

He is to replace Gen. Jose Maria Tapia, who resigned last week. Chambers of commerce in several American border towns have protested against Gen. Tapia's resignation, which in some quarters has been ascribed to political intrigue in the capital.

Military Junta in Control With Manuel Ponce as New Executive

LIMA, Aug. 25. (AP)—Martial law was decreed by the provisional government in Lima this afternoon.

NEW YORK, Aug. 25. (AP)—The Western Union Telegraph Company announced today a censorship had been established in Peru on cable messages destined for Arequipa, Mollendo and Southern Peru. The sending of code messages there has been prohibited.

LIMA (Peru) Aug. 25. (AP)—The Peruvian cruiser Almirante Grau steamed into the Pacific Ocean today carrying into obscurity President Augusto B. Leguia.

The 67-year-old man who seized the Peruvian government by a coup d'etat in 1919, and since had ruled the country as a dictator, resigned before dawn in compliance with the demands of a military junta.

PONCE IN POWER

Thereupon the junta established a new government, headed by Gen. Manuel Ponce, and announced its policy under the existing constitution will be one of "progress, concord and moral sanitation."

Then the government guaranteed safe conduct out of the country to the former President, and the journey to Callao, Port of Lima, began. At 5:15 a.m., accompanied by his son John, his son-in-law, Alfredo Larranaga, and the remainder of his family, Leguia went to the dock and walked aboard the Almirante Grau, which immediately steamed out. The cruiser was scheduled to connect at sea with the British steamship Orduna, which is due in Panama the 29th inst.

ACTION SWIFT

The dramatic events which unseated one of the strongest rulers of South America began only a few days ago. Late last week the garrison at Arequipa revolted under the leadership of Lieut.-Col. Sanchez Cerro, and the revolt soon spread to other districts in the southern part of the republic.

Nothing occurred in Lima, but the city had a restless air yesterday. This grew into excitement when the Cabinet, of which Huaman De Los Heros was Premier, resigned in view of the southern movement.

LAST DEMONSTRATION

Students began demonstrations on Friday, shouting "Down with the dictator! Long live liberty!" They were not disturbed by the police until one group was dispersed at the door of Government House.

In the face of this the President followed his Sunday custom of going to the St. Beatriz race track. There he received an ovation from a little group of friends in the official grand stand, the last for him on Peruvian soil.

A few hours later he yielded to the demand that he resign, and a new government was set up by the military junta.

AMERICAN NAVAL RESERVE OFFICER HELD PRISONER

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25. (AP)—The American Embassy at Lima, Peru, advised the State Department today Capt. Grow of the American naval mission to Peru was captured by revolutionists at Camana on Sunday.

He is Lieutenant-Commander Harold B. Grow of the Naval Reserve and holds the title of captain in the Peruvian navy.

Grow resigned from active status in the navy two years ago to accept an appointment as director-general of the Peruvian air forces. Although working with the United States naval mission to Peru, he was not attached to it because of his civilian status.

The Embassy is seeking assurance of his safety, communicating through informal channels with the revolutionists.

Inquiries are also being made by the Embassy regarding the seizure at Arequipa by the insurgents of an airplane of the Faucett Aviation Company. Elmer J. Faucett, an American citizen who heads the company, is believed to be in Arequipa.

NORTH SWEPT BY STORM

Light Rain Falls Over Wide Area, Accompanied by Lightning, Hail, Snow and Thunder

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 25. (Exclusive)—Northern California received its first rainfall in weeks today and with it hail, snow, thunder and lightning. In spots the electrical disturbances were severe. It knocked a man unconscious near Morgan Hill, damaged radio sets, felled trees and put power lines out of commission in and near Stockton; caused some damage to dried peaches and figs on the trees in the Modesto area; the same was true around Lodi, where falling wires killed a horse. Otherwise, no crop damage was reported.

The storm played its pranks from the central coast region into the high Sierras. Thunder boomed and lightning flashed in the bay area between 3 and 6 a.m., but the rainfall was not enough to be measured on the official gauge. Oakland, Alameda and the Mt. Diablo section experienced sharp showers with the electrical display, but Berkeley escaped with nothing worse than clouded skies.

Snow fell on Mts. Ritter and Banner in the Sierras and rain fell in various parts of the mountains.

Eight forest and brush fires were started by lightning bolts in the Santa Cruz Mountains and three more in other parts of Santa Cruz county, according to reports to State Forester Pratt. On the other hand, an inch of rain at Placerville was a blessing to fire fighters in that section, materially minimizing the danger of fires started by lightning. Rain also helped fire fighters battling a 3000-acre blaze between Plymouth and Oleta in Amador county.

Thirty prisoners of a road camp extinguished a thirty-acre fire in an almost inaccessible part of Bear Canyon, Colusa county, before it had a chance to cause greater damage.

Residents of San Jose, Palo Alto, Santa Cruz and Sacramento were awakened by the early morning showers and Folsom received a heavy rain. Oakland airport station registered .01 of an inch of rainfall, but Chabot Observatory, five miles away, did not show a trace.

The showers in Santa Clara county were declared too light to damage prunes and apricots now being picked.

Alex Messina, prune picker, 40 years of age, was knocked unconscious near Morgan Hill by a bolt of lightning which split two trees near which he was picking.

Official government reporting stations in Northern California registered .01 of an inch at San Jose and a trace at Sacramento and Stockton.

THRONE SCORNED FOR LOVE

Archduke Albrecht Marries Divorcee and Gives Up All Claim to Hungarian Scepter

BUDAPEST (Hungary) Aug. 25. (AP)—Archduke Albrecht of the Hapsburgs, aspirant to the Hungarian throne, has found, like King Carol of Rumania, that the royal road to romance is a rocky one.

The Archduke, preferring love to leadership, has married Mme. Irene Lelbach, divorced wife of the Hungarian Minister to Sofia, also known as Irene Rudnay. For the love of her he intends to renounce all his titles and privileges as a member of the Hapsburg royal family and emigrate to Brazil.

The marriage is said by an official communique to have been a civil ceremony, which took place some time ago, probably in London. With it virtually ends his chances of ever occupying the throne.

Albrecht was bitterly opposed in his desire by his mother, widow of the Archduke Friedrich. She was tremendously ambitious for him and led a fight in legitimist ranks against the pretentions of Archduke Otto, son of the Ex-Emperor Charles, who has been studying in Belgium, with the Ex-Empress Zita.

When at last the Archduchess Isabella's remonstrances became embittered, Albrecht took matters into his own hands and determined to leave for South America.

On his way he determined to settle the question of love or politics once and for all. He visited Archduke Otto in Belgium and by swearing allegiance to him automatically deferred his claims to the boy who now is the sole hope of the Hungarian legitimists.

In Brazil Albrecht acquired 150,000 acres of land, where he intends to settle with his bride and about 400 Hungarian retainers. He is 42 years of age, whereas Otto will be 18 in November.

PLANE LET DOWN VIA PARACHUTE

Stalled Ship Lowered to Tree Top in Test and Only Slightly Damaged

DETROIT, Aug. 25. (Exclusive)—An airplane that had been stalled deliberately was lowered more than 2000 feet by means of a parachute attached to the plane, in a test at the Grosse Isle Airport today. The parachute lowered the plane into a treetop, damaging the propeller.

The plane was piloted by Vance Breese. The test was conducted for the Detroit Aircraft Corporation, manufacturers of the plane used in the attempt, and the Russell Parachute Company, manufacturers of the parachute.

Breese said it was decided to make the test over the tree near the airport in order to learn just what would happen under such conditions. The plane used was a three-place Parks biplane.

"I climbed to about 2200 feet," Breese said, "then stalled the plane. As the ship went into a spin, I pulled the release cord and the pilot parachute pulled the large parachute from the container in the fuselage. We came down comparatively slowly and landed in a tree. The propeller was bent slightly."

The entire apparatus, including parachute and operating equipment, weighs less than 100 pounds when installed in a small plane.

Woman Killed Rescuing Child in Plane Path

LONG BEACH (Wash.) Aug. 25. (AP)—Mrs. Marion Williams, 25 years of age, Astoria, Or., was killed today when she rushed into the path of an airplane to save a little girl.

Mrs. Williams, bathing in the surf at Long Beach, watched C. S. Murray of Vancouver, Wash., take off in his airplane and then saw him turn and head back toward the beach. As she approached, Mrs. Williams saw a little girl near where she thought the plane would land. She ran from the water, seized the girl and threw her to safety.

Before she could follow, the plane's propeller struck her.

MILLION CALIFORNIANS TO GO TO THE POLLS TODAY

Primary Campaign Ends in Barrage of Conflicting Claims; Race for Governor Neck-and-Neck

Election polls for today's primary will open at 6 a.m. and close at 7 p.m. throughout the State. The first scattering returns are expected about 7:30. Under the law no votes can be counted till the polls close.

There are 10,283 polling-places in the whole State and 1,589,413 registered Republicans eligible to vote. Los Angeles county has 3661 of these polling-places and 585,746 of the registered Republican voters, making this by far the most important voting-center of the State.

The Times has perfected arrangements for collecting and tabulating the State and county vote as rapidly as the election judges complete their work at the polling-places. Due to the length of the ballot, however, the count is likely to be slow, especially on the minor offices. At most places votes for Governor will be counted first and there should be a fair representation of such figures available by 9 p.m. Beginning at 7 p.m. and at intervals thereafter The Times will broadcast election news from KHJ, the Don Lee station, and will give information by telephone to all who call MAdison 2345.

With more than 1,000,000 votes anticipated, and with the largest field of candidates ever submitted to the State's electorate, today's preferential primary election will conclude one of the most aggressive political campaigns in California's history.

The Republican contest for Governor, involving the candidacies of the incumbent Governor, C. C. Young, Mayor James Rolph, Jr., of San Francisco, and Dist.-Atty. Buron Fitts, has overshadowed other election issues and reaches a climax at the ballot box today with little more than conflicting straw votes and contradictory claims to serve as the basis for conjectures as to the outcome.

Unprejudiced surveys of the gubernatorial race place Fitts ahead of his two Northern California competitors, but it is conceded that the Southern California candidate's chief hope of winning lies in the willingness of voters in the southern portion of the State to go to the polls in greater relative numbers than has been the case heretofore.

Despite the usual optimistic pre-election predictions of the various campaign headquarters, most observers anticipate a close finish for the Republican nomination for Governor.

VOTE ESTIMATES

Estimates of the total Republican vote in today's balloting, based on the party's registered membership of 1,589,413, range from 40 to 60 per cent, general opinion being that the Republican vote will approximate 900,000, and that nonpartisan offices and candidates for Democratic, Socialist and Prohibition party nominations will bring the total considerably above the 1,000,000 mark.

Los Angeles county, with a total Republican registration of 585,746—more than a third of the State total—is expected to determine the outcome of the Governorship contest, as the three leading contenders appear to be running a neck-and-neck race in the State as a whole, outside of Los Angeles.

The supporters both of Young and Rolph are predicting heavy majorities for the respective aspirants in Northern California. According to disinterested reports, Rolph is leading in the north, Fitts is ahead in Southern California, according to most accounts.

JUDICIAL RACES

Conceding the possibility that the Governor will run second to Rolph in Northern California and will trail Fitts in Southern California, the supporters of Mr. Young insist that his vote in each end of the State still may be sufficient to assure his re-election.

All sides concede the difficulty of arriving at any certain analysis of the probable election result, however, and throughout the day today will continue an aggressive canvass for votes.

In addition to the Governorship, several uncontested places for the higher judiciary, and various purely local issues, offices voted upon today include Congressmen, State Controller, Secretary of State, State Treasurer, Attorney-General and State Senate and Assembly.

County election issues, including the hot fight between George H. Barnes and Joe Crail in the Tenth District for Crail's seat in Congress, and three Supervisorial district contests are expected to swell the vote total in Los Angeles.

Under the provisions of the California primary election law, persons declining to state a party affiliation at the time of signing the voters' register, may not cast a ballot for a partisan office.

It is not possible, under the law, for a registered Democrat to obtain a Republican ballot, or vice versa, but a Republican or a Democrat desiring to vote for a candidate of another party may do so by writing in the name of the candidate on his own party ballot. The name of a candidate written in on another party ballot is not counted, however, in the regular party total of the candidate.

Nonpartisan registrants are entitled to vote for judiciary candidates, for State School Superintendent, Sheriff, County Assessor, County Supervisor.

BARNES URGES REPRESENTATIVE VOTE

Workers in behalf of George H. Barnes's candidacy for the Republican nomination in the Tenth Congressional District were requested yesterday by their candidate to spend all their energies today in a disinterested, nonpartisan effort to obtain as large a vote as possible at the primary election.

"So far as my own candidacy is concerned, I am sure a majority of the voters in the Tenth District have determined to change their representative in Congress," Barnes said. "Because of the present incumbent's 'grand-standing,' inefficiency and failure to co-operate whole-heartedly with President Hoover, the immediate need of more adequate representation in Congress is generally recognized.

"But the designation of the elec-

FITTS VOICES CONFIDENCE

Candidate Expresses Belief that Today's Poll will Sound Knell of Machine Sway in State

The death knell of machine government will be sounded in California today, Buron Fitts, Republican candidate of Southern California, declared in a pre-election statement made last night during the course of a radio address.

"I am confident of victory," asserted Fitts. "I feel that the people of this State have awakened to the fact that governmental costs are entirely out of proportion to the governmental income; that the small business men of this State are incensed because of inequalities in our taxation system which permit heavy levies on the small operators while lightening the burden on larger companies well able to pay; that farmers are weary of promises rather than action toward providing adequate water conservation, flood control and cheap supply of water for irrigation purposes.

"If my candidacy succeeds only in arousing the people to a point where they will demand tax reduction, where they will demand government by the people rather than by the present bureaucracy, then I shall feel well repaid for this arduous campaign.

"I take this opportunity of thanking the thousands who have accorded me such splendid support. I have had no heavy 'war chests' with which to press my campaign, but my cause has been carried by those sincere men and women who believe as I believe that the people of the State of California are not obtaining from their government the services they are entitled to. I want to make this final pledge to the people of California. If I am elected Governor, I will be the Governor of the whole State, and I will deal fairly with every section of the State."

The remainder of Mr. Fitts's radio address was devoted to a further exposé of the asserted mismanagement of California affairs by the present administration. He reiterated tax figures which so startled the State when first revealed.

RILEY'S WARNING

He pointed out that State Controller Riley has given warning that another budget similar to the present Young budget will leave the State facing a deficit within a period of two years. He charged that State expenses were $138,000,000 greater in the past four years than for the preceding four years, and pointed to the fact that the per capita tax in California is the second highest in the Union, with the exception of the small State of Nevada.

"Tomorrow voters will decide whether they will oust from Sacramento the machine that has permitted this condition, sanctioned its creation and apparently is not at all concerned about these tremendous increases in cost, or whether they want an independent, economical, efficient administration that is the tool of no clique or class."

MACHINE CHARGES

Fitts openly charged that Gov. Young and Mayor Rolph are candidates of the same faction that has controlled the State government for the past twenty-eight years.

"The election of either will be satisfactory to the machine, for each is an integral part of the mechanism" he declared.

Fitts spoke twice last night, his address over the Don Lee chain being preceded by a fifteen-minute talk by Mrs. Harriet Works, prominent Republican. From 9 to 9:30 o'clock Joe Scott made a final plea for Fitts over KFWB. Both Scott and Mrs. Works called on all Southern Californians to get out and vote today.

"Southern California," asserted Scott, "never will have another opportunity as good as this to end the political domination under which she has been denied her just deserts for more than a quarter of a century. The same spirit that has built Southern California to the point where she has the majority in wealth, the majority in votes and the majority in tax payment should be asserted tomorrow at the polls."

SAY ON BENEFITS

"We have a majority of everything but benefits. We pay the majority of taxes and our good dollars go to pave fine roads up north, while we must fight to obtain State aid down here."

Mrs. Helen Werner, who has taken care of organization of Southern California for the Fitts campaign, spoke in glowing terms regarding the personal qualifications of the candidate, in two brief radio addresses. She also called on Southern California to unite behind Fitts and break the bonds of an unnatural political thralldom in which this section of the State has been held by machine-controlled government.

Mrs. Werner also took occasion to thank the people who have assisted in the Fitts campaign, pointing out that the campaign has been conducted with but very little money, the workers being borne up by confidence that the progressive, aggressive, forward spirit of Southern California will triumph.

ORANGE COUNTY CLAIMED FOR FITTS

SANTA ANA, Aug. 25. (Exclusive)—Buron Fitts, candidate for the Republican nomination for Governor, concluded his Orange county campaign Sunday night with a rousing address to the largest crowd of the present campaign in Orange county and today his supporters predicted that he would carry Orange county by a very satisfactory majority. Surrounding towns sent sizable delegations to the closing rally for Fitts and were not disappointed in his address. The candidate called attention to the pro-

How to Mark Your Ballot Today

To vote for a candidate stamp a cross opposite the name. The crosses on the ballot below represent the recommendations of The Times on the several candidates appearing on the State primary ballots. The latter, however, vary according to the districts where they are to be used and no one ballot carries all the names shown below. This ballot is a composite of all the district ballots. As a Republican paper, The Times makes recommendations only among Republican candidates where the offices are partisan.

FITTS REVEALS NEW STRENGTH

Bay City Observers Predict Surprise in North

Partisans Forecast Vote of 20,000 as Minimum

Rolph Claims of "Landslide" Regarded as "Silly"

BY FLOYD J. HEALEY
"Times" Staff Correspondent

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 25. (Exclusive)—Supporters of Buron Fitts for the Republican gubernatorial nomination discovered new cause for confidence tonight in the statement of Registrar Collins that he expects between 130,000 and 140,000 ballots to be cast in this city at tomorrow's primary election.

Fitts campaign officials in Northern California made no flamboyant claims regarding the strength of the vote the Los Angeles county District Attorney and former Lieutenant-Governor will receive here. They do not, for instance, consider him capable of beating Mayor Rolph in his own city, but they do expect Fitts to register between 20,000 and 30,000 votes.

OPTIMISM RIFE

If he does, the 30,000 plurality in San Francisco which Rolph campaign executives predict the Mayor will receive, taken in conjunction with the estimated relative strength of the three major candidates, places Gov. Young third. And that prompted enthusiasm tonight at Fitts headquarters as they expect Fitts to come across the Tehachapi with more than enough votes to wipe out the Rolph strength in San Francisco and to more than balance Young throughout the rest of Northern California.

Last-minute reports to Donald McClure, field director of the Fitts campaign in the north, resulted in the following statement:

"We have made a careful checkup of the situation. All our reports indicate a very definite swing to Buron Fitts.

"He will win the Republican nomination for Governor with a plurality of at least 25,000 votes. He will come north with a plurality in Southern California of between 75,000 and 100,000 votes. It is generally admitted that such a plurality south of the Tehachapi will insure victory.

SURPRISE PREDICTED

"I feel confident the Northern California vote is going to be one of the biggest surprises of the election. There has been such a decided change in sentiment in parts of the San Joaquin Valley and in the northern end of the State that several counties claimed by other candidates will be safely in the Fitts column tomorrow night.

"Here in San Francisco there has been a big shift in the last few days and the Fitts vote here will run between 20,000 and 30,000."

Confidence of the Fitts forces is evident in the final campaign statements emanating from the headquarters of the candidate, but in a manner neither exaggerated nor pessimistic.

"LANDSLIDE" SILLY

On the other hand, a statement issued from Rolph headquarters, along with the usual eleventh-hour expressions of thanks to the voters, says reports reaching Rolph headquarters indicate "the Rolph victory tomorrow will be a landside," an assertion all normal observers consider so optimistic as to be silly.

Young headquarters, on the other hand, issued a statement in which the Governor looks forward to the outcome at the polls "with every confidence of victory," but will give $500 "for information leading to the arrest of any one tampering with the voting machines to be used to record San Francisco's vote."

SIGN OF WEAKNESS

That is the first indication given here that any such contingency is even a remote possibility and because it has been used as a campaign dodge before by candidates who saw themselves doomed to defeat is taken in exactly that light.

In addition to the State offices at issue San Franciscans will vote for fifteen freeholders whose duty it will be to prepare a new city charter. There are fifty-three candidates for the offices.

There will be also four bond issues aggregating $68,115,000, designed to provide funds for the erection of a distributing system for power generated in connection with the Hetch-Hechy water project. These need a two-third vote and those closest to the situation doubt if they will carry.

MILLION VOTERS AT POLLS TODAY

tion as a "primary" is dangerously misleading. Since this State is so overwhelmingly Republican, the latter party's nominees at the primary election are practically elected at that time to the offices they seek. Consequently, good citizenship demands that every effort should be made to obtain as large a vote as possible at the primary election, otherwise there is danger that an alert but selfish minority will name the governmental representatives of the whole people."

Meanwhile, the Barnes headquarters in the Bradbury Building were deluged yesterday with a flood of unsolicited indorsements by influential individuals and organizations, commending the candidate's advocacy of conservation and his pledge of adherence to the President's policies.

DANZIG UNCOVERS COUNTERFEIT PLOT

BERLIN, Aug. 25. (AP)—Dispatches from Danzig state police there have uncovered an international counterfeiting band operating as an American trading company with headquarters believed to be in Chicago. The report says spurious bank notes of all countries have been distributed through Europe by operators who have evaded detection by rapid shifts from one denomination and country to another.

Helen Kane Bawls Out Loud as Receiver Gets $50,000 Bankrupt Friend Gave Her

NEW YORK, Aug. 25. (AP)—Helen Kane, who made a-doops to music on the stage and screen, had the lead in a scene today, but it was no comedy.

She broke down and cried out loud when faced with a demand she hand over $50,000 given to her by Murray Posner, whom she described as "her dearest friend" shortly before his dress concern went into bankruptcy.

Miss Kane was the only witness at a bankruptcy hearing, which finally was adjourned until September 15. She testified that last fall while both she and Posner were in Hollywood she gave him $50,000 with which to buy Liberty bonds for her. She supposed he had done so, but learned later the money had been put into Posner's business.

When she asked about this, she said Posner told her that his partner, Jack Eisen, had converted the bonds into cash to help his aged father but that her money was perfectly safe.

Recently he deposited $50,000 to her account. She bought Liberty bonds in Chicago with $50,000 [illegible] ready had it [illegible] rented under Marks. [illegible] a false name, [illegible] thinks of Chicago.

PLANES TO SPY ON RUM ROW ASKED

Liquor-Laden Vessels in Lake Erie Await Chance to Run Blockade

BUFFALO (N. Y.) Aug. 25. (AP)—Unmolested in the Canadian waters of Lake Erie are four, possibly five, ocean-going steamers laden with liquor. All are awaiting favorable opportunities to discharge their cargoes to small boats, the duty of which will be to dash through the American cordon of Coast Guard boats, if possible, and land cargoes on the shores of New York, Pennsylvania or Ohio.

The situation was brought to the attention of Washington by M. W. Rasmussen, commander of the Coast Guard in this district, who asked that Coast Guard headquarters dispatch airplanes to act as eyes for the rum chasers he commands.

Coast Guard boats, seventy-five in number, have been mobilized in American waters between points opposite Fort Burwell, Ont., and Long Point, Ont. It was between these two ports that Lake Erie's rum row was established and, it is supposed, still is being maintained.

crastinating policies of the present State administration and cited the delays in building a prison for first offenders and a State prison for women, neither of which has been constructed, although funds have long been available. Fitts called attention to the unfavorable record of the Governor as regards State expenditures and insisted that if taxes were not cut the State would suffer very serious results. Fitts also stressed the unfair attitude of Northern California politicians in their distribution of patronage and the selection of legislative committees. Frequently during the address the crowd broke into applause particularly as regards Fitts's claim for a fair deal for the Southland.

James Metzgar, in charge of the Fitts campaign in Orange county, issued the following statement:

"Indications are that Fitts will carry Orange county by at least 2500 plurality. Out of the 36,000 registered Republicans, there should be 20,000 votes cast. It is my opinion that Southern California will give Fitts the tremendous lead required to defeat Rolph, the runner-up."

"WE WILL WIN," SAYS YOUNG'S MANAGER

Marshall Stimson, Southern California campaign manager for Gov. C. C. Young, predicted the renomination of the Governor in a final statement last night. He expects Young to invade Southern California with a 30,000 majority over Mayor James Rolph of San Francisco, nearest contender.

Basing my conclusions upon reports from our northern headquarters, which are a summary of reports from every northern county, I have no hesitation in stating that Gov. C. C. Young will be found to have been renominated by the Republicans when the votes are counted Tuesday. Rolph will be second, and Fitts, third. Gov. C. C. Young's northern headquarters estimate that Gov. Young will come to the Tehachapi with over 30,000 over Rolph, his nearest contender. Gov. Young's majority over Fitts will be in excess of 75,000.

"In Southern California Gov. Young will have a majority over Rolph of about 30,000. Gov. Young will probably carry Los Angeles city and all other southern counties with the possible exception of Orange county and Ventura county, where the fight will be very close between Gov. Young and Buron Fitts."

BRITONS SLAIN IN INDIA CLASH

Officer and Eight of His Men Tribesmen's Victims

Thirty-two Native Warriors in Attacking Band Die

Northwest Frontier Province Scene of Encounter

SIMLA (India) Aug. 25. (AP)—A sharp encounter, in which a British army officer and eight infantrymen were killed, was reported today to have taken place between British troops and Hathikhel warriors of Wazilistan, in the northwest frontier province.

With repulse of the Afridi attack on Peshawar, key city of the province, Wazirl tribesmen to the southwest have suddenly become active. The Afridis attacking Peshawar urged them to take the field against the British.

TRIBESMEN ADVANCE

A force of Hathikhels, led by a mullah named Faqal Qadar, suddenly advanced on the remote city of Bannu, situated in the mountains 100 miles southwest of Peshawar and the Khyber Pass.

A British force under Capt. Ashcroft was sent out to parley with the tribesmen, who had announced they were rallying at a spot on the Bannu-Kohat Road.

As the parleying began, Capt. Ashcroft entered into an argument with one of the tribal leaders. Suddenly another tribesman shot him down from behind, killing him instantly.

HAND-TO-HAND FIGHT

Immediately a hand-to-hand fight began. The mullah was seriously wounded in the British onslaught and subsequently died. Eight British infantrymen were killed and ten injured. Thirty-two tribesmen were slain, fourteen wounded and seventy taken prisoner.

The British force included regular infantry, frontier constabulary and native police. Its object was to forestall the tribal rally and to arrest the mullah.

The mullah sent a message stating he was prepared to surrender if he were permitted to march to the meeting place and then to the Bannu jail. At the jail he promised he and his followers would give themselves up without a fight.

In August, last year, after their home had burned, he told her there was no longer any reason for them to live together, she testified. Mrs. Jacobson was granted permission to resume the name of Hutton. They married in Honolulu, March 18, 1929.

She played three years on the stage with the Morosco stock company, later in vaudeville, and then in several pictures for Paramount, M.-G.-M., Universal and Fox.

Miss Hutton late this afternoon obtained a license to marry Thomas C. Buckingham of Beverly Hills.

That when the outbreak came the British government was attempting to establish the status of the wailing wall by agreement, which it regards as the only satisfactory settlement.

ARGENTINIANS QUIT MEETING

"Official" Group Withdraws at Trade Conference

Consul-Leader Withholds Reasons for Action

Various Business Sessions Now Under Way

BY CHARLES C. COHAN
"Times" Staff Representative

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 25. (Exclusive)—Juan Carlos Godoy, Argentine Consul-General at San Francisco, withdrew from the Pan-American Reciprocal Trade Conference here today for reasons which he stated he has communicated to his government. This explanation, he declared, would have to suffice for the time being. He denied that his withdrawal was due to the failure of the Argentine delegation to select him as its chairman or to support him for the permanent presidency of the conference.

Senor Godoy also announced the withdrawal of the other "official" Argentinian delegates, but said that as he was busy packing, the names of these representatives could be obtained from the conference secretary-general. They are listed as follows: Ruben Bence Pieres, representing the Department of Agriculture; Jose C. Castellano, representing the Province of Cordova, and E. Blanchard of the Agricultural Department.

OFFICIAL GROUP

The "official" representatives are those delegates representing governments at this unofficial and essentially business-inspired conference. The Argentine delegation is headed by Mario Estrada, prominent agriculturist and newspaper representative.

At the election for permanent president last Sunday, which resulted in the unanimous choice of Simon J. Lubin, head of the Sacramento Region Citizens' Council, for the position, Senor Godoy was nominated for the place by an Ecuadorean delegate and, it is asserted, the nomination was not seconded.

SESSIONS BEGIN

Meanwhile delegates today began the business sessions of the conference by gathering around conference tables to analyze conditions, problems and possibilities pertaining to international trade on this side of the globe. The importance of the exchange of educational ideas between this country and Latin America was stressed at a group meeting comprising delegates from the north coast countries of South America, the United States and Canada. This latter significantly indicates the international expansion of this idea which has been so importantly developed and furthered by the California State Chamber of Commerce.

Ways and means to expand Latin-American markets for California products and likewise the legitimate encouragement of a reciprocal flow of trade into this country, were closely considered.

TARIFF QUESTION

The conference tomorrow will get down to the discussion of the first of the several subjects listed under the heading of "Obstacles to Reciprocity," when Argentine, Cuba, Mexico and Brazil will take up the question of tariffs.

President Lubin of the conferences today announced that the heads of all the delegations are to comprise the permanency committee which on the concluding day of the conference, next Saturday, will report on the feasibility of forming a permanent institute to carry on the work of the conference. This proposition was submitted to the University of California for study several months ago and its report will be analyzed by the permanency committee in preparing its recommendation. It is rumored the committee on organizing will name Dr. David P. Barrows of the University, and head of the United States delegation, as chairman of the committee.

Speakers today stressed the belief that there must be a liberalising of credit terms in this country, in order to promote trade with Latin America.

A resolution indorsed by a group comprising Latin-American, west coast and United States delegates pertains to a study of freight rates, not only from the southern countries to the United States, but between themselves. Clarence H. Matson, head of the foreign commerce and shipping department, Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, participated in this meeting.

Wreck of Ship La Salle Sailed Found in Lake

SUHGUADAH (Ont.) Aug. 25. (AP) The water-logged hulk of the first commercial vessel to ply the Great Lakes has been discovered in Mississagi Strait, off Manitoulin Island in Georgian Bay, adjacent to Lake Huron.

A commission appointed to inspect the craft announced today it is convinced the vessel is the Le Griffin, which was lost in a storm 251 years ago.

The Le Griffin was the boat in which Rene Robert Sieur De La Salle expected to find an opening from the Great Lakes to the Mississippi River. After sailing Lakes Erie and Huron, La Salle in 1679, took on a load of furs at Washington Island, Lake Michigan, and sent the boat back to Niagara. The vessel was last seen as gales drove it through the Straits of Mackinac.

ALAMOGORDO (N. M.) Aug. 25. (AP)—Frank Normand, youthful government pathologist of Belton, Tex., whose body was found in the Lincoln National Forest yesterday, died from a bullet wound accidentally inflicted by George Barnhart of Cloudcroft, a Coroner's jury held today.

The District Attorney testified Barnhart did not admit the shooting, but said he and a companion had been shooting squirrels in the vicinity of the spot where Normand's body was found with a bullet in his side.

Barnhart told the District Attorney he heard Normand call for help, but he did not respond. Normand was shot Friday, but his body was not located until yesterday.

CHICAGO GUNMAN MURDERS BUTCHER

CHICAGO, Aug. 25. (AP)—Joseph Terravecchia, a butcher in suburban Cicero, was shot to death last night in an alley behind his home. A number of shotgun slugs were found in the body, which was only partly clothed. The widow was too hysterical to be questioned, but police advanced the theory of a gangland shooting. As far as could be learned, however, Terravecchia had no gang connections.

DEATH OF GIRL NOT IN VAIN

Youthful Artist Recovering Due to Her Sacrifice

"Artificial Lung" Treament Proving Effective

Nurse Explains How Doctors Made Their Choice

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 25. (Exclusive)—Irving S. Johnston, 25-year-old artist, kept alive for a week by an "artificial lung" at the Children's Hospital while suffering from infantile paralysis, was reported today to be slowly recovering. Johnston's wife and their 14-months-old son are watching the battle from outside the glass case in which Johnston is confined.

Johnston was brought to the hospital in what was practically a dying condition. He was immediately placed in a "Drinker respirator," a newly developed device which forces the lungs to expand and contract by artificial action. Too weak to breathe himself, Johnston had his breathing done for him by the machine. He gradually improved under the treatment.

A week ago, Miss May Jean McCulloch, 30, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John McCulloch, 816 Anza street, was brought to the hospital. Her case demanded the same treatment as Johnston's. Johnston was taken from the respirator and immediately began to sink.

They had to choose between saving his life and that of the woman. They had to decide that one should live, and the other probably die. They had to decide which would respond most successfully to that strange engine of artificial breathing, the respirator.

Doctors held a consultation, decided that Johnston had the greater claim, and put him back. Miss McCulloch died, there being no other respirator of this type west of Chicago.

"It was between her and Johnston," said a nurse at the hospital. "Johnston was already in the machine. He is a young man of 25, an artist and an art director of a publishing house here. He is married and has a baby boy just 14 months of age. His wife, Ruth, is devoted to him. She has been here every minute we will allow her to stay. Mr. Johnston had been in the respirator a week, when the emergency concerning the other patient arose."

There is only one of these respirators in the West. That is in the Children's Hospital, where the two patients desperately needed treatment at the same time on last Thursday night.

Since then a well-known philanthropist of San Francisco has donated $2000 for another machine to be installed at the hospital. The ordinary pulmotor will not function in the way the "Drinker" machine does.

Increase of 899 Names in New "Who's Who"

Total of 29,704 Notables Listed in Edition

Gate Opened to Sports to Let in Bobby Jones

NEW YORK, Aug. 25. (Exclusive) "Who's Who in America" for 1930-31, which was issued today, adds 3498 new names to its roster of Americans of eminence and achievement.

The new volume contains sketches of 29,704 persons, an increase of 899 as against the preceding edition of "Who's Who in America" which was issued two years ago. During the last two years death removed 1497 from the list and 1102 were dropped or expelled for what "Who's Who" calls "obvious reasons."

"Who's Who" is hospitable toward literary, scientific, theological and academic lights, but is inclined to let merchant princes and captains of industry cool their heels a long time in the ante room before admitting them.

Though still fighting a strong rear guard action against sports, the conservative editors opened the gate wide enough to let in Bobby Jones.

MRS. O'DONNELL WINS AIR DERBY

Long Beach Woman Crosses Finish Line at Chicago

Other Events Feature Day at National Races

Four Nonstop Flyers Here All Ready to Start

CURTISS-REYNOLDS AIRPORT, CHICAGO, Aug. 25. (AP)—Out of the blue sky skimmed Gladys O'Donnell with her red-and-yellow-streaked Waco 10 airplane today to add spectacular victory to an already thrilling women's day at the tenth annual national air races.

Mrs. O'Donnell, mother of two children, crossed the finish line of the 2565-mile derby from her own home town, Long Beach, Cal., at 3:18 p.m.

Mildred Morgan of Beverly Hills, Cal., was runner-up to Miss O'Donnell, and Jeane La Rene of Chicago took third place. The official elapsed times were: O'Donnell, 15h. 13m. 16s.; Morgan, 21h. 18m. 35s., and La Rene, 21h. 40m. 48s. Ruth Stewart of St. Louis and Ruth Barron of Hollywood were the only other contestants to finish the race.

ANOTHER WINNER

Close on the heels of the women derbyists came John Blum of Seattle to win the men's Pacific Class A derby—1545 miles from his home city. Blum crossed the finish line at 3:50 p.m. His victory was no invasion of feminine rights, for it also was German day and Illinois manufacturers' day.

Nick Mamer of Spokane took second place and Floyd Keadle of Portland, Or., was third. Keadle nosed out Frank Kammer of Wenatchee, Wash., by less than six minutes. The elapsed times were: Blum, 18h. 24m. 31.1s.; Mamer, 18h. 47m. 46.4s., and Keadle, 19h. 21m. 8s. The fifth contestant to finish was Bert Ruoff of Seattle, Wash. Blum piloted a Lockheed-Vega plane with a Wright J-5 motor.

Art Chester of Joliet, Ill., won both of the civilians' closed-course races, each of them twenty-five miles around the pylons. In the event for planes of 275-cubic-inch displacement; he made an average speed of 112.29 miles per hour, and in the event for planes equipped with OX-5 motors, two seats or more, his average speed was 102.10 miles per hour.

ONE DISQUALIFIED

Ben O. Howard of St. Louis took first place in a speedy free-for-all civilian race. He was declared the winner several hours after the event when Charles (Speed) Holman of Minneapolis was disqualified for cutting the second pylon of the course. Howard's average speed was 162.65 miles per hour. Errett Williams of New Orleans and George L. Harte of Wichita, Kan., took second and third places.

Capt. Frank Hawks, holder of the records for both east-to-west and west-to-east transcontinental flights, was an entrant in the free-for-all, but he arrived from Wichita too late to start.

The women's dead-stick landing contest was scratched from the program when several of the entrants complained they were "too tired."

John Livingston of Aurora, Ill., winner of yesterday's dead-stick landing event for men, repeated his skill again today in company with Freddie Lund of Troy, O. They landed 21ft. 10½in. from the goal to wrest the honors from a field of eight entrants.

Kenneth Carr of Detroit, who was injured during the gliding contests early in the day, was reported tonight to be out of danger in an Evanston hospital. Carr's glider nose-dived when his tow line failed to release.

FOUR ALL READY FOR NONSTOP DASHES

If weather conditions remain as good as reported from the Middle West late yesterday, four of the nation's leading long-distance pilots intend to take off from Los Angeles Metropolitan Airport before dawn today for a nonstop race to the 1930 National Air Races in Chicago.

Roscoe Turner, Lee Schoenhair, Bill Brock and Wiley Post were standing by at the local airdrome last night waiting for a final weather report that they hoped would send them away on the year's outstanding race.

Art Goebel, the fifth contestant, probably will not get away until tomorrow or Thursday. His Lockheed was undergoing final adjustments at the Burbank factory yesterday.

BIDS MADE ON AIR-MAIL LINES

Two Offers for New York-to-Los Angeles Contract

Only One Proffer Received on Southern Route

Encouragement to be Given Passenger Service

BY LAURENCE M. BENEDICT
"Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25. (Exclusive)—Bids for two new transcontinental air-mail routes from the Atlantic Coast to Los Angeles were opened today in the office of W. Irving Glover, assistant Postmaster-General in charge of the air mail.

On the route from New York to Los Angeles, two bids were received. The Western Air Express and the Transcontinental Air Transport submitted a joint bid of 97½ per cent of the maximum rates, while the recently formed United Navigation Company of Pittsburgh, submitted a bid of 64 per cent of the maximum rates.

On the route from Atlanta to Los Angeles but one bid was received—the Robertson Aircraft Corporation of St. Louis, and the Southwest Air Fast Express, submitting a joint bid of 100 per cent of the maximum rates.

LAW'S PROVISIONS

Mr. Glover announced, following the opening of bids, that they would be given immediate consideration by the department. Investigation will be made as to whether the bids conform in every particular to the terms laid down in the advertisements issued on the 2nd inst.

The bids opened today were invited under the provisions of Section 4 of the Waires Act. In brief, Section 4 authorizes the Postmaster-General to award contracts at a maximum rate of $1.25 per mile and also, under certain conditions, at a rate not to exceed 40 cents per mile; in both cases one cubic foot of space to be the equivalent of nine pounds of mail. The 40-cent provision is applicable where the poundage does not exceed 225 pounds.

CITIES ON ROUTES

The first route for which bids were opened today will run from New York City, via Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, Pa.; Columbus, ..; Indianapolis, Ind.; St. Louis and Kansas City, Mo.; Amarillo, Tex.; (or from St. Louis via Tulsa to Amarillo, either or both routes,) and Albuquerque, N. M., to Los Angeles, and return, a distance one way of approximately 2589 miles.

The second route will run from Atlanta, Ga., via Birmingham, Ala.; Dallas, Fort Worth and El Paso, Tex., and via such points in New Mexico and Arizona as may be designated to Los Angeles and return, a distance one way of 2068 miles.

REQUIREMENTS SET FORTH

It has been the contention of Postmaster-General Brown that the carrying of passengers in the air should receive every encouragement possible on the part of the government. With this end in view there is a preference clause in the advertisements for these two routes providing that the department may award the contract to the lowest responsible bidder who has owned and operated an air-transportation service on a fixed daily schedule over a distance of not less than 250 miles and for a period of not less than six months prior to the advertisement for bids.

Provisions carried in the advertisement on which bids were opened today indicate the great progress that has been made in recent years in air transportation. Planes operating over either route will be required to be equipped with two-way radio. The schedule to be operated may require an average flying speed of at least 100 miles an hour.

Contracts will be in effect for four years.

MEDICINE MAN TO PUT INDIAN SIGN ON GAME

LAWRENCE (Kan.) Aug. 25. (AP)—Little Left Hand, Arapahoe medicine man, who estimates his age at 135 years, has decided to do his bit for higher education—now that it has been called to his attention.

The ancient master of herbs and incantations was visited by a tribal interpreter in his home in Oklahoma and told that Haskell Institute, government Indian school, and the University of Kansas would meet on the gridiron here October 10 after a twenty-seven-year suspension of athletic relations.

Little Left Hand sent grave assurances he would be present. Equipped with roots, bark, sacred wampum, horned masks and other paraphernalia of his craft, Left Hand said he would show what a little snappy hocus-pocus will do to the white man's punts and passes.

The medicine man has no definite idea as to his exact age. It was fixed at 135 years by an informal Arapahoe board of appraisers guided by the ancient's first-hand knowledge of various tribal wars and tilts with the whites.

ANCIENT GRAVE YIELDS RELICS

Prehistoric Chief of Canada Exhumed by Party

Weapons and Artifacts New to Archeologists

Michigan Museum Enriched by Expedition's Find

LA CLOCHE ISLAND, GEORGIAN BAY (Ont.) Aug. 25. (AP)—An Indian chief buried with all his treasures 500 to 1000 years ago has been found by archeologists of the McDonald-Warren Foundation expedition exploring ancient graves in this area.

The skeleton will be removed to the Warren Foundation at Three Oaks, Mich., together with the treasure taken from the grave.

Dr. George R. Fox, archeologist, who headed the scientists who came here from Chicago last month aboard the yacht Mispah, in command of Eugene F. McDonald of Chicago, unearthed the skeleton.

That the Indian was of a civilization unknown to the white man is the belief of Dr. Fox and Dr. Alvin La Forge, Chicago, because of the bear-tooth necklace, a shell necklace, stone beads and arrow and spear heads which do not bear any markings like those of the Indian tribes which inhabited this section previous to the coming of the French and English explorers, and later the Indian colonies.

The Indian had been an honored chief, the archeologists believe, from his bear-tooth necklace, indicating his fearlessness of savage animals.

EMPLOYMENT ON INCREASE NOW

Santa Ana Reports 1300 Men Working, Idle in July

Packing Plants, Factories and Builders Busy

Contractors Tell of Plans for Construction

SANTA ANA, Aug. 25.—Employment here is on a steady increase. Approximately 1300 workers who were idle a month ago, are now at work in factory, packing plant and construction activities, a survey made here shows. Valencia orange picking and shipping work is requiring the services of additional hundreds of men and women. Contractors say that construction work is more active now than it has been any time during the year and the outlook for the future is bright.

The California Packing Corporation reports that its canning season is now well under way and that it will be employing from 300 to 350 women and from fifty to seventy-five men for the duration of the season, which is expected to continue into December. The Holly Sugar Company is employing between 225 and 250 men at the factory and it is estimated that there are an equal number employed in the fields. The factory is expecting a season of 100 days.

P. J. Walker Company, contractor for the new Orange County Title Company Building now under construction at Fifth and Main streets, reports that it will be employing an average of fifty men until the building is completed in January.

Miller & Schulte, Compton contractors who are building the new Masonic Temple, report that they will probably be using from twenty to forty men on that building until January.

Ball & Honer state that from thirty to forty-five men are now being kept busy on their enterprises. Wilson & Beaver, Anaheim contractors at work on the Julia Lathrop Junior High School, except to keep thirty-five men at work until the school additions are completed.

Charles W. Pettifer Company, contractors for the new Frances Willard Junior High School, say that work on the school will be under way by next week, and that there will be an average of 125 men employed on the building until it is completed.

Murphy, D.A.V. Historian, will Offer Prizes

INGLEWOOD, Aug. 25.—Charles J. Murphy of 516 Marlborough avenue, this city, has just received ratification of his reappointment as historian of the department of California, Disabled American Veterans of the World War.

Today he sent out letters to all the chapters of the organization in the state, announcing the action of the executive committee in reappointing him. In this communication he also announces a continuation of his previous policy in offering prizes to the chapters compiling the best history during the administration of Department Commander Jack Hayes. The letter reads in part as follows:

"Judging from the success of the past it will no doubt create a greater interest for our organization and knowing that our chapters serve all disabled American veterans, whether they are members or not, and all disabled veterans and individuals interested in our organization should inform their respective chapters, of all information that would make a successful chapter history, for the success of our organization depends on the service each chapter renders all disabled American veterans.

First, second and third prizes will be paid at the Santa Monica D.A.V.W.W. State convention in May, 1927.

Railroad will Repair Street on Right of Way

VENTURA, Aug. 25.—Repair and resurfacing of Front street along the Southern Pacific tracks from Palm street to the railway station will be started by the railroad the first of next week, City Engineer Donald McMillan said today. Bumps, rough rail crossings and cracks in the pavement will be eliminated by the work, McMillan said.

An important feature of the plan is to weld into two long pieces of steel the entire track length over the territory which the change covers.

Co-operation of the city will be given. Thorough and frequent inspections will take place to make sure that the railroad construction gang places the tracks so that there will be the minimum amount of roughness in the repaired thoroughfare, McMillan said.

RITES FOR WILLARD SEVIER TOMORROW

DUARTE, Aug. 25.—Final rites for Willard L. Sevier, who died Saturday while at Big Bear, will be conducted from the chapel of Renaker's undertaking parlors Wednesday at 10 a.m., with Rev. H. H. Hulsen, pastor of the First Baptist Church, officiating. The deceased, who was 50 years of age, was born in Shelby county, Missouri, and came to California forty-five years ago. He leaves his aged father, S. M. Sevier; a son, Willard Milton Sevier; a sister, Mrs. E. W. Bushnell, all of Duarte, and a brother, James M. Sevier of Long Beach. Interment will be in Live Oak Cemetery.

FIRE-HAZARD WARNING GIVEN

Federal Forest Service officers establish station at foot of mountain road leading to Lake Arrowhead, where every car headed for hills is checked and driver and occupants warned that smoking is not permitted except at designated points.

PATRONS OF GAMING SHIP HELD BACK

Santa Barbara Police Still Use Force and Threats to Interfere with Boat

SANTA BARBARA, Aug. 25.—Santa Barbara police this afternoon and this evening were still holding at bay by sheer force and threats the throng assembled along the water front to visit the William H. Harriman, the gambling barge anchored in the channel about three and one-half miles off shore.

More than 1000 persons gathered on the wharf and breakwater last night and were managed by some thirty policemen, most of the force being composed of special officers. The crowd did not get unruly but the gambling barge did a thriving business, the patrons along the shore being picked up by rowboats and taken to a shore boat anchored in the harbor. The police stopped the shore boats from operating in the afternoon.

Owners of the barge and shore boats have threatened to file an injunction suit to prevent the officers from interfering with their business, but as yet, no cases have been filed in Superior Court here and the legal counsel for the boat owners refuses to make any comment.

The trials of four men arrested over the week-end on the wharf for disturbing the peace which were scheduled to come up before Police Judge Rinor this morning were continued for a week.

Old Dobbin Not Yet Gone, Survey Shows

ONTARIO, Aug. 25.—The accepted theory that the horsepower of gasoline engines in automobiles has displaced the horse as a method of conveyance does not hold true, according to City Clerk D. B. Wynne.

Figures received by Wynne from the Union Pacific Railroad Company showing results of a one-day survey of traffic across the Union Pacific tracks and Euclid avenue, disclose that at least eleven horse-drawn vehicles cross the tracks daily on Euclid avenue.

During the twenty-four-hour period of the survey a total of 5385 vehicles of all descriptions crossed the tracks on Euclid avenue, and 643 pedestrians were counted. Segregating the total of 5385 vehicles the report shows 628 were trucks, 4677 were automobiles, eleven horse-drawn vehicles, sixty-one bicycles and eight motorcycles.

The railroad company wants to displace the crossing-gates with wig-wag signals.

The directors are Mrs. B. A. Spees, K. L. Jenkins, Richard Oelwein and Charles Nay. Meetings will hereafter be held once each month.

MOVIE "IN LOCO PARENTIS" NOW

Lad Not Runaway; Sent to Show; Dad Plays Pool; Mother at Prayer

ONTARIO, Aug. 25.—When police noticed a 9-year-old youngster trudging along the highway west of Ontario late last night they promptly concluded he was running away from home.

They questioned the tired little lad.

And he told them—"You see, daddy's at the pool hall, mother went to prayer meeting, and they sent me to the movie show."

He didn't have to walk the rest of the way home. The police gave him a "lift" in the police car.

SAN BERNARDINO, Aug. 25.

The United States Forest Service's effort to assist in solving the fire problem in the San Bernardino Mountains area is meeting with success, according to figures just released by the service representatives and which show that so far this season no disastrous conflagration has occurred in the district.

At the opening of the season, the government Forest Service established a station at the foot of the mountains on the road leading to Lake Arrowhead, where a representative checks every car headed for the mountains and warns the driver and occupants that smoking is not permitted excepting at designated points. This, it is believed, has had an impressive effect on the motorists since the warning is always issued more in the nature of an appeal to reason rather than as a peremptory order. Forest rangers also patrol the highway.

Between 500 and 600 automobiles averaging 2.4 persons per car head up the mountain highway toward Lake Arrowhead every week day up to Friday, according to the government figures, while on Friday that number is increased to between 800 and 1000 cars averaging 2.8 persons to a car. On Saturday, the report shows, 1200 to 1300 machines averaging more than three persons to a car enter the mountains over that one highway, while on Sunday the number is again increased to between 1800 and 2000 cars, each car averaging 3.9 occupants. It is interesting to note that on July 4, last, 7500 autos carrying 23,000 passengers were checked as they passed the government station en route to Lake Arrowhead.

While it is believed that a larger number of automobiles were driven into the mountains this season than ever before, representatives of the Forest Service explained that figures for previous years were not available since this is the first year that the Federal government has made the check. So successful has this year's experiment proved, however, that representatives of the Forest Service did not hesitate to predict that the government representatives next year would be placed at entrance points to other mountain sections. Ninety-five per cent of the motorists who use this particular highway have Lake Arrowhead as their destination, it was pointed out.

The government representatives explained, also, that the reason for the increased motor traffic this season was the completion of a large portion of a new $1,000,000 highgear, dustless road leading to Lake Arrowhead. A large section of the highway was completed last year, another two-mile stretch was opened to the public from Waterman Canyon last Thursday, and another larger stretch is scheduled for completion next month. This will provide a high-gear thoroughfare almost the entire distance up the mountains to Lake Arrowhead. Almost $200,000 remains of the $1,000,000 budget set aside by the State for the improvement, the balance to be used in improving the highway from San Bernardino to Waterman Canyon, according to R. L. Young, State district construction engineer.

THEY'RE NOT SHOE-TREE SITTERS

Instead, This Pair of Feminine Footgear is Found Parked on Fire Hydrant by Inglewood Copper; Force Sings Doleful Ditty to Foot Notes

INGLEWOOD, Aug. 25.—"And when she'd choose to eschew shoes, she'd shoo her shoes away," was the rather heavy burden of a song they sang last night at the police station here, tune unknown, and words previously unheard of, but rendition perfect. And chief among the lusty choristers was Officer R. S. Rosenhauer, night patrolman in the business district, than whom there is none whomer, both by vocal endowment and by divine right of having brought in the shoes themselves, to lead the festival of song.

However, to go on with the story, and getting down, as we must, to shoes merely as such, there was a pair here last night that made it patent that home life can become a bore, even in the best family shoe trees, and the allurements of night life, as offered by the bright lights on Market street at midnight, can occasionally lure the wholesoled away from hearth and home. At least, that was the deduction made at the police station after Officer Rosenhauer brought in the wayward soles and turned them over to the desk sergeant for inspection, contemplation and ejaculation.

"Found them setting on top of a fire hydrant up on Market street," was Officer Rosenhauer's laconic reply to inquiries as to where he acquired the offering.

And that's about all there is to it—first and last. Except that they are she-shoes. If anybody knows anything further, the police will be glad to hear it, as the song-composing department happens this summer to be destitute of themes. Or if any one can bring in a couple of shoe trees, that would be a help. For if the straying couple are to sit around idle all summer it is the desire of the department that they sit on trees, as is the vogue for all right-thinking idlers this season.

Eventually they may be escheated to the State, most likely right after election. "To the victors belong the spoils."

FILIPINO LABORERS EXIT

General Exodus of Oriental Workers from Ontario Area Follows Knifing of Girl

ALTA LOMA, Aug. 25.—A general exodus of Filipino laborers from the Alta Loma, Cucamonga and Ontario districts is now under way, following a serious knife attack launched by Santiago Raynas, 25-year-old Filipino fruit picker, upon 15-year-old Eunice Lawyer, daughter of prominent Alta Loma residents, at 2:30 o'clock Tuesday morning while the girl slept at her home.

Employers of Filipino labor in a recent meeting, took steps to forestall any possible race outbreak by transferring their Filipino workmen to other fields.

L. R. Bradley, manager of the Upland Lemon Growers' Association, announced he has instructed his foreman to transfer all Filipino workers elsewhere.

A committee named by Alta Loma residents to rid the community of Filipinos consists of H. C. Blake, F. A. Wagner, V. H. Wilson, W. H. Rupp, Harry Roberds and William Smalley.

The committee members have visited all citrus groves in the district and requested the employers to have the Filipino pickers replaced with white labor.

The Filipinos have met the situation silently, and dispassionately. Since the attack on the girl the Filipinos have sought quick transportation to other districts in compliance with the sentiment of the residents.

Raynas is held in the County Jail under $10,000 bail on a charge of intent to commit murder, and Miss Lawyer is in San Antonio Community Hospital at Upland. According to attending physicians it will be some days yet before the girl can be pronounced out of danger. Her arms and legs were slashed to the bone by a knife wielded by Raynas, according to his own confession to police.

Search for Old Pioneer Finds His Dead Body

CALEXICO, Aug. 25.—Ending a search which was started early last week, the body of Charles T. Vail, 73 years of age, pioneer electrician and lineman of Yuma, was found on the banks of the Colorado River near the Imperial county line late Saturday and taken to Yuma for burial yesterday.

According to Deputy Coroner Charles C. Cockley, who held an inquest, the man evidently was a victim of desert heat and had been dead for at least ten days.

Search for Vail was started by Imperial county officers when W. M. Smith, owner of the Four-S Ranch, eight miles north of Ogilby, reported that the man had called at the ranchhouse for food after his car had broken down and been abandoned on the Yuma-Blythe Highway, near the south end of the Palo Verde Valley.

Miller urged the man to remain at the ranch, but Vail insisted that he had not become lost. The officers believe that he left the highway and started across the desert toward the Colorado River to get water. He had crawled through dense undergrowth for some distance to reach the river, and it was only by accident that the body was found.

The dead man leaves a granddaughter, who resides in Los Angeles.

ORGY OF SPENDING DEPLORED

Bruce McDaniel, Counsel for Citrus Men, Tells of State Burden on Grower

REDLANDS, Aug. 25. — Bruce McDaniel, general counsel for the Mutual Orange Distributors, released here today figures compiled by the Citrus League of California which show that under the administration of Gov. Young, the California citrus growers are carrying a tax burden the highest in the history of the industry.

McDaniel said that the report shows that taxes paid by citrus growers in 1929 increased to $25.10 per acre for oranges, and $23.96 for lemons. This marks an increase over 1928 in taxes for oranges of about $2.66 and about $2 for lemons.

This tremendous increase in taxes becomes a direct and terrifice burden on the citrus grower, according to McDaniel. It adds to the cost of producing citrus fruits and immediately cuts down the grower's profits. He says "the time has come when some drastic measures must be taken to cut down this orgy of spending. Every citrus grower is willing enough to pay his proportionate share of the tax burden but it is unfair to keep heaping taxes on him for uses which are not necessary to the proper well-being of the State."

McDaniel believes that a State as well as an individual can have its luxuries. And he adds the citrus growers of the county can well stop and ponder before they vote for a Governor who fosters spending orgies. He says Buron Fitts has pledged himself to cut down State operation costs and he, for one, is convinced that Fitts can do this.

Higher Tax Rate Seen at Burbank

BURBANK, Aug. 26.—A higher tax rate is indicated here. The Burbank City Council at present is wrestling with the problem. Officials are exerting their energies toward slicing a large amount from next year's taxes, but it is hard, believed they will be able to slash to a point where they can get by without a slight increase in the tax rate.

City Manager Patterson states that to leave the tax rate the same as last year would mean a cutting of the taxes to the extent of $34,000. Enough progress has been made to indicate that a large amount is to be cut from the total, although there may have to be a rise in rate. This will be due, it is stated, to the recent reduction of about $2,500,000 from assessed valuations.

SHE COUGHS TOOTH FROM LUNG

Opportune Expelling of Fragment of Molar Saves Woman Cost of Operation Planned to Remove It from Lodging in Pleural Sac

ONTARIO, Aug. 25.—Resigned to the realization that she must undergo the surgeon's knife in an extremely delicate operation for removal of a piece of tooth that had become imbedded in one lung, Mrs. Edwin B. Keyt, prominent local woman, suddenly became seized with a fit of coughing that expelled the tooth and saved her plenty of hospital bills.

Five weeks ago, while at dinner, one of Mrs. Keyt's teeth broke off, and the piece was breathed into her lung.

Efforts to dislodge the piece were unavailing, and preparations were made to undergo the critical operation of opening the lung to remove the obstruction. Mrs. Keyt made preparations for the ordeal at a Pasadena hospital.

While returning to her home from making the final preparations for the operation, Mrs. Keyt became violently ill, and slumped over the wheel of her automobile on the highway near San Dimas.

Plans for the operation were hastened, and as the surgeons and nurses were putting on the final touches preparatory to using the knife, she was seized with the coughing fit.

The piece of tooth was expelled, and Mrs. Keyt was removed to her home, where she will be confined to her bed for several days to prevent pneumonia settling in the lung, which became somewhat lacerated during the expelling of the tooth.

INVENTOR SUCCUMBS IN BAY CITY

George D. Parker, Man Who Contrived Machinery for Packing Citrus, Dies

RIVERSIDE, Aug. 25.—George D. Parker, inventor of box-making machinery that is used wherever fruit is packed, and head of the Parker Machine Works of this city, expired suddenly of a heart attack in San Francisco yesterday, it was learned here today.

Parker had patents on automatic nailing machines, fruit separators, fruit sizers, sorters and dryers, in addition to his box-making device. For years he had sent large shipments to South Africa, Spain, Florida and elsewhere where the citrus industry flourishes. It is stated by leaders of the industry in Southern California that much of the success in modern fruit shipping processes is a result of Parker's inventions.

He leaves a widow, Clara; two brothers and a sister, Donald of Fresno, Frank of Fullerton and Mrs. M. Nichols of Los Angeles.

Parker was a member of the Victoria Country Club, Riverside Chamber of Commerce and the Business Men's Association. He was affiliated with the First Methodist Church.

A native son of California, Parker was born at Mariposa, February 2, 1870. His father, Robert Parker, was of English ancestry, a native of Canada, and came to California in 1863. His mother, also deceased, was born in Canada, and was Henrietta Patterson.

When Parker was 2 years of age, his parents moved to Orange county where he grew up and received a public-school education. After school hours he was employed in farm and orchard work until he was 25. He remained there until 1900. About that time he developed his first box-making machine. After working four years to develop this machine, he came to Riverside. Then ensued another period of four years in which he was studying and contriving means of perfecting the machine to meet the most exacting tests that could be imposed.

Funeral arrangements have not yet been completed, but services will be conducted here, relatives stated.

LifeGuards Save Sixteen from Watery Grave

MANHATTAN BEACH, Aug. 25.—Sixteen persons were saved from drowning by Los Angeles county life guards stationed at this beach yesterday. Of those brought ashore, but two, Mrs. E. R. Simons, 902 West Sixty-fifth street, Los Angeles, and Claude Rhodes, 119 West One Hundred and Ninth Place, Los Angeles, were seriously endangered.

They were caught in a small riptide near Hyperion Pier and required treatment at the Hermosa-Redondo Hospital before returning to their homes.

TWO OCEAN RESCUES REPORTED AT HERMOSA

HERMOSA BEACH, Aug. 25.—Two ocean rescues were reported by city life guards here yesterday. John Salley, 2716 North Manitou street, Los Angeles, believed to have fainted in the surf, and Mrs. E. M. Davis, 640 North Beachwood Drive, Los Angeles, were brought ashore and given first-aid treatment at the Emergency Hospital at police headquarters.

DROWNING VERDICT GIVEN IN INQUEST OVER YOUTH

MONROVIA, Aug. 25.—Accidental drowning was the verdict brought in this morning by a Coroner's jury at the inquest held over the body of Mervin Bennett, 19 years of age, who was drowned yesterday afternoon at Laguna Beach.

The youth was the stepson of W. W. Horton, former City Councilman, of 899 West Foothill Boulevard, and was with a girl companion when the tragedy occurred. According to official reports, young Bennett was knocked from a rock upon which he was sitting, by a heavy wave, and efforts of his companion to save him proved unsuccessful as his body was held beneath the surface of the water in a whirlpool.

Following the inquest, held today at Laguna Beach, the body was removed to the Temple mortuary here for the funeral. Services will be announced at a later date.

GAY DOG THIS! USES LIPSTICK

Chow of Feminine Sex Finds It When Dropped by Her Mistress; Applies It

REDLANDS, Aug. 25.—You can't keep the flapper's secrets from Sally Too, champion Chow dog owned by Mrs. C. O. Potter, 122 The Terrace.

This morning Mrs. Potter was putting on the finishing touches preparatory to a trip downtown. She broke off a bit of lipstick, which fell on the floor. Looking for the piece later, she discovered that Sally had taken possession of it.

Eating it? Not that dainty miss. She was rubbing her prize face carefully on the lipstick, first one side and then the other, and did a very neat job of spreading the kiss-proof material over her lips.

San Fernando Backs Chamber with Cold Cash

SAN FERNANDO, Aug. 25.—The city tax rate for San Fernando has been fixed at $1.12 per $100 valuation by the local City Council, which has just completed the budget for the current fiscal year. This represents a saving of 6 cents per $100 over the figures of last year, it is announced by City Clerk Swartout. His report also shows that the valution has been reduced about $250,000, thus indicating a real saving to San Fernando taxpayers.

The general fund rate has been fixed at 90 cents per $100, as compared with 90 cents last year. The rate on waterworks bonds, interest and sinking fund is 20 cents, as compared with 19 cents the year previous. The rate of the sewer bonds, interest and sinking funds is 13 cents per $100. This is 3 cents more than the rate last year.

Last year the City Council gave the local Chamber of Commerce $500 to aid in its operations. Some of the members of the Council express themselves as willing to give as much as $1500 to the chamber each year. Later meetings of the body will decide what the next donation to the chamber will be. The Council holds that the average rural Chamber of Commerce usually suffers though the apathy of its general membership.

The position is taken here that where the city government will back up with money the operations of the Chamber of Commerce it is not difficult to obtain a large membership of citizens who will keep up the payment of their dues because of this substantial recognition from the local government.

Tujunga Figures Show it Cheaply Governed Town

TUJUNGA, Aug. 25.—The cost of the municipal government of Tujunga, an independent city, for the fiscal year just ended, was $30,-382.32, according to figures compiled by Mrs. Bertha Morgan, City Clerk. This is exclusive of sums spent for vacant-lot cleaning and a small amount advanced on street improvements, both of which later will be returned to the city treasury with money collected from property owners.

Figured on the basis of a population of 2311, as shown by the recent census, this is equal to a cost of $13.36 for each person in the city, which is a low per-capita cost, as compared with other cities of similar size in the county. Per-capita costs of a group of Southern California cities with populations ranging between 3000 and 5000, as recently computed, are as follows:

Azusa, total payments, $154,280.92, per capita, $32.12; Hermosa Beach, total payments, $172,379.04, per capita: $35.95; San Marino, total payments, $170,849.89, per capita, $45.93; El Segundo, $207,328.49, per capita, $50.15; El Monte, $78,703.93, per capita, $22.78.

It will be observed the per-capita cost of government at Tujunga is much less than half the average in the other cities listed above.

State Allows Boy Insurance

REDLANDS, Aug. 25.—State insurance compensation for injuries received while employed at delivering papers has been allowed to John Buchanan, according to notice received by his mother, Mrs. Della Buchanan. The decision comes from the Industrial Accident Commission on a rehearing of the case.

At the first hearing the commission refused the allowance of the claim on the ground that young Buchanan was not in the scope of employment, as he was returning home after delivering his papers.

On the rehearing it was decided that since he had started from his home with the papers he was actually employed until he returned there. The boy was returning from a long motorcycle route when struck by a truck.

Robert M. Bradley of this city was his attorney.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 25. (AP)—It was 3 o'clock in the morning, but instead of dancing the whole night through, a crowd of boys and girls were playing peewee golf.

Miss Uneda A. Thomas approached the fifth tee of a popular San Francisco course, and at the same moment, Joseph Lasalle teed off. Result: This city's first peewee golf minor tragedy, for instead of smacking the ball, Lasalle's club smacked Miss Thomas in the mouth.

To the screeching of sirens and excited exclamations of the early morning golfers Miss Thomas was taken to the emergency hospital.

TAMMANY AID FACES NEW CHARGE

Ex-Marshal Asserts He Gave $2000 to District Political Leader

NEW YORK, Aug. 25. (AP)—Developments came thick and fast to day in the many-sided investigations of charges that public offices in New York have been bought and sold.

A new charge was made public by Federal Attorney Charles H. Tuttle, who said Jacob Cash, former City Marshal, told him that just about the time of his appointment as Marshal he paid Martin J. Healy, Tammany district leader, $2000. Cash also reported giving Mrs. Healy a diamond and emerald bracelet.

It was Healy's receipt of $10,000 from Mrs. George F. Ewald about the time of her husband's appointment as a city magistrate that brought a pending widespread investigation of the magistrate's courts.

Mrs. Ewald said the $10,000 was a loan to enable Healy to buy a house, but after a county grand jury refused to indict anybody, Gov. Roosevelt ordered Atty.-Gen. Ward to take over the investigation of the Ewald case, superseding Dist.-Atty. Crain.

The Appellate Division of the Supreme Court for the first judicial district today appointed Samuel Seabury, former associate judge of the Court of Appeals, to investigate the magistrates' courts in New York and Bronx counties.

AIR QUARTET OF GERMANY AT HALIFAX

Flyers Who Crossed Ocean in Unannounced Effort Go to New York Today

HALIFAX (N. S.) Aug. 25.—Capt. Wolfgang Von Gronau, German flying instructor who took off from Germany a week ago on an unannounced flight to America, landed here today after having accomplished a westward airplane crossing of the North Atlantic.

Capt. Von Gronau and his three companions will continue on tomorrow to New York, their destination.

A week ago today they dropped from the Isle of Syit, in the North Sea off the northernmost part of Germany. No one then knew the unassuming quartet were turning their eyes to North America.

Their first stop was the Faroe Islands. From there they went to Reykjavik, Iceland, thence to Ivigtut in Greenland and then on to Labrador. Yesterday they flew to Queensport, N. S. The flight to Halifax was completed today after a stop enforced by fog at the little fishing village of Marie Joseph, eighty miles to the east.

Tomorrow Capt. Von Gronau plans to push on to New York and to alight in the harbor or in one of the rivers bounding the island metropolis.

Motor Output Drops Million

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25. (AP)—The number of automobiles manufactured in the United States for the first seven months this year was more than 1,000,000 below the output for the same period last year.

This was announced today by the Commerce Department, which said the comparative figures were 2,481,911 and 3,736,253.

Production last month was placed at 362,363 cars, compared with 335,477 for June, and 500,240 for July, 1929.

DO-X SLATES MIDSEA STOP

Huge German Plane will Cross in Four Jumps, Refueling from Ship Tender in Ocean

[Copyright, 1930, by the New York Times]

FRIEDRICHSHAFEN (Germany) Aug. 25. (Exclusive)—The Dornier DO-X, Germany's monster flying ship, will make an Atlantic flight to New York in four stages—one of which will end beside a ship cruising in midocean between the Azores and Bermuda, according to the plan finally agreed upon here today. The flight, which will commence at Lisbon some time in September, will be entirely a daylight affair. A decision has been reached to charter a salvage ship which is stationed at Bermuda and sail her to a point halfway to the Azores. The DO-X will then make a daylight flight from the Azores and land alongside the vessel, where it will spend the night. In the morning it will take on extra gasoline from the steamer and take off for another daylight jump to Bermuda.

If things go well, passengers may be taken from Bermuda to the Statute of Liberty. The purpose of stationing the ship at the halfway point of the longest stretch is not because any doubts are entertained of the huge craft's ability to make the full distance but to enable it to carry less gasoline and hence a greater useful load.

Claude Dornier believes that future regular ocean service must be made in a series of medium hops in order to save carrying space for pay freight and he wants to take this opportunity to demonstrate the DO-X's ability to land, refuel and take off again in mid-Atlantic.

Asked if it is not dangerous landing in the ocean when you are unable to know beforehand what sort of a sea will be encountered, Dornier said, "This ship can ride out practically anything as long as she keeps her nose to the waves. Of course, if ever she got broadside there would be a possibility of one of the long wind being ripped off. But there should be no difficulty in keeping her pointed up."

The final test flights begin tomorrow. The flights have been suspended during the past week owing to difficulties in getting the motor coolers properly adjusted. This, however, is believed to be satisfactorily attended to and there only remain a few load tests to be carried out before inspection by Air Ministry officials. A certificate of sea and airworthiness is expected to be granted Thursday or Friday, after which the ship will be ready to depart on a longer test flight, working always nearer to Lisbon, from which city the big jump will be undertaken.

GANG CHIEF SOUGHT ON HIGH SEAS

Finding of Blood-Stained Auto Leads to Move for "Legs" Diamond's Arrest

NEW YORK, Aug. 25. (AP)—The discovery of a blood-stained automobile coming soon after seizure of the greatest gangland armament ever found in this city tonight, led police to request the master of the liner Baltic now at sea, to take into custody Jack (Legs) Diamond, gang chieftain.

Diamond, who has been arrested and freed scores of times, thrice on murder charges, is believed to have sailed Saturday for Europe. Police also wired a request to authorities at Cobh, Ireland, to detain Diamond when the ship arrives there.

The car belonged to Harry Weston, owner of a roadhouse half way between Kingston and Saugherties in the Catskill Mountains. He left his home in the car Friday, and has not been seen since. Police believe he may have been killed in Kingston or its environs.

Finding of the car resulted from questioning prisoners arrested when the arsenal, including bombs, pistols, hand-grenades and armor, was seized in a Brooklyn flat.

GOLDEN STATE MAY GAIN RANK

Fourth Place in National Population Possible

California Has Only to Keep Its Rate of Growth

Few Changes Recorded in Census Leadership

BY LAURENCE M. BENEDICT
"Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25. (Exclusive)—If California's unprecedented onward rush in population which brought her from eighth to sixth place among the States between 1920 and 1930, is continued in the next decade, the census of 1940 will find her ranking two more steps up the ladder in fourth position.

This is provided Texas and Ohio, the next two States to be overtaken, likewise maintain the same rate of increase they had in the last ten years.

GREATEST GROWTH

The Golden State, with the phenomenal numerical increase of 2,245,148 in the last decade, by all odds the greatest in the history of the country, almost caught up with Texas in the time, finishing only 150,000 behind the Lone Star State. It seems certain that California will oust Texas from fifth place by 1940. With promising prospects she also will outstrip the Buckeye State. California's population now is 5,672,009. That of Texas is 5,821,272, and that of Ohio, 6,800,847.

If California can fulfill both these predictions she will upset a ranking among the leading States that has stood for many years. New York is still first in population, Pennsylvania, second; Illinois, third, and Ohio, fourth, just as they have been ever since 1890. In fact, since 1880, the only change in the relative position of these four States was the shifting of Ohio from third to fourth place in favor of Illinois. That was in 1880.

RECORD UNCHANGED

The record of New York and Pennsylvania for unchanged status in ranking goes back much farther than that. Since 1800, over a century ago, these two States have held first and second place, respectively. Texas is still fifth, just as it was in 1910 and 1920, and thus it will be seen that there has been no shift in the ranking of the first five States in the last twenty years.

These five States now have upward of 42,000,000 combined population, or more than one-third of the entire population of the nation. Analysis also shows that they are growing more rapidly than the country as a whole. While the entire United States recorded an increase of slightly more than 16 per cent since 1920, these five largest States gained nearly 18 per cent.

ACTUALLY GAINS

New York's growth, due in large part to the exceptional increase in the metropolitan area of New York City, exceeded expectations. In the estimates furnished Congress by the Census Bureau when the reapportionment bill was under consideration last year, it was calculated the State would lose a seat in the House, but it is found now that it will gain one seat, and maybe two. With a gain of 2,234,276, or 21.5 per cent, New York reported 12,619,503 inhabitants—as many as the entire country contained 100 years ago—and the Empire State now enjoys a lead of 3,000,000 over its closest rival, Pennsylvania.

The Pennsylvania gain was 930,-785, or 10.6 per cent, the 1930 total being 9,440,802. These figures gave this State a safe hold on second place, with a margin of more than 2,000,000 over Illinois. Its growth, however, was not sufficiently large to enable it to retain its rights to thirty-six members of the House of Representatives. Pennsylvania stands to lose one Representative.

ONLY KEEPS APACE

Illinois now has 7,607,694, representing a gain of 1,122,404, or 17.3 per cent. Of the total State population 3,373,753 inhabitants live in Chicago. In spite of this Illinois will gain no seats under the reapportionment for the reason its growth was only just about on a par with that of the country at large. However, the State's grip on third place among the States was not weakened by the count. Illinois still has a lead over Ohio of nearly 1,000,000.

Ohio, in fourth place, had an increase of 880,443, or 15.3 per cent, in the last ten years, representing a total of 6,639,837 inhabitants. This was not up to expectations. Many rural counties in the Buckeye State showed an actual shrinkage in population and the gain in most of the cities, notably Cleveland, did not keep pace with the ratio of increase indicated by the preceding decade. However, under the "major fractions" method of determining representation in Congress Ohio is in line for two additional seats in the House, giving it a delegation of twenty-four.

MORE TEXAS SEATS

Texas, holder of fifth place for the last twenty years but narrowly squeezed out by California, gained 1,158,044 and now has 5,821,-272 inhabitants. Its rate of increase was 24.8 per cent, which enabled it to assist California in upholding the prestige of the West. Texas will gain three seats in the House, giving it a delegation of twenty-one in place of eighteen.

California, in sixth place, was the only State which had an increase going far beyond the expectations of the experts who advised Congress during consideration of the reapportionment legislation. They said the State would gain five or possibly six additional seats in the House. The actual figures show she will gain nine, giving her a House delegation of twenty instead of eleven. On the basis of population at least six of these new seats should go to Los Angeles county and Southern California, but this is apparently a matter for the northern-controlled Legislature to decide.

FOUR FOR MICHIGAN

The remarkable development of the automobile industry is reflected in Michigan's gain of 1,173,868. This is 32 per cent and gives the State third ranking in comparative rate of growth. Michigan now has 4,482,280 inhabitants. Its former ranking as seventh most populous State was unchanged by reason that California went ahead so much faster. However, as the result of its gain Michigan stands to pick up four Representatives, giving her seventeen in place of thirteen.

Thanks to California, Massachusetts dropped from sixth to eighth place with a growth of 401,290, or 10.4 per cent. The Bay State population is now 4,253,646. New Jersey had an increase of 872,127, or 27.6 per cent, giving it a total of 4,028,027. This put it into ninth place shifting Missouri with a growth of only 215,121, or 6.3 per cent, for a 1930 population of 3,619,-176 into tenth place.

CITIES SHOW GAINS IN REVISED CENSUS DATA

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25. (AP)—Individual population reports on the forty-eight States were completed today by the Census Bureau with revised summaries for some New York and New Jersey cities, showing substantial increases.

New York City had 6,961,927 persons on April 2, an increase of 1,361,879, or 24.2 per cent over 1920. The State population was 12,619,-503, an increase of 2,334,276, or 21.8 per cent.

The New Jersey State total was 4,028,027, an increase of 872,127, or 27.6 per cent. Newark had a population of 442,842. An increase of 28,318, or 6.8 per cent.

Mme. Lucrezia Bori

CHICAGO, Aug. 25. (AP)—Virgilio Lazzari, the basso, was a bit rough again Saturday and Lucrezia Bori missed her first curtain call of her five summer seasons at Ravinia.

Mme. Bori, New York Metropolitan prima donna, was singing Fiora in the "Love of Three Kings." Lazzari was Fiora's father. In the final scene the father, before singing his exit, picks up his dead daughter, throws her over his shoulder and then lays her down on a bench. But Lazzari was too rough.

Mme. Bori fainted. Those in the wings noticed it, but not Lazzari. He finished the aria, picked up Fiora's body and strode off stage. There he learned what had happened.

The curtain parted for Bori's call —but she had not yet been revived.

Last January, in the civic opera, Mary Garden in the role of Fiora was hurt when the basso threw her over his shoulder in the same manner.

Fess Announces Policy of Enforcement to Continue

Steps to Curb Violations Cited in Radio Talk

Farm Relief and Tariff Measures Praised

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25. (Exclusive)—There will be no weakening in President Hoover's stand in support of the Eighteenth Amendment.

Senator Fess, Republican, Ohio, the President's choice as chairman of the Republican National Committee and himself an active dry, made this evident tonight in a radio speech outlining the issue of the Senatorial and Congressional campaign.

Senator Fess delivered his address following week-end conferences with Mr. Hoover at the latter's Rapidan camp. It was apparent that his emphasis on the prohibition, agricultural and traffic issues was in accordance with the President's ideas of how the campaign should be waged.

STAND OUTLINED

"The President is uncompromising on the necessity of enforcement of law," said Senator Fess in dealing with prohibition. "No subject has appealed to him in a greater degree than the tendency toward violation of law. He appointed a commission of notable ability to investigate and report its findings on the subject of crime.

"He has taken a strong stand on the enforcement of the Eighteenth Amendment and has presented to Congress recommendations of legislation to more effectually enforce the law, chief of which is the transfer of the enforcement division from the Treasury to the legal department of the government. He has attempted to secure the best possible available talent for this service. In addition he has directed efforts to reach an agreement with Canada to reduce the importation of liquor. Some of his recommendations to Congress have already been enacted into law, while others remain for final action by the two houses."

ACCOMPLISHMENTS TOLD

Senator Fess divided the subject of Republican achievement into three parts, thus:

"First, the obligation in domestic policies which he entered into in Kansas City.

"Second, the unparalleled accomplishment of leadership which the administration has shown in meeting two great disasters which have come to the American people in these short eighteen months.

"Third, the accomplishments of the administration in advancement of world peace."

Reviewing platform obligations Senator Fess referred to farm relief and tariff revision as the two of outstanding importance. He asserted that a farm relief bill was enacted in accordance with the platform pledges and that the Farm Board is making progress toward assisting the farmer to solve his own problems.

TARIFF DEFENDED

Senator Fess defended the new tariff law at some length, asserting that it will not interfere with foreign trade and that consumers will not be burdened by increased prices of protected goods.

Senator Fess praised President Hoover's handling of the situation which followed the stock market crash. He described the London naval pact "as a notable service toward the peace of the world" and ratification of the treaty as the "most substantial understanding toward actual world peace and against war that has yet been concluded."

TARZAN AND THE LOST EMPIRE

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

By the light of the torch that illuminated the interior of the dungeon into which he had been thrust by his captors, Tarzan saw a white man and several blacks chained to the walls. Among the blacks was Lukedi, the Bagego, but when he recognized Tarzan he evinced little interest. Confinement had gradually numbed his brain.

The ape-man was chained next to the only other white man in the dungeon, and he could not help but notice the keen interest that this prisoner took in him. As had been his custom while in the house of Praeclarus, Tarzan had worn only his loincloth and leopard-skin, with a toga and sandals, but in the fight that ensued the toga had been torn from him.

Now his appearance was sufficient to arouse the curiosity of his fellow-prisoners, and as soon as the guards were out of hearing, they greeted him as a hero for carrying Sublatus out of his palace. The white man explained that he was a prisoner of war from another Roman colony in the valley, the city-kingdom known as Castrum Mare.

Their conversation was interrupted by the arrival of a detachment of soldiers, and as they halted before the entrance of the dungeon and threw the gate open, Tarzan saw, in the light of their torches, that they were bringing in another prisoner. As they dragged the man in, he recognized Maximus Praeclarus.

INSURANCE UNIT SHOWS PROGRESS

Pacific States Life Adds $8,000,000 New Business and $893,039 Assets

Pacific States Life Insurance Company's total of insurance in force on the 1st inst., showed an increase of approximately $8,000,000 over the same period of last year, William L. Vernon, president, announced yesterday. The new business written during 1930 has increased the aggregate of insurance in force to $34,000,000.

Assets of the company are now $2,538,547, as compared with $1,945,508 a year ago, an increase of $893,039.

The rapid growth and expansion of the company has already necessitated additional space for its Hollywood headquarters and work has been begun on a second unit west of the Pacific States Life Building at Yucca and Vine streets which was recently opened.

Since establishing its executive offices in Hollywood, the company has absorbed seven standard insurance companies and moved their offices here. Pacific States Life is gradually branching out into new territory and is now operating in seventeen States, Mr. Vernon said.

Each month of this year has shown a material gain in the amount of new insurance written over the same period of last year, indicating that the company will complete a banner year. In this connection Mr. Vernon expressed the opinion that a gradual improvement in sentiment which is prevalent throughout the nation together with actual favorable developments points to a definite betterment in business conditions.

Pacific Coast Oil Stocks in Sharp Decline

NEW YORK, Aug. 25. (Exclusive) Stocks of crude and refined oil in the Pacific Coast territory decreased 2,086,207 barrels during July and at the end of the month amounted to 182,255,945 barrels, the American Petroleum Institute today reported. This was a gain of 13,094,806 barrels over stocks on July 31, 1929. The decrease in total stocks for 1930 up to July 31, last, was 2,507,788 barrels.

Gasoline stocks decreased 665,346 barrels to 16,443,513 barrels during July and at the end of the month were 1,732,614 barrels more than stocks a year previous. At the end of July, crude-oil stocks amounted to 154,081,133 barrels, a decline of 818,835 barrels during the month, but 13,247,410 barrels more than stocks at the end of July, last year.

Crude-oil production in California during July averaged 606,517 barrels daily, an increase of 5834 barrels over June's daily yield, but 267,890 barrels under the daily output in July, 1929.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, Aug. 25. (AP)—Some early selling of cotton on reports of over-Sunday rains in the Southwest and relatively easy Liverpool cables was readily absorbed today, and rallies followed on reported covering.

This seemed to be prompted by reiterated reports farmers were showing an increased disposition to hold their early receipts and the comparatively small volume of offerings reaching here from the South. Active months sold about 6 to 12 points net higher, but the demand was compelled a little more freely around 11.08 for the new October contracts and prices eased off a few points with active months ruling net unchanged to about 6 points higher at 2 o'clock.

OPINIONS ON OIL SHIFTING

Encouraging Signs Not Recognized in Most Public Utterances; Speculators Bearish

BY EARLE R. CROWE

Inside the oil business the majority opinion leans to guarded expressions of encouragement over the outlook. But for public consumption, the statements of influential executives seem as a rule to take on a note of pessimism, while in the stock market the sentiment is undeniably bearish.

These opposing points of view are not unnatural when all the facts are known. Any one familiar with the progress of crude-oil curtailment throughout the country and the constructive efforts directed toward stabilization of gasoline prices is well aware of the fact that conditions are not unsound.

At the same time, the oil industry is not unmindful of previous unpleasant experiences with curtailment and co-operative control. Too frequently in the past the industry has righted itself through co-operative effort and fortuitous circumstances, only to have recalcitrant operators or unfortunate incidents undo all the good work.

They know now in the industry, without trying to fool themselves any longer, that oil companies enter into regulatory compacts only as temporary measures under the pressure of necessity. These agreements last only so long as the necessity exists, and then some company jumps the traces or some turn of the wheel of fortune prompts wholesale desertion.

"As the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey intimates in the current issue of The Lamp, it is folly to presume the industry is on a prosperous basis until the oil companies have bound themselves to a permanent program of regulation. The Lamp says:

WARNING ISSUED

"Obviously, so long as present conditions of crude supply, storage and refining capacity continue, any return to the old 'blind man's bluff' method of doing business means certain disaster. On the other hand, if the industry can hold its output below the market demand for all products for an extended period, stocks will in time be reduced to a reasonable working basis.

"What is rapidly looming as the oil man's most perplexing problem is the 'ultimate necessity of gradually' replacing his present emergency measures of forced curtailment with a permanent, rationalized program of balanced operations."

Nobody can blame the stock market, after its costly experiences with the oils, for refusing to believe anyone. The speculators are bearish and make no secret of it. Small or large, they apparently believe oil company stocks are a short sale. They talk of another gasoline war on the Pacific Coast and freely predict the passing of the Shell Union dividend is only the forerunner of others to follow.

It is well to remember, nevertheless, that speculators delight in overgessimism as much as they do in overoptimism. Sometimes the excessive indulgences of the speculators is the signal for a new kind of philosophy to rule.

Investment Unit Elects Director

C. Fred Seidel, vice-president of the Security-First National Company, investment arm of the Security-First National Bank, was yesterday elected a director of the company succeeding Arch W. Anderson, who was recently appointed vice-president of the Continental Illinois Bank and Trust Company of Chicago.

Mr. Seidel organized and was appointed manager of the bond department of the former Los Angeles Trust and Savings Bank now merged in the Security-First National organization. After the investment subsidiary was enlarged by the absorption of the partnerships of Baer, Brown & Parsons, and Stevens, Page & Sterling, Mr. Seidel was elected vice-president.

BUSH TERMINAL

Operating one of the world's largest and most modern rail and water terminals, this company maintains extensive docking, warehouse and shipping facilities on the waterfront at Brooklyn, N. Y. Besides eight steamship piers, 100 warehouses, a cold storage plant, and a rail service system that includes a 1000-car capacity freight yard, carfloats connecting with all trunklines, and some thirty-five miles of rail lines, eighteen concrete buildings, completely equipped, provide 6,000,000 square feet of floor space for lease to manufacturers and jobbers who are enabled to maintain New York branches and distributing organizations without the usual heavy burden of plant investment. Bush Service Corporation, a subsidiary, was formed last year to finance and handle exports and imports. Two modern office buildings, one a thirty-story structure on Forty-second street in New York, and the other in the Bush House, London, are owned through subsidiaries.

In periods of general business depression the demand for warehouse space tends to expand. This influence probably accounts for the very favorable earnings showing for the first half of the current year, when per-share figures increased to $2.06 per share from $1.90 reported last year.

CAPITALIZATION

Funded debt, $20,560,000; 7 per cent cumulative debenture stock ($100 par,) $6,889,986; common stock (no par,) 344,090 shares.

Current data: Bush Service Corporation has recently organized a Canadian branch with headquarters at Montreal.

Reeser Views Oil Situation as Improving

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—E. B. Reeser, president of the American Petroleum Institute and Barnsdall Corporation, today stated that the crude oil situation is stronger now than at any other time this year. In the week ended the 16th inst. he said, the daily average production of crude oil was 2,463,550 barrels, a reduction of 16,800 barrels from the preceding week and 478,000 less than the same week in 1929.

The refining division of industry has shown a decided improvement, Mr. Reeser said, stocks of gasoline in the hands of refiners representing 95.7 per cent of its refining capacity on the 16th inst. amounting to 41,252,000 barrels, a reduction of 13,747,000 barrels from the high point which was for the week ended March 29, last. Stocks of gasoline were lowest since the week ended December 21, last, and 708,000 barrels less than the week ended December 28, last.

"Producers through voluntary agreements or State proration measures have reduced crude-oil production to below the figure set by the committee on petroleum economics which recommended that production be curtailed to 2,607,900 barrels daily," said Mr. Reeser. "When the general proration order in Texas which becomes effective the 27th inst., begins to work, I believe the industry will reduce its daily output of crude oil by another 100,000 barrels."

Oil Unit Adds Accessory Line

CHICAGO, Aug. 25. (Exclusive)—Automobile accessories will be marketed by Louisiana Oil Refining Company in nearly 5000 stations in six States. The distribution of the accessories, which will include storage batteries, tires, tubes and small parts, will be made by automatic vending machines by the company's 983 filling stations and 4000 independent dealers who sell its products exclusively.

Cigarettes and tobacco will also be sold at the filling stations.

Quarters Taken for Mines Mart

Extensive quarters have been secured at 80 Wall street, New York, for a trading floor for the recently organized New York Mining Exchange, which will be fully equipped and opened for trading on September 10, next, according to an announcement just issued by the exchange.

Heber C. Hicks, president, stated that listings have been accepted from a number of representative companies for seasoned issues and the exchange now has pending many applications which are being investigated in order to establish basic values behind the stock issues.

The order supplements that issued April 18, last, which authorized the company to sell $1,374,500 of Series D issue for the purpose of financing in part, construction costs incurred in 1929, and to pay outstanding indebtedness. The issues are to be sold on or before September 30, next.

FARM AID POLICY FLOUTED

California Economist Believes Main Trouble Lies in High Prices for Commodities Purchased

BY JOHN F. SINCLAIR

(Copyright, 1930, by the North American Newspaper Alliance)

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—Dr. Henry C. Taylor of California, farm economist, is opposed to the farming industry receiving any special help from the government.

What the farmer needs, Dr. Taylor says is "economic justice." This, he believes the farmer can obtain only by "restoring competitive prices in the so-called competitive industries, by making the Sherman anti-trust law again effective, by revivifying the Federal Trade Commission, and by suspending that part of the work of the Department of Commerce which promotes the organization of manufacturing and trade groups for the more effective limitation of competition."

Dr. Taylor thinks public utility commissions should be appointed to establish fairer rates and prices, reduce special privilege legislation such as the tariff and bring back the old competitive free-trade principles in commercial life.

It is the Taylor contention that the farmers today are suffering far more from the high prices of the things which they purchase than from the low prices for the farm products which they sell.

The present farm-relief program, as being worked out by the Farm Loan Board, does not appeal to Dr. Taylor.

Dana T. McIver, Chicago mining engineer, believes that the increased gold production "will more effectively stop this present business depression than any other one thing."

So he wants more definite research undertaken in the United States with a view of finding out definitely, whether or not "the United States can expect from this time on only a minor gold production."

Today the British Empire is producing 70 per cent of all the gold being produced, while the United States is mining less than 11 per cent. Over a period of the last 100 years, the United States mined an average of 30 per cent of all the gold produced. "And look at the industrial development of the United States during that period," comments Mr. McIver.

"If the United States in the future should be forced to depend upon other countries for gold it should now take the most drastic steps any country ever took to protect the gold reserve which it now has," he says.

The United States is doing three times the business that it did in 1914 with only about twice as much gold as a credit base. Obviously either more gold must be produced to carry on, in the same way the country is now carrying on, or the same gold must be "rationalized" in such a way as to get similar results.

This latter course is championed by the Sassel School of Sweden, in view of the present decline in the world gold production.

OIL EARNINGS UP

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—The Derby Oil and Refining Corporation and subsidiaries for the quarter ended June 30, last, today reported net profits of $361,177 after charges and taxes, as compared with a net loss of $38,968 in the preceding quarter. For the first six months net profits were $322,209.

UTILITY EXPENDS HUGE SUM

Pacific Gas and Electric Half-Year Construction Total, $22,973,000

New construction of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company for the first half of the current year cost the company a total of $22,973,000, and an addition to the pay roll of 3000 employees, A. F. Hockenbeamer, president, announced yesterday.

Announcement of the expenditures was actuated by the call of President Hoover last November which followed a request of the national business survey conference. In accordance with the Pacific Gas and Electric's expansion program a budget of $35,000,000 for the full year was set aside for developments and betterments.

"The figures indicate clearly," said Mr. Hockenbeamer, "that the company has not curtailed its construction program in the least. Not one order has been canceled and it is our intention to proceed with construction as planned. In fact, 1930 expenditures to date have been slightly in excess of those for the same period last year."

In addition to the $22,973,000 which the Pacific Gas and Electric Company spent for construction during the first half of the year, expenditures by the recently absorbed Great Western Power and San Joaquin Light and Power companies were $7,235,000.

Bank Executive Gets Promotion

C. E. Robinson's promotion to the position of vice-president, Bank of Italy, was announced yesterday by H. R. Erkes, vice-president and chairman of the bank's board of management for the southern division.

Mr. Robinson, who has been connected with local financial institutions since 1904 and with the Bank of Italy since 1917, is one of the senior officers of the Los Angeles main office of the bank.

NET LOSS SHOWN

CLEVELAND, Aug. 25.—For the six months ended June 30, last, the Marion Steam Shovel Company today reported a net loss of $108,731 after interest and depreciation, compared with net profits of $309,788 after all charges and Federal taxes, equal after preferred dividend requirements to $1.82 a share on 100,000 no-par common shares in the first half of 1929.

STOCKS FALTER AFTER ADVANCE

Promising Bullish Opening Soon Peters Out

Weakness of Oils, Goodyear and Vanadium Feature

Total Turnover of Sessions Only 1,600,000 Shares

NEW YORK, Aug. 25. (AP)—The stock market began the new week with indications of climbing out of the narrow trading area of the past week, but soon began to falter and developed a reactionary trend before the close.

The market maintained a fairly good undertone, and losses in pivotal shares were mostly restricted to a point or so. Sharp breaks in Vanadium and Goodyear and steady liquidation in the oil shares appeared to be the chief influences toward unsettlement.

Trading still was dominated by personal transactions between floor traders, but much of the selling of the oils was reported in brokerage circles to represent real liquidation rather than professional trading maneuvers. Commission houses reported good investment buying in favored industrials and rails, but only on declines. The day's sales barely exceeded 1,600,000 shares.

RAILS STEADIER

The rails maintained a better tone than other groups, and the index of twenty carrier issues held steady, although that of fifty industrials sagged 2.4 and that of twenty utilities, 1.6. The improved tone in this group was believed to represent short covering and investment buying of the prime dividend payers, attracted by high yields. The first twenty roads to report July net operating income show little improvement in comparison with last year, but compared to the previous month, net was almost 18 per cent higher.

Liquidation of the oils resulted from unfavorable earnings and dividend actions of the previous week, and publication of a survey of the gasoline and crude situation by the Lamp, official organ of Standard of New Jersey, which indicated gasoline stocks were still unwieldly, and took refiners and producers to task for failing to gauge their activity by consumption prospects. E. B. Reeser, president of the American Petroleum Institute, however, issued a reassuring statement after the close of the market, reviewing the progress already made at control of output. "The industry intends to reduce its tremendous stocks of petroleum products above ground at an orderly rate," he explained.

OILS WEAKER

Losses of a point or so in the oils were fairly general. Standard of New Jersey sold off 1 3-4, Rio Grande, Skelly and Shell Union touched new lows, and Sinclair, Simms, Royal Dutch and Richfield sold around the year's minimum levels. Among the outstanding weak spots elsewhere, Goodyear dropped about 6 points to a new low, reflecting reports of slackening out-

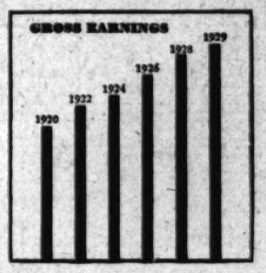
A SOUND UTILITY BOND

Selling 5 Points Below the Average

IN every rising bond market, there are to be found certain issues which for one reason or another have not yet reflected the change in prices and are selling several points below other issues of similar character.

Such a bond is to be found in the 5% Convertible Gold Debentures of the NEW ENGLAND GAS & ELECTRIC ASSOCIATION, whose operating units supply gas and electricity to substantial communities with a population in excess of 950,000 in New England and Eastern Canada. The Association has had a steady and consistent growth as indicated in the chart...gross earnings increasing from $8,636,287 in 1920 to $14,491,364 in 1929.



Consolidated earnings for the year ended March 30, 1930, available for interest, depreciation, etc., were 2.39 times the interest requirements on the bonded debt of the Association and its subsidiaries.

This issue is rated "A" by Moody's and standard statistics. At the present price of 91 and interest, it yields 5.76% to maturity in comparison with an average yield of 5.29% for comparable bonds of similiar rating.

On this basis, the issue is selling at least 5 points below the average, and the investor who purchases at today's prices is obtaining an unusually liberal income and attractive appreciation possibilities.

On request, we shall be pleased to furnish circular and other statistical data regarding this highly attractive bond.

LOS ANGELES EXCHANGE

Western Air Express Spurts 5 Points to Feature Stock Trading on Local Market

Western Air Express, on a small turnover, jumped more than five points to feature the week's opening session yesterday on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange. The market as a whole held irregular within fractional limits, Macmillan Petroleum and Hancock Oil showing improvement while the majority of the list turned slightly lower. The exchange will be closed today for the State primaries.

The strength of Western Air Express was attributed to publication of air-mail contract bids, the tender of the western company reflecting, according to brokers' opinion, an edge over the other air transport systems. The stock opened up 5 1-4 points at 37 3-4, the final sale of a board lot bringing the quotation back to 37 for a net gain of 4½.

Bolsa Chica, which in recent weeks has played a prominent part in the market's activity, slumped 1½ points to 12. Claude Neon fell back 1 1-8 points to 33 1-4 and Van de Kamp's, an inactive, 2 points to 34. All other changes were fractional.

Hancock Oil strengthened 7-8 to 14 and Macmillan Petroleum moved up 3-4 to 12. Union Associates headed the market activity with a turnover of 4900 shares and eased 1-4 to 30. Union Oil was traded to the extent of only 1000 shares dipping 5-8 to 38 7-8. Standard of California continued to fluctuate unevenly yielding 3-8 to 60 1-8. Richfield broke 1 point to a new bottom at 14 1-8 and recovered to end at 14 5-8, off ⅛ net. The preferred dropped a point to a new low at 17. Rio Grande fell off ¼ to equal the year's low price at 18 1-4.

Small fractional losses were marked up for Edison, and Transamerica, the latter trading in excess of 4000 shares and yielding 3-8 to 20¼.

Sales totaled 19,725 shares valued at $607,287; previous day, 7411 shares valued at $240,720.

LOS ANGELES MARKET

CATTLE—Receipts for the week's opening session were considerably heavier, but under a fairly good demand majority of desirable offerings were sold by the noon hour. Prices were uneven, bulk of killing steers selling fully steady with a number of loads of steers a bit 25c above last week's prices. Some cows were considered strong 10 a little higher. Bulls were scarce and fully steady.

Seven loads of medium to good 1250 to 1350-pound steers from California and Idaho feed lots brought 8.15 to 8.50. A few head of local fed heifers and steers averaging 780 pounds brought 9.10. A few loads of steers from local feed lots went at 7.50@8.00, with a load of heavy 1,450-pound Colorado steers at 7.65. Four loads of 811 to 852-pound Oklahoma grass steers sold at 7.50@7.75, while a few loads of California grassers and Imperial Mexican type steers at 6.50@6.90. A few loads of yearlings and heifers brought 6.00@7.00 and were mostly medium quality grass steers. Most good to choice 1154-pound California cows brought 6.40 and 6.50, with odd head of dairy type cows to 6.75. Several loads of strictly medium quality California and Imperial cows brought 5.25@5.75, with common kinds down to 4.75. A few loads of heifers and canners were taken at 4.50@5.00. Medium bulls brought 5.00@5.50.

CALVES—A large supply of calves and vealers were slow to sell, unevenly lower in spots. Top sales of odd choice vealers were close to steady but most of the medium to good calves looked 25@50c lower. Odd head of choice vealers sold up to 11.00, but it seems doubtful if any up to 11.00 lots would go much over 10.50. Medium to good California and Oklahoma calves brought 11.00@12.00, with 200 to 250-pound southern at 9.00@10.50. A few common vealers and some weighty calves sold down to 8.00.

HOGS—An active and 10@15c higher market quickly cleared the yards of moderate receipts. A load of 165-pound Colorado averages brought 12.25, with approximately two loads of 154 to 195-pound California and Idaho butchers 25c higher at 12.00@12.15. Odd head of weighty California sold down to 10.25, with practically all sows at 9.50@10.00. Approximately 70% of the estimated supply were on billing.

SHEEP—Trade was moderately active and about steady. Two decks of good to choice spring Utah lambs brought 12.00, a deck of good 73-pound Californias with a few 100-pound wethers sold at 8.50. A few 100-pound wethers sold at 7.50, a few head of medium 85-pound California ewes at 3.50.

POPINJAY FACES DEATH LIKE MAN

Count Boni de Castellane's End Approaching

Anna Gould's Former Spouse Holds Last Levee

Pauper Nobleman Bids Paris Friends Last Adieu

PARIS, Aug. 25. (Exclusive)—That once-funny, dynamic, colorful little man whose personality flames through the pages of the gay 90's history as a Beau Brummel comet—Count Marie Paul Ernest Boniface de Castellane—tonight lies calmly awaiting the advent of death after perhaps the grandest gesture of his colorful career.

Certain that his end is but a matter of hours, Boni, as he came to be known, whose marriage, divorce and other affairs with the former Anna Gould once filled the public prints of two continents, sent a few days ago for all his friends of the Parisian aristocracy to come to his bedside in his apartments near the Champs Elysees.

SHELL OF SELF

They found him there able to move only his hands, a frail and pathetic shell of his former self, due to the ravages of paralysis. A priest stood at the bedside.

"I have summoned you, my dear friends, to witness what at least means my official withdrawal from Parisian society," explained Count Boni, weakly.

He made a sign to the priest to proceed. The latter in the presence of the stilled gathering, then administered extreme unction—last rites of the Catholic Church for the living.

Then, calling each of the assemblage in turn to his side, Boni offered his hand in a clasp of farewell.

WAITING DEATH

Since then, utterly indifferent and completely complaisant, Boni has lain peacefully waiting for death to come.

There never was another career, even Parisian, quite like that of the redoubtable Count Boni. A Parisian to his fingertips, he first attracted international attention by wooing and wedding Anna Gould. Publicly acknowledging that he was short on cash, but rich in blue-blood, he nevertheless won the Goulds over to the match and the ceremony was performed in 1895 and was perhaps the outstanding social event of the decade.

With Anna came $20,000,000 to help the Count rejuvenate his mouldy chateau and other fortunes—and soon Paris was treated to an exhibition of the most reckless extravagance it had ever witnessed.

MILLIONS POURED

When Anna objected to some of the more amazing expenditures, Boni would calm her by designing new and dazzling frocks and hats for her, and calling her his "petite coco" as only a Frenchman can say it. But not even Boni's expert love-making technique could forever cover up the inroads he was making on his wife's bank account and she awakened one day to an inventory that her titled husband had cost her about $5,500,000 in less than ten years.

Notwithstanding Boni's tearful pleas, Anna divorced him in 1906, got the custody of their two children and married his cousin, the Duc de Talleyrand-Perigord and Duc De Sagan.

CHURCH UNBINDING

But in the matter of a chance to marry another heiress Boni found himself in a singularly unlucky situation. The Catholic Church—and he was a strict conformist—regarded him as still married. So, after Anna divorced him he applied to the Vatican for an annulment. A pontifical commissioner was appointed to consider the matter. After many years that body recommended an annulment, but the Pope refused to sign it and referred the matter back to the commission.

Left almost penniless after the divorce, Boni's fortunes rapidly declined. In later years he was dependent solely upon occasional gratuities from his family and from small fees he picked up as a runner for dealers in antiques to whom he steered rich American tourists. But, however impoverished and shabby-genteel he became, Boni remained always the Parisian gentleman.

ON YOUR DIAL TODAY

KHJ at 4 o'clock this afternoon points to KFRC broadcasting its Fiesta hour—a period supposed to be full of relaxation 'n everything. At 6 p.m. Joe and Vi saunter over the Columbia system—this time Joe is going to try and outslick his farmer-friends in panhandling his apple harvest. "Sweet Cider" is the title of the harvest episode. At 6:15 tonight Paramount-Publix hour inaugurates a new series of radio entertainment. It promises striking features that should merit a dialing. For a delightful half-hour of music—the Don Lee Symphony at 7:30 under the baton of Raymond Paige. Guest soloists from the staff of KHJ will be heard on this period. At 8 p.m. Columbia's "What's Wrong With This Picture" offers good drama and challenges you to detect errors in the announcing of numbers. Then at 8:30 the S & W Fore-um playlet promises no speakers—but plenty of comedy, music and variety. At 9:30—radio playlet fans should dial the Hollywood Community Players, under the direction of Neely Dickson. The title of the playlet is not announced.

KFI at 7 p.m. points to the North American Ensemble, with Arthur Lang, soloist; one hour of what is described "the best of the popular repertoire." At 8:30 you can dial James Burroughs and Virginia Fiohri as guest soloists with Pryor Moore's orchestra in duets and solos from "the world's choicest." At 9:30—Tom Terriss, Vagabond film director, roams around King Tut's tomb. He intends to unravel an Egyptian princess as the first Cinderella.

OTHER EVENTS

KNX tells us Frank Watanabe at 6 tonight is "still trying to sell books, but gets his instructions balled up." "Her Answer" at 8 tonight is the title of a half-hour one-act play by the KNX Players. It is a story "wound around the divorce question" which may appeal. At 8:30—Horse Fly and His Wranglers wrest the microphone from the politicians—snapping into it with songs of the cow country. The Royal Vagabonds at 9 return after a two weeks' absence—they've got the sacred eye of a Buddha and half of China after them.

KTM dedicates its Highway Highlights program at 8 tonight to the California State Fair. It promises all of the highlights of the fair with a fitting musical background by the KTM Miniature Symphony Orchestra.

We also take this opportunity to congratulate Frank Gage on his promotion from KTM's program director to feature director for the three stations operated by the Pickwick Broadcasting Corporation, KTM, KTAB and KGB. The KTM ranch boys are going to ride in the La Fiesta de Los Angeles parades September 4 and 5. They're going to gallop down Broadway and Hill street in true cowboy and radio fashion. So mark it down.

BACK-SEAT DRIVING CAUSES BOY'S REVOLT

SEATTLE, Aug. 25. (AP)—"Back-seat" driving proved too much for Floyd Mills, 16-year-old Garden Cove (Cal.) lad. The boy stopped the car in which he was touring the Northwest with his mother near Mt. Vernon Saturday night, said he was "through," and walked away. Police discovered here today on Mrs. A. F. Mills's anxious query that Floyd slept at the City Jail Saturday night. He said yesterday he expected to go to Portland to visit a friend.

El Archiduque Renuncia a sus Pretensiones

BUDAPEST (Hungría), Agosto 25.—El archiduque Albrecht tiene pensado renunciar a todos sus títulos y privilegios como miembro de la familia de Hapsburgo, y emigrar al Brasil.

Durante su reciente visita a dicha república sudamericana, este noble miembro de la familia real húngara compró 150,000 acres de tierra, en los que son sus intenciones establecerse con unos cuatrocientos compatriotas suyos. Dícese que el archiduque se propone contraer matrimonio con la señora Irene Lelbach, de quien hace una semana se divorció Louis Rubney, ministro que fue de Hungría en Sofía.

Han causado asombro estas noticias, sobre todo a la archiduquesa Isabel, madre de Albrecht, quien por muchos ha luchado por colocar a su hijo en el trono húngaro.

Se Suicida un Oficial Húngaro Degradado

SZEGED (Hungría), Agosto 25.—Anton Horvath Von Csepreg, mayor del estado mayor general, a raíz de haber sido borrado de la lista de héroes húngaros, se suicidó hoy en la prisión militar tomando veneno. Se dijo que Csepreg había vendido al gobierno de una nación fronteriza importantes documentos militares por intermedio de su querida, la bella esposa de un comerciante del país aludido.

Tal Ves Llegue California al Cuarto Lugar en Población

WASHINGTON, Agosto 25.—El avance sin precedente del Estado de California en punto de población, que hizo pasar a dicho estado del octavo al sexto lugar entre todos los de esta nación, en el período de 1920 a 1930, lo colocará en 1940 en el cuarto lugar, siempre, por supuesto, que su población siga creciendo con la misma rapidez. Y también con otra condición: que Tejas y Ohio, a los que tiene que alcanzar y pasar, aumenten en población en los próximos diez años un tanto por ciento igual al de los diez próximo-pasados.

La Tesquedad del Bajo le Produce un Desmayo a la Tiple

CHICAGO, Agosto 25.—El bajo Virgilio Lazzari estuvo otra vez algo tosco el sábado, y Lucrécia Bori, por primera vez, dejó de aparecer cuando el telon se abrí a para qué recibiera ella su ovación.

La senora Bori, prima donna de la Opera Metropolitana de Nueva York, cantaba "Flora" en el "Amor de Tres Reyes", y de padre de Flora hacia Lazzari. En la escena final, el padre, antes de cantar sus últimas notas, levanta a su hija muerta y la coloca en un banco. Pero Lazzari hizo la operación con demasiada brusquedad y la señora Bori se desmayó.

Los que estaban entre bastidores lo advirtieron; pero no así Lazzari, quien terminó su aria, recogió el cuerpo de Flora y salió de escena. Pue entonces cuando se hizo cargo de lo ocurrido.

El telón se descorrió para que saliera al palco escénico la señora Bori; pero ésta no acudió al aplauso, porque no volvía ún en sí.

En Enero último, en la opera cívica, Mary Garden, que actuaba de Flora, salió lastimada cuando el bajo se la echó al hombro de manera análoga.

Fallece un Muchacho que Tenia el Corazón del otro Lado

WASHINGTON, Agosto 25.—Nacido con el corazón situado del lado opuesto a lo normal, Mike Callos, de 17 años de edad, tenia sorprendidos a los médicos, porque hasta ayer, vivió una vida activa de estudiante común y corriente. Pero el órgano anormal acabo por debilitarse y le acarreó la muerte al muchacho.

Si bien el corazón de éste no funcionó nunca normalmente, cursó el chico su escuela primaria, y luego la preparatoria, hasta que, este último otoño, su estado delicado le impidió continuar sus estudios. El latido de su corazón se fue amortiguando paulatinamente, y anoche, cesó por completo.

La Estadistica Muestra que 34,000 Personas Fueron a las Montañas

Aproximadamente 34,000 personas, que viajan en 10,000 automóviles, pasaron el último fin de semana en la región montañosa del condado de Los Angeles, segun cómputo hecho los dias sábado y domingo por los empleados del Departamento Forestal del Condado.

Se cree que será aun mayor que ése el número de las que vayan el proximo fin de semana y el Dia del Trabajo a la referida región montañosa y a los parques del condado. Como éste es el periodo del año en que hay mayor peligro de incendios, el señor Turner, jefe del departamento de incendios del condado, hace súplica especial a cuantos vayan a los parques y a las montañas de que sean sumamente precavidos, pues hace ver al citado caballero que un incendio, no sólo acarrea grandes daños a la propiedad, sino que puede también costar algunas vidas.

"TIMES" THEATER GUIDE

MOTION PICTURES

Boyd's, Hollywood Boulevard at Wilcox—"Shadow of the Law," a picture discussed pro and con, but there is William Powell.

Boulevard, Washington at Vermont—"Scarlet Clay." A large slice of Mexican sensationalism. With Constance Bennett.

Carthay Circle, Carthay Center—"Holiday." A film play of quality and delight with Ann Harding at her best in defense of youth.

Chinese, 6925 Hollywood Blvd.—"Hell's Angels." Look for Jean Harlow, Ben Lyon and the $4,000,000 to produce the colossus of the air; and it was worth it.

Criterion, 849 South Grand—"Our Blushing Brides," scintillating fast-moving story of the younger set with a heavy dose of love from Joan Crawford.

Egyptian, Hollywood Boulevard—"Anybody's War."

Figueroa, Figueroa at Santa Barbara—"The Unholy Three." Lon Chaney's trick voices keep you guessing.

Fox Theater, 1329 South Vine—"Fragment of an Empire." A remarkable exposition of Russia.

Forum, Pico at Norton—"Back Pay." Monay must the little girl who goes to the city and gets along. Corrinne Griffith.

Loew's State, Broadway at Seventh—"Good News." Rahs and raccoons and fun in college. Benny Love.

Miller's Dollar, Broadway at Third—"Anybody's War." Moran and Mack make their debut a good one.

New Rex Theater, Broadway near Eighth—Closed.

Pantages, Hollywood at Vine—"Love Among the Millionaires." Mitzie Green and Clara Bow vie for honors with musical accompaniment.

R.K.O., Hill at Eighth—"Czar of Broadway." More motorama of the underworld which is enlivened by John Wray.

R.K.O., Orpheum, Broadway at Ninth—"The Devil's Parade." An old theme, as old as a film can be. Richard Barthelmess is installed.

Tower, Broadway at Eighth—"Oh Sailor Behave." Some like Olsen and Johnson and they will probably like this musical offering.

United Artists, Broadway, near 9th—"King of the World." A moralizing ban on commercial hunting as well as possible for the coast with Una Merkel.

Uptown, Western and Tenth—"Anybody's War."

Warners' Downtown, Hill at Seventh—"Under Dick." Sentiment is missing from this tale of the sea, though adventure is not. John Barrymore.

Warners' Hollywood, Hollywood Blvd. at Wilcox—"Top Speed." What is known as a comedy smash in which Joe E. Brown wrecks the works. Only average.

Westlake, 624 Alvarado—"The Man from Wyoming." This is war, but the West is new, and what it means to Cliff Cooper.

STAGE

Belasco, 115 at 11th—"It's a Wise Child." A splendid cast enacts this modern treatment of an old theme. Recommended to those who take comedy with a brisk of salt and lots of pepper.

Biltmore, Fifth near Grand—"Candle Light." Reviewed in today's Times.

Egan, Figueroa at Pico—"The Missing Witness." Opens tonight.

El Capitan, Hollyw'd Blvd. nr. Highland—"The Poor Rut." The campus and beyond a love overnight and it's worth seeing. Elliott Nugent.

Hollywood Playhouse, Vine near Hollywood Blvd.—"The Champion." A British-American comedy of the prize ring. Splendid. The excellent cast stars Grant Mitchell.

LAW ON OIL STANDARDS HELD VOID

Connecticut Measure Had Been Subjected to Attack by Eleven Companies

HARTFORD (Ct.) Aug. 25. (AP)—An act of the General Assembly fixing an arbitrary standard for lubricating oils, has been declared unconstitutional in a decision filed in Federal court today.

The statute was contested by eleven oil companies.

The opinion grants a permanent injunction to the oil companies, restraining the State authorities from enforcing the act.

The act provided no motor oil could be sold in Connecticut unless it equaled or bettered arbitrary specifications of lubricants compiled by the United States Bureau of Standards.

Counsel for the oil companies argued the law prohibited the sale in the State of oils designed especially for certain types of motors under certain conditions.

War Souvenir Injures Pair

ST. JOSEPH (Mo.) Aug. 25. (AP)—A souvenir from a battlefield in France, shelved with other bric-a-brac, brought to a household here a grim reminder of its original purpose last night.

Miss Genevieve Courter, 18 years of age, was troubled with a nail in her shoe. Together with her nephew, Dudley Garber, 17, she sought to flatten it, using a polished 37-milimeter projectile as a hammer.

The shell exploded, tore the fingers from Garber's right hand, drove fragments of metal into his right side and burned Miss Courter's face and eyes. Both are said by physicians to be in a dangerous condition.

HYDE SEES PASTURES GREENER

More Optimistic Scene May be Painted at Hoover Drought-Aid Session

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25. (AP)—Greener pastures from recent rains are expected to be an optimistic background in the minds of bankers who meet at the White House tomorrow to work out means of aiding farmers, whose funds have evaporated during the drought, to get cash or credit.

Secretary Hyde, who returned to the capital today from an inspection of dry sections in Virginia, West Virginia, Kentucky, Indiana and Ohio, said rains have helped.

The banking members on the State drought relief committees will confer with President Hoover and members of the national drought relief committee tomorrow at 2:30 p.m. Twelve States have said they would send representatives, but others may have delegates present.

The meeting will study the proposal by the national committee for the creation of State or local credit corporations to make loans to farmers through intermediate credit banks.

Henry M. Robinson, Los Angeles banker, who will co-ordinate financial relief efforts for the national committee, arrived tonight.

Secretary Hyde was unwilling to attempt to estimate the money necessary for drought loans. The original estimate of $20,000,000, he said, was hastily made, adding that ultimately that amount or "ten times that much" might be necessary.

Canada Sorry About Slaying

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25. (AP)—The Canadian Legation today expressed to the State Department condolences of the Canadian government over the two American immigration officers shot to death in Canada by a gunman.

The two inspectors, shot on a Canadian National Railways train near Emo, Ont., were Inspector Doten of Rainier, Minn., and Inspector Jones of Warroad, Minn.

TUNNEL EXPLOSION FATAL TO WORKMAN

NEW YORK, Aug. 25. (AP)—A giant boulder, loosened by a dynamite blast, fell among a group of workmen in the Hillview water tunnel today, killing one and injuring three others. The dead man was the eighth killed at work on New York City's $40,000,000 aqueduct project in the last six months.

COLISEUM WORK BAN ASSAILED

Supervisors Ask Waiver of City Rule Limiting Jobs to Los Angeles Residents

Members of the Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors, acting on motion of Supervisor Quinn, yesterday unanimously voted to ask the Board of Public Works of the city of Los Angeles for an immediate waiver of the city's ordinance providing that only residents of the city be employed on improvement work.

"I have received word that workmen engaged on the work of enlarging the Los Angeles Coliseum are being discharged because they do not live in the city," Quinn declared. "The county is paying half the cost of this work and it is high time that county residents be given some of the employment."

The board previously had received a communication from the L. E. Dixon contracting concern, informing the Supervisors of the hardship being worked on county residents because of the city's ordinance.

'Taps' to Echo Farewell to Hero-Driver

Hugh Donald Miller, truck driver, died a hero and will be buried as one.

Last Friday, though covered with blazing gasoline, he shut off the service valve at the filling station at West Adams and Vineyard streets, preventing what might have been a disastrous explosion.

At 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon a bugler will sound taps for him, for Miller was a veteran who had served his country in battle-torn France.

A firing squad from Fort MacArthur will pay him the tribute paid all soldiers dying in the performance of duty.

The services will be conducted at the Marcoux & Bolce parlors, 8500 Long Beach Boulevard, and the body will be placed at rest in the mausoleum of Angeles Abbey, Compton.

Special Badge for Sky Denied

For the present officers in the aeronautical service of the Sheriff's office will have to worry along with the ordinary deputy sheriff's star, or badge, when making arrests in the air for the Board of Supervisors yesterday turned down a request for a specially designed emblem to distinguish them from the ground forces.

Sheriff Traeger had asked for a specially designed aeronautical badge for Capt. Claude Morgan of the air detail.

STREET WORK ORDERED

The City Council yesterday adopted the final ordinance for the improvement of Ninetieth street between Central avenue and Avalon Boulevard.

INCREASED TAX RATE AVOIDED

Supervisors Vote to Keep Last Year's Levy

Large Cuts Made in Budget to Effect Economy

Special Districts' Costs to Remain Unchanged

Los Angeles county's tax rate for 1930-31 for general county purposes will be 88 cents on each $100 of assessed valuation of property, the same as last year. The rate for flood-control purposes will be 10 cents, for library purposes 5 cents, both the same as last year. The rates in the other special districts, including the fire district and for road improvement will practically remain the same as for 1929-30.

This was the announcement of members of the Board of Supervisors late yesterday when they adopted the final budget of proposed expenditures for the coming year after a week of conferences on the preliminary document. During these conferences the Supervisors lopped off $6,382,834 from the tentative budget figures amounting to $62,729,788. This brings the 1930-31 budget down to a total of $56,376,-965, or close to the final budget of last year wherein the total was $56,348,656.

OBSTACLES OVERCOME

The Supervisors determined to keep the rate for general county purposes down to 88 cents in the face of a 10 per cent reduction on assessed valuation of property. With the heavy cut made in the proposed expenditures listed in the tentative budget and revenue to come to the county apart from taxation, the 88-cent rate is made possible.

"We will not be able to make public the figures of the cuts, and the total of them, until Thursday," Sidney T. Graves, chairman of the board, said last night. "We have, however, determined to keep the tax rate down to 88 cents, the same as last year." His statement was confirmed by other members of the board.

The fixing of the rate officially will be done on September 2, next. It is expected, too, that the school districts' rates will be available at the same time. They are not known at present.

During the course of the day the board, sitting as a budget committee, met with a committee from the Los Angeles division of the California Taxpayers' Association, headed by Rex Thomson, secretary.

"We are more than pleased with the work of the board in the reductions that have been made in the preliminary budget, making the 88-cent tax rate possible," said Secretary Thomson after the meeting.

IMPROVEMENTS DROPPED

In explaining the reductions to the committee both Supervisors Wright and Quinn said that in order to make the heavy cuts in the tentative budget the county, for the time, will have to forego many of its contemplated improvements, particularly new buildings for various institutions.

"We have cut down approximately $2,000,000 worth of new buildings," said Supervisor Wright. "This has been done, however, for the time only. Our population is growing by leaps and bounds and next year we may be hard pressed for these improvements. We have however, recognized the present business depression and will not do anything to put more burdens on the taxpayers during it. Next year we may be better able to pay for these improvements."

The Supervisors declared, after adopting the final budget, that there had been no change in salaries.

Al G. Barnes Grows Better

Al G. Barnes, veteran of the sawdust ring and former owner of the circus bearing his name, was reported yesterday in an improved condition at the Roosevelt Hospital where he has been suffering from lobar pneumonia. His attending physician said yesterday that Mr. Barnes probably will be able to go in a wheel chair into the open air by the end of the week.

Chaney Shows Marked Gain

Although still a very sick man, Lon Chaney, motion-picture character actor, yesterday was reported to be much improved and for the first time since entering St. Vincent's Hospital, he was able yesterday afternoon to take food.

Officials of the M.-G.-M. studios said they were pleased with the reported progress of the actor and declared their belief in his ultimate recovery.

McPHERSON-KENNEDY ARMISTICE SEEN WHEN POSIES ARRIVE FOR 'MA'

Fluttering wings of the peace dove were heard yesterday in the McPherson-Kennedy nasal and facial dispute and there were indications that an armistice soon will silence the most recent episode of the strife between the two evangelists.

MRS. MINNIE KENNEDY

AIMEE SEMPLE McPHERSON

Flowers, fresh Flowers, fresh with the morning dew, arrived at the sick room of Mrs. Minnie (Ma) Kennedy yesterday and the card carried the best wishes of Aimee Semple McPherson, her daughter, who is recuperating from an asserted facial operation in a seaside cottage.

Mrs. Kennedy, who is recovering from a blow on the nose, which she asserts was administered by her daughter during a fight over Mae Waldron, secretary of Mrs. McPherson, was able to leave her bed yesterday and expects to leave the sanatorium tomorrow or shortly thereafter.

A return of the compliment of flowers today by Mrs. Kennedy was indicated when she expressed her appreciation for the thoughtfulness of her daughter. The mother hesitated to outline her method of reply in advance, but she smiled broadly when the question was asked as to when she will send roses.

The blossoms from the Angelus Temple evangelist were barely in a vase of fresh water before another token arrived. This, according to sanatorium attendants was from Miss Emma Schaffer, long confidential secretary of Mrs. McPherson, and a target for some tart remarks of Mrs. Kennedy.

Mutual friends of the evangelist and her militant mother saw in the dispatch and receipt of the flowers a gesture to halt the discussions that have been prominent since Mrs. McPherson was discovered by The Times in her beach cottage.

Dr. Edward H. Williams, nerve specialist, announced that Mrs. McPherson continues to improve and that she may be moved to a more secluded rest haven in the next two or three days. Miss Shaffer spent yesterday seeking a more suitable spot for the remainder of Mrs. McPherson's convalescence. It is planned, according to the secretary, to take Mrs. McPherson away from the noisy beach highway for several days' rest in a mountain retreat. The evangelist then will be returned to the Las Tunas beach cottage to complete the month for which the place was leased.

No secrecy will attend the change of location, Miss Shaffer said, and there will be no effort to spirit her away, and the public will be advised as to her whereabouts at all times.

FLEET CRUISING HOMEWARD

Uncle Sam's Fighters Steam Toward San Pedro After Summer Maneuvers

Daylight tomorrow will find the first units of the returning battle fleet at anchor in their old berths at San Pedro; back home for five months of hard work after the regular summer cruise on Puget Sound. The fleet sailed from San Francisco yesterday morning and today the nine battleships are engaged in their annual full-power runs, tearing down the coast at a twenty-one-knot speed with all boilers in action.

They will complete these arduous machinery tests tonight and the ships having drawn courses on the inner radii from the initial point will make the home port first. In order of expected arrival the ships will be the Texas, flagship of Admiral William V. Pratt, commander-in-chief of the United State fleet; the California, flagship of Admiral Frank H. Schofield, commander-in-chief of the battle fleet; the Maryland, temporary flagship of Vice-Admiral Richard H. Leigh, commanding the battleship divisions; the New Mexico, flagship of Rear-Admiral Harley H. Christy, commanding Battleship Division Four; the New York, flagship of Rear-Admiral Joel R. P. Pringle, commanding Battleship Division Three; and the Idaho, Tennessee, Nevada and Oklahoma.

The battleship Mississippi, just returned from duty on the east coast, is already at the base, as is the fleet repair ship Medusa and the Procyon, flagship of Rear-Admiral William D. MacDougall, commanding the United States fleet base force. The aircraft carriers Saratoga, Lexington and Langley, at San Francisco, will come south later this week, while the battleship West Virginia, battleship divisions flagship, is undergoing overhaul at the Puget Sound Navy yard and the battleship Colorado is at the Brooklyn Navy yard for repairs to her plotting room, damaged in a fire while at the canal last summer. Various fleet auxiliaries are either already at the base or will return during the week.

The fleet will remain at anchor here for leave and machinery overhaul until September 8, when the dreadnaughts will go to the drill grounds to begin the annual fall gunnery training, the first work being training runs for short-range battle practice, to be fired during the week of September 22. Other gunnery work will follow until the fleet sails for Panama on February 7, 1931.

GOLDWYN VICTOR IN FILM SUIT

Federal Judge Rejects Demand for Damages in Plagiarism Action

United States District Judge Sawtelle yesterday rendered in the Federal Court here a decision in which he holds that Samuel Goldwyn, film producer, and Lenore J. Coffee, a writer, did not plagiarize in the making of the screen play, "The Night of Love."

The decision came following the hearing of an action brought by Gabriel De Barbadillo and his wife, Phyllis Waters Forbes. The trial of the case was held before Judge Sawtelle in July, 1929.

The plaintiffs in the action sought damages of $1,000,000, asserting that the main plot of the play of the defendants was taken from a story by them called "The Christ of the Alley," which was once submitted to Goldwyn, but rejected. This was denied by the defendants.

Police Badge Funds Sought

Transfer of sufficient funds for the inscription on regular police and special badges now in the process of manufacture at Rochester, N. Y., was asked of the City Council in a resolution adopted by the Police Commission yesterday.

It has been discovered that dies for the title inscriptions to go on some badges, including press badges and titles of certain officers, had been overlooked when the dies for the badges were ordered and sent east.

RELATIVE SOUGHT

Mrs. Winifred Hayhurst, 2415 Bellevue avenue, yesterday requested The Times to aid in communicating her whereabouts to D. F. Brandon, her brother-in-law. She says she learned recently that he is in the city, but that he does not know she, too, is here.

MISS MARSH TO WED

George Julian Leovy, Jr., and Miss Florence Marsh, daughter of Robert Marsh, 2826 Strand, Hermosa Beach, yesterday filed a notice of intention to marry. Leovy is general manager of the Callao, (Peru,) office of W. R. Grace & Co., and is 37 years of age. Miss Marsh is 31.

CLUB'S PALATIAL BUILDING OCCUPIED SANS CEREMONY

With lack of formal ceremony in sharp contrast to the pretentious quarters in which they partook of their first repast, 150 members of the California Club, one of the State's most exclusive groups, sat down to breakfast yesterday in their new $3,250,000 building at 538 South Flower street.

Lunch and dinner also were without ceremony as members and their families came to inspect the eight-story structure ranked as one of the finest club headquarters in the nation.

"It is traditional with the club that no display is made of its affairs. Last week's announcement of its moving to new quarters was the first statement issued for publication in twenty-five years.

The club yesterday vacated the building it had occupied for a quarter of a century at 455 South Hill street. Its new home, built on ground that is valued at $1,000,000, contains living-rooms, lounges, recreation quarters, dining and luncheon rooms, card rooms and living quarters. The second floor is set aside for wives and daughters of members. Furnishings include many rare antiques.

Membership is limited to 1000. Present officers are Samuel Haskins, president; E. W. Flint, Jr., vice-president; Kenyon L. Reynolds, secretary. These officers are included on the board of directors with Edward Lyman, C. L. Peck, Stuart O'Melveney and R. H. Ballard.

"Times" Election Service

As is its custom, The Times will collect, tabulate and make public State and county returns from today's primary election as rapidly as they become available after the close of the polls at 7 p.m. The Times will broadcast returns at frequent intervals from KHJ, the Don Lee radio station, will issue night street editions and will give information by telephone to all who call MAdison 2345.

GAS-PRICE RISE PREDICTED

State Association Head Says Dealers Not Able to Make Profit at 19 1-2-Cent Quotations

Declaring that not a single gasoline-producing company in California is realizing profit at the present price of 19½ cents per gallon at the service stations in Los Angeles, Herbert R. Macmillan, president of the California Oil and Gas Association yesterday predicted that an increase in the retail price of gasoline may be expected soon.

Mr. Macmillan's statement resulted when questioned as to the possibilities of another gasoline price-cutting war. He admitted that some price-cutting is evident, and asserted that many service stations are still selling gasoline which was stored in large quantities at cheap prices during the last war. It is his belief that the move to bring about another disastrous gasoline war will end when the stocks of cheap gasoline have been utilized.

"Many of the independent refiners were bled white during the last price war and some are compelled to exchange gasoline for dollars as rapidly as possible," Mr. Macmillan said, "and it can hardly be expected that a situation such as obtained when the last price war terminated could be eradicated immediately. That another price war can follow so closely on the heels of the last one seems unthinkable and every effort must be made to prevent it."

Mr. Macmillan declared that there are several ways of correcting this condition. He asserts it may be done by reducing the price of

FORBES TALKS ON AMITY NEED

Ambassador to Japan Chief Speaker at Luncheon

Continued Harmony Cited as Aim in New Post

Affair Given in His Honor by Los Angeles Chamber

Stressing the importance of mutual understanding of and friendship on the part of the peoples of the nations of the Pacific area, W. Cameron Forbes, formerly Governor-General of the Philippines and recently appointed United States Ambassador to Japan, told more than 200 business and professional men and women guests at the luncheon given in his honor by the Chamber of Commerce yesterday at the Biltmore that 60 per cent of the world's population is to be found in the countries bordering the Pacific Ocean.

"Continued friendship and commercial relationship between America and Japan are of special importance to the welfare of the world and you may be sure that I shall do my utmost to maintain the harmony that now exists between these two great nations," said Mr. Forbes, who now is on his way to Tokio.

President Austin of the Chamber of Commerce, who presided, spoke appreciatively of the progress of Japan within the last two decades and said Los Angeles is proud of the record for industry and good behavior which the Japanese people have established in California. He pointed to the fact that Japan now is California's best customer in the commercial world.

JAPANESE VISITS

Predicting a gradual but certain betterment of business conditions throughout the country and in Southern California, Ambassador Forbes on his arrival at Central Station yesterday said the recent visits of Japanese trade parties to Los Angeles are to be attributed to Japan's recognition of the importance of the Los Angeles port to the trade interests of Japan on the West Coast.

Welcoming him at the station were a score of representative citizens, including Adam S. Derkun, secretary of the Philippine Society; William T. Nolting, formerly Collector of Internal Revenue at Manila; Larson Taylor, publisher of the Manila Daily Bulletin; E. E. Elser of Manilla, C. P. Sorenson, H. S. Ross, C. J. Millerson and Judge Hurd, all of whom were associated with Mr. Forbes in the Philippines.

OFFICIAL GREETINGS

Among others who welcomed Ambassador Forbes and who requested him to take to Japan word of the good will of California were Lieut.-Gov. Carnahan, Supervisor Wright, City Councilman Sanborn, T. Satow, Japanese Consul to Los Angeles, and Representative Evans.

Mr. Forbes, who will sail from San Francisco on Friday, was entertained yesterday with an airplane tour of Los Angeles in a T.A.T.-Maddux plane, a visit to the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios and a banquet given by the Philippine Society last night at the Alexandria.

At the banquet Ambassador Forbes discussed the political situation in the Philippines at length.

Harry S. Ross, president of the society, welcomed the Ambassador and addresses were made by Consul Satow, Harry Chandler and Martin M. Levering.

A reception preceding the dinner included on the receiving committee Mr. and Mrs. Ross, Mr. and Mrs. Satow, Mr. and Mrs. Derkun and Mayor Porter. A dance followed the reception and dinner.

Sanity Trials at Expense of Public Urged

Plea for a legal provision to diagnose and treat mentally disordered persons at public expense, rendering unnecessary, in many cases, filing of warrants and court procedure in regard to those believed to be insane, was voiced at the City Club yesterday by R. C. Avery of the Los Angeles County Welfare Department.

"The distinction between a sane and an insane person is a matter of degree, rather than of kind," said Mr. Avery. "For instance, delusions in a mild form are common. Such delusions produce insanity only when they become exaggerated and uncontrolled. The diagnosis of insanity is a difficult and complicated procedure."

RADIO TUBE PLANT PLANNED

New Yorker Arrives to Investigate Sites for Projected $500,000 Factory

Reporting that California is responsible for 10 per cent of the country's total radio business and for 11 per cent of the radio-tube trade, E. A. Tracey, first vice-president of the National Union Radio Corporation of New York City, arrived in Los Angeles yesterday to investigate sites for a $500,000 radio-tube factory which the company is considering erecting.

"Eventually, we will have to build a plant in California," said Tracey at the Biltmore. "We are contemplating building either in Los Angeles or San Francisco and it is possible that the cost of the structure may reach $600,000. Between 300 and 400 persons will be employed, of whom about 80 per cent will be women."

In developing plans to establish a factory on the Coast, Tracey said that officials of his company were influenced by a conclusion that California and the Pacific Coast generally will recover more quickly from the business depression than other parts of the country.

A survey of conditions has convinced the visitor that the consumptive power of the people is the same as it was in 1928. Recovery is merely a question, he continued, of when accumulated stocks will be exhausted. He said that he found stocks the country over varying from low to moderate, with stocks in California lower than the country's average.

Mercury Soars Under Pressure of Desert Heat

The city's official thermometer at the United States Weather Bureau yesterday climbed 9 deg. above normal to register a maximum of 92 deg.

At dawn it stood at 69 deg.—9 deg. above the average low temperature for August, according to the Federal meteorologists.

A "little desert circulation causes the above-normal temperatures," the forecaster reported. The record maximum for August here is 106 deg.

The Lancer

by Harry Carr

FOR the first time in the history of this nation, we are training officers in the fine technique of war— as France and Germany have done for many years.

The course of study at the Reserve Officers' Training Camp at Del Monte involves many difficult points that we do not often think of as being part of the problem of the war leader, who waves his sword and spurs his foam-lathered horse.

WAR HOUSEKEEPING

For instance, every company commander in a theoretical battle to defend the coast of California from a foreign foe who has licked the Navy and is trying to land at Monterey received the following information:

You are short three rifles, one automatic rifle, two pistols, one field glass, two watch compasses, five rifle cartridge belts, six first-aid pouches, one platoon leader's whistle, fourteen steel helmets, fifteen blankets, one sterilizing water bag and are shy 20 per cent of your necessary ammunition.

Two per cent of the men are in need of shoes, socks, shirts and breeches. One per cent have lost their gas masks. There is not enough grain for the horses.

The battery and cavalry commanders were notified of similar shortages.

SUPPLIES

They were notified that the supply points are: quartermaster at Gilroy; ordinance, Gilroy; engineer, San Martin; signal, San Martin; medical, Morgan Hill, and chemical warfare, Morgan Hill.

It was up to them to contact with these bases, through the proper routine, and get the equipment.

The Army is resolved that never again shall there be incidents as in the Spanish-American War where the guns of a battery went on one transport; the horses and ammunition on another and the men on a third—never to find one another during the period of the war.

WAR TRAFFIC COPS

The general in a modern war has to be a good traffic cop. Waving his sword and calling on the old guard to die and not surrender isn't a part of his job.

The problem of a commander is to get his men where they are needed, and to get them there equipped to fight. That is the function of the camp at Monterey. The combined Regular Army and National Guard maneuvers at San Luis Obispo will teach them how to fight after they get there.

ACROSS LOTS

In modern conditions, a division of troops on the march is twenty-seven miles long. It is six hours in passing a given point. It becomes a problem to use the available roads so one division does not block another. The trains must use the roads. The troops march across lots. But they must not lose contact.

ON THE HOOF

With all the modern trucks and railroads, it has been found best to march troops on the hoof for short distances—like the theoretical march from San Jose, where the Ninety-first Division was assumed to have been standing in reserve, to Monterey to repel a landing party trying to cut the supply line coming in by

Neighbors and Lawyer Declare Flint's Slayer to Have Been Insane

KEATON FRIENDS GIVE TESTIMONY

Queer Actions Prior to Flint Killing Told at Trial

Attorney Says Defendant in Fear of "The Crowd"

Tells of Fancy Detective Pair Dogged His Footsteps

Friends and neighbors as well as his civil attorneys took the witness stand for Frank D. Keaton in Superior Judge Schauer's court yesterday, where the slayer of Motley Flint is being tried before a jury of six men and six women on a sanity hearing, and declared him insane.

One after another six neighbors and friends told the jury that Keaton more than three years ago began to change from a sane, friendly fellow to a brooding, wild-eyed person. They told of his strange actions when he refused to speak to friends of long standing and of his constant insistence that his wife was crazy.

Which from Frank W. Walden, who was Keaton's attorney in a number of civil cases, the last witness of the day, came a strange story of how Keaton from a beginning of apparent sanity changed during the period of several years until Walden was tempted to swear to an insanity complaint against him.

FEARED "THE CROWD"

"He would rush into my office and claim that he was being trailed by two detectives," declared Walden. "He did not seem to know who the detectives were working for or why they should trail him, but insisted that they were following him," Walden continued.

"And then the attorney told the jury that Keaton seemed to believe that he was being done a great injury by a group of people called by him "the crowd." Keaton in his story to his attorney said that he had lost $30,000, that his wife was going crazy and was about to harm his two children, that he was being followed, and that the "crowd" would get him.

Walden testified in closing that Keaton had retained him in the matter of a civil action but that when he called at the law office Keaton insisted on talking about his troubles and it was only with difficulty that he could be induced to discuss the lawsuit.

"Keaton is crazy," declared Walden, "and at one time I was going to swear to an insanity complaint against him."

NEIGHBORS TESTIFY

From Mrs. Charles Watson, Fred W. Brundler, Mrs. Dora Shonerd, G. W. Romo, H. R. Richardson and Mrs. Carrie Long, all friends or neighbors, came testimony bearing on the asserted change which came over Keaton about two years ago. His actions, according to all of them, were strange.

Before the neighbors took the stand Superior Judge Collier, in whose courtroom Keaton shot and killed Motley Flint as the retired banker was leaving the witness stand where he had been called in a civil action, related just how the shooting had taken place shortly before noon on July 14.

Judge Collier in his version of the killing declared that Keaton entered his courtroom while Flint was on the stand and seated himself in the second row of spectators. As Flint was leaving the courtroom Keaton arose from his seat, Judge Collier testified, and without warning shot the retired banker three times. After the shooting Keaton threw his revolver upon the body of his victim and sat down. Judge Collier declared that he seized Keaton but that the man made no effort to escape. William R. Fisher, clerk in the same courtroom, added some details to Judge Collier's account of the shooting.

STOCK LOSSES SHOWN

From the records of E. F. Hutton & Co., brokerage house, all of Keaton's stock-trading activities wept before the jury and they showed that from a start of about $10,000 his account sank to almost nothing. Most of his losses, the records show, came with the collapse of the stock market a number of months ago.

Wednesday when the next session of court will be held a number of other neighbors will be called by the defense and several alienists will testify.

According to Defense Counsel Paul B. D'Orr and Thomas Reynolds the rest of the week probably will be required to complete their side of the case while Dep. Dist.-Attys. W. W. Burgess and William Russell, who are prosecuting, will take the better part of a week to present the prosecution testimony.

United Veterans Oust Commander for Opposition

A resolution declaring vacant the office of Commander of the Los Angeles County Council of United Veterans of the Republic was adopted at a meeting of members of the organization last night.

This action was designed to remove from office Franklin J. Potter, who is charged by the veterans' group with failure to abide by the decisions of the majority in the indorsement of candidates in today's election.

It is asserted that Potter ordered printed and distributed a large number of handbills announcing the slate of the veterans and that names of candidates for State offices and especially that of Buron Fitts for Governor, were omitted.

Sidney A. Chernias, attorney of Culver City, was elected to succeed Potter, according to the announcement.

"The charter of our county council does not provide that candidates for State offices be approved on the suggested ballot," Potter said last night, in explaining the reported failure to include these offices. "No funds are provided by the State organization to print such a ballot as used here, consequently none of the State office candidates were included," he said.

CASES OF PARALYSIS SHOW HUGE DECREASE

Resumption of the child-welfare conference, discontinued for the past two months as a result of the prevalence of infantile paralysis, is planned for tomorrow, according to announcement yesterday of the child-welfare division of the Los Angeles Health Department. A comparison of the number of cases reported in July and the figures for August show a decrease of more than 50 per cent. Only one case was reported during last week.

R. E. HOUCK ASKS QUINN BE ELECTED

Withdrawing Candidate in Appeal for Support of Incumbent Supervisor

Reve E. Houck, former Mayor of Culver City, who has withdrawn as a candidate for Supervisor from the Fourth District, issued a statement yesterday urging the re-election of Supervisor John R. Quinn. Mr. Houck's statement follows:

"Realizing that the appearance of my name upon the ballot in the coming primary election will have some effect upon the votes of friends and former supporters and not wishing to be a party to a campaign in which I have no interest, I am issuing this statement to the public and asking those who might vote for me to cast their ballots for John R. Quinn.

"This statement comes, primarily because I feel that the voters should support a candidate who is a real factor in the primary, and because I feel that Mr. Quinn more nearly represents the ideals I have than those others in the race.

"Of recent date numbers of friends and supporters have approached me, volunteering their services. To these I wish to voice my thanks and urge they throw their support to John R. Quinn, who, I feel, will render them a sincere and conscientious service as Supervisor of the Fourth District."

MAN SHOT ALLOWS SUSPECT TO GO FREE

Refusal yesterday of Juan Alvarado of Independence Square, who was shot in the hip in an altercation Sunday night near his home, to press charges against his asserted assailant, L. Gutierrez, Los Alamitos, forestalled the arrest of Gutierrez. Alvarado's wound was pronounced not serious.

Deputies from the Sheriff's office yesterday were searching for a young Mexican who Sunday night stabbed Mike Larraba and a friend, Peter Adina, in Downey following an asserted dispute over a girl. Neither of the men was seriously injured, officers reported.

MUNICIPAL CAMPS CLOSING DATES SET

Announcement of closing dates for the Los Angeles municipal mountain camps was made yesterday by Alma Wilson, camp supervisor in the Playground and Recreation Department. Camps Radford and High Sierra will conclude their vacation season on Sunday, September 7. Camp Seeley will end its summer program on September 14 and go immediately into service as a transient playground. Reservations pouring in for outings over Labor Day indicate a continued popularity to the end of the season, according to Miss Wilson.

THE NEXT WAR

The terrible problem of the next war will be to keep troops supplied. This was relatively easy in the World War, where the troops were in fixed permanent positions in trenches. When the Germans tried to advance, even their magnificent supply system broke down. The Germans lost the Second Battle of the Marne on account of the fact that the grub wagons couldn't keep up.

There never will be another conflict like the World War. The next war will be one of movement. Its problems will be problems of skilled staff work. To that end, our business men in civil life are being trained in the business of handling an army en route to battle.

BANDIT METED WAGE OF CRIME

Suspect Killed by Officers Identified as Hold-up

Companions in Custody Face Court's Inquisition

Offer to Sell Plunder to Victims Their Undoing

Identification of the body of Harold Nessell, alias Daniel Craemer, 24 years of age, as that of one of three bandits who held them up in their home at 731 North St. Andrews Place last Thursday night and robbed them of $1000 in jewels and furs, was made yesterday by Mrs. Betty Ryan and Miss Marie Lewis. Nessell was shot and killed by Officers E. Maney and W. L. Chase when he resisted arrest in his apartment at 4616 Fountain avenue, shortly after midnight.

The officers, in uniform, had been placed in the apartment by Detective Lieutenants Kirksey and Kleinfeld. Nessell, ordered to throw up his hands when he walked into the apartment, made a threatening gesture toward his right hip. The officers, believing that he was reaching for a gun, fired. Both bullets struck Nessell, one penetrating a lung and the other striking him in the heart, causing instant death. Nessell was not armed, it was learned later.

ROUND-UP COMPLETE

Within a few minutes after Nessell was killed Eddie Schiller, 26, alias Edward Vulpi, walked in and was arrested. Schiller's arrest completed the round-up of the three bandits suspected of robbing the two women. The detectives, through the assistance of J. L. Potts, a citizen, of 718 South Lake street, Sunday night apprehended Nick Gerard, 26, alias Nick Gerokimotes.

Identification of Schiller and Gerard as Nessell's companions in the robbery was made yesterday by the victims, according to the detectives.

Nessell, at the time of his death, was out on five years' probation after conviction on a charge of forgery, police records show. He was a recent arrival from Chicago. His father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Morrias Nessell, live at 3583 Douglas Boulevard in that city, the detectives learned.

Schiller and Gerard, the detectives stated, have no police records.

EXTORTION UNDOING

Apprehension of the suspects was the result of their attempt to sell back the stolen furs and jewelry to their victims. After the robbery in the women's apartment the bandits threatened them with death if they notified the police. Fearing the bandits would carry out the threat, the women did not report the hold-up.

Sunday they received a tender from the suspects to buy back their belongings and a meeting place was designated at Seventh and Hill streets. Potts went with the victims. When Gerard stepped on the running-board of his automobile Potts stunned him with a blow of a revolver butt and caused his arrest.

Detective Lieutenants Kirksey and Kleinfeld then obtained information from Gerard which led to the stake-out in the Fountain-avenue apartment.

Inquiry into the death of Nessell, killed by police while attempting to escape arrest, will be conducted at 1:30 p.m. tomorrow at the Coroner's office in the Hall of Justice.

crude oil, but if that is done he believes it will be impossible to hold the present State-wide oil curtailment program in line. If the wages of the employees were reduced, he stated, that will result in reducing the purchasing power of the public. By increasing the retail price of gasoline, Mr. Macmillan said, the refiner will be placed in a position where some profit can be made.

Wife Charges Suicide Threat in Divorce Case

Suicide if she contested his divorce suit was her husband's threat, Mrs. Bertha L. Gluck asserted yesterday in getting a divorce from Thomas W. Gluck. Superior Judge Bishop granted her a decree.

"In 1924, he told me he was infatuated with a Miami doctor's wife," said Mrs. Gluck. "In 1926, he told me he loved a stenographer, and in 1928, at Mesa, Ariz., he said he had found a new soulmate."

Mrs. Gluck won an order for $75 a month, for the support of two children, Emilie, 15 years of age, and Daniel, 11. Attorney Huber A. Collins represented her.

Radio's Wonders to be Featured at Annual Show

Many outstanding developments in radio which have made 1930 a banner year will be on display at the National Radio Show Beautiful which opens next Monday at the Ambassador Auditorium.

PORTER DEFI HITS RECALL MOVEMENT

Mayor Says He will Not Resign and Feels Sure of "Vote of Confidence"

Mayor Porter has no intention of resigning, despite the circulation of rumors to that effect, and he defies any attempt to recall him, he said yesterday. If the movement now on foot against him comes to conclusions in a recall election, Mayor Porter said, the result will be "a vote of confidence in my administration."

The Mayor said he is not interested in the quarrel now being carried on by Harlan G. Palmer, former Porter appointee to the Board of Water and Power Commissioners, and Rev. R. P. Shuler, both devoted adherents to Porter's cause. Palmer accuses Shuler of being "manipulated," with the inference that he in turn is "manipulating" the Mayor, by O. T. Johnson, Jr., who replaced Palmer upon the Water and Power Commission.

Late yesterday afternoon, Mayor Porter definitely denied having received the resignation of Water and Power Commission Pryor. He also has declared that he has not received the resignation of Commissioner Scofield. He has taken no action to replace or reappoint Commissioner Haynes, recently re-elected president, whose term expired last July 1.

TRIAL OF JULIAN CASES PUT OFF

Trial of Nine Defendants to Start on October 13

Murder of Flint Assigned as Reason for Delay

Conspiring for Overissue of Stock Asserted

Trial of nine defendants, the last of those to be prosecuted as a result of the reinvestigation of the Julian Petroleum Corporation collapse, was deferred until October 13 by Superior Judge Schauer yesterday on stipulation of counsel.

The principal reason for the continuance was the murder of Motley Flint, banker, who was one of the principal defendants. He was shot down and killed as he left the witness stand in Superior Judge Collier's courtroom on July 14 by Frank D. Keaton. Keaton now is on trial for murder before Superior Judge Schauer.

The ten defendants are charged with conspiring to overissue the Julian Petroleum Corporation stock.

Those named in the indictment are: Alvin Frank, H. S. McKaye, I. L. Rouse, Motley Flint, R. M. and C. E. Reese, S. E. Lewis, Jacob Berman, Adolph Ramish and E. H. Rosenberg.

With the exception of Flint, McKaye, Frank and Ramish, all of the defendants have been tried and acquitted of similar charges.

Child Foils Burglary of Bay Mansion

(By a "Times" Staff Correspondent)

SANTA MONICA, Aug. 25.—"I'll put the car away, honey. You jump out here and go in the house." Thus said Mrs. Frank E. Bundy, wife of the pioneer bay district landowner, to Marybelle Merritt, her 8-year-old grand-daughter, today as the two reached the Bundy home at 1001 Georgina avenue after spending the afternoon on the sands.

Marybelle entered the house and found two strange men tinkering with the expensive radio. Thinking them repair men she asked them if they had fixed the set.

"Not finished yet," one replied. "We'll be back tomorrow to finish the job, tell your ma." Then both hurried away.

A moment later Mrs. Bundy entered the house. She found oriental rugs, silverware and jewelry valued at $75,000 neatly bundled in a tarpaulin, ready to be carried away.

Marybelle gave police a good description of the thwarted burglars.

Suit for Child Seeks $40,000 Crash Damages

Suit for $40,000, instituted by Ruth Wallett, 6 years of age, against Mrs. Helen Palmen, went to trial yesterday before a jury in Superior Judge Hahn's court. The child's suit, brought in the name of her father, Raymond Wallett, contains demands for asserted partial loss of the sight of her right eye and other damages.

The defendant is the wife of C. E. Palmen, wealthy manufacturer of automobile tire covers. Wallett is a carpenter.

The complaint sets up that the child was injured October 29, 1929, in an automobile collision at Melrose avenue and McCadden Place.

Acquittal Won by Solicitor

H. E. Kellogg, accused of violating the city ordinance which prohibits soliciting alms without a permit, was acquitted of that charge by Municipal Judge Eagan yesterday. Witnesses last week testified he solicited funds from business men by representing that they would go to a fire-department magazine. Fire-department representatives said he had no authority to collect such funds.

Judge Eagan indicated a different charge should have been filed against Kellogg by the City Prosecutor's office.

Schlooping the Schloops

THERE is at least one Los Angeles newsboy who yesterday was all swelled up with pride and spaghetti. He is Roscoe Maiorca, 15 years of age, Times newsboy who daily sells his papers at the corner of Sixth and Spring streets. He is the winner of a newsboys' spaghetti-eating speed contest held in front of the Angeleno Cafe, 4334 Sunset Boulevard.

Roscoe ate his pound of paste in fifty-six seconds and thereby won a silver trophy which had been posted for the champion by the Los Angeles Pacific Macaroni Company. The champion of newsboy spaghetti eaters engulfed a total of 250 yards of the Italian national dish and for good measure cleaned his plate of the liberal helping of sauce and cheese dressing.

The winners of the preliminary eating bouts were started on their way to the final contest by a pistol shot by Jeannette Loff, motion-picture actress. It was all done quickly; Miss Loff shut here eyes, fired the pistol, the boys opened their mouths and in fifty-six seconds it was all over.

Lewis Stone's Suit Against Beach Oil Drilling Paints Prospect of Extermination and Ruin

Death to all Santa Monica Bay fish, pollution of the city bathing beach at Venice and ruin of fine Del Rey residential property were predicted yesterday when hearing was begun on the application of Lewis Stone, actor, for a permanent injunction restraining the city from leasing Venice beach tidelands for oil drilling. Superior Judge Harry W. Falk of Humboldt county, assigned here, is presiding at the hearing.

The picture of three-fold ruin was drawn by Attorney Baldwin Robertson, representing the film actor, who has a fine home fronting the beach in question. Deputy City Attorney Butts appeared for the city. The hearing is expected to run through tomorrow and Thursday and Judge Falk today will take advantage of the holiday to visit the beach and familiarize himself with the scene. Stone will be called as a witness later this week.

Before putting on witnesses to support his contention of ruin to fishing, bathing and beach residence values, Robertson stated that he had obtained a temporary injunction which he now seeks to have made permanent. He based his application on the amendment of May 23, 1929, of Chapter 584, Session Laws of 1929.

Deputy City Attorney Butts contended that the State's grant of beach land to Venice in 1917, accompanied by the right to do anything in the aid and furtherance of commerce, constitutes a contract which no subsequent amendment can affect and that drilling for oil is included in furthering commerce. Butts also contended that the matter is a municipal affair controlled by the charter and that the courts have no right to assume municipal legislative powers.

Stone's lawyer outlined that the city department was considering a lease with a company which was to build a pier 3000 feet into the Pacific from the municipal beach, and to drill for oil from this pier. He then called his expert witnesses.

Capt. Olaf C. Olsen, fisherman, testified that he had followed the sea for thirty-seven years, and that Venice surf was utilized for commercial and pleasure fishing. This tideland is the spawning ground for the Southern California coast, he testified. Every species of fish of Southern California is found in Santa Monica Bay, he added.

KILL ALL FISH

Olsen asserted that oil spread on the ocean surface by any break in the drilling would kill all fish life in the bay. He described currents of the bay, saying that oil pollution would be carried in a half-moon to the entire bay. If oil was drilled 3000 feet out and escaped to the surface of the water there, it would be distributed over the entire bay, he said.

Leland M. Ford, a real estate operator, testified that beach oil drilling would be injurious to beach residence property values. On cross-examination he stated that an oil field exists at Venice east of the Speedway, but not on the wet sand, he emphasized. Asked if oil seepage in the lagoons did not reach the ocean, Ford said that dikes and bulkheads have prevented that.

The case resumes tomorrow.

COUNCIL RESOLUTION OPPOSES OIL DRILLING

A resolution in opposition to the proposal to lease submerged lands off Venice for oil drilling was introduced in the City Council yesterday by Councilman Williams and referred to the Finance and the Parks and Playgrounds committees.

Williams asks the Council to register its opposition to the plan, that the Attorney-General, who already has opposed it, lend his good offices and that the Board of Playground and Recreation Commissioners forego its leasing plans.

Four ordinances granting permission to drill for oil in Venice were adopted yesterday. They are for C. E. Black, A. G. Ralphs, Flora B. Dewey and C. C. Boswell.

NEW REDUCTION MADE IN BUS FARES EAST

Transcontinental motor coach fares dropped to new low figures as a result of a 10 per cent cut, the second in two weeks, ordered in effect today on Pickwick Greyhound and affiliated lines, including Pacific Greyhound system, officials announced. The latest cut brings rates to Denver to $22.25, Kansas City $28.35, Chicago $34.85 and New York $49.50.

TWO JAILED IN MARITAL ASSAULTS

Man Accused of Shooting Estranged Mate, Wife of Stabbing Husband

One man and one woman yesterday were being treated in Los Angeles hospitals for serious wounds, while their respective spouses were being held by police on felony charges.

Harry Farris is charged with assault to commit murder. The complaint accuses him of shooting through a window and wounding his estranged wife, Clara, at 213 Theresa street.

Mrs. Harriet Latimer is charged with assault with a deadly weapon. Officers accuse her of stabbing her husband, George Latimer, with a butcher knife. According to witnesses, the stabbing occurred at 1578 McGilvrey street, City Terrace, shortly after Mrs. Latimer returned from a trip to New York City. A quarrel ensued, the husband asserts, when his wife accused him of giving parties in their home during her absence.

Two Pay Claims Allowed Against Rolph Committee

Two wage claims against the campaign committee of Mayor Rolph of San Francisco, candidate for Governor, were allowed yesterday by the State Labor Bureau after hearings at the bureau's offices in the Subway Terminal Building.

The claims allowed were those of Walter Stennett, who asked $63.33, and Miss Marquette Bradley, who sought $41.66. The case of John E. Howell, Jr., who asserted $41.66 was due him, was dismissed. The case of V. A. Parks, publicity man, who declared he was entitled to $350, was continued until September 3, next, to permit of further investigation.

Hearings are scheduled to be held Thursday on the claims of two persons against the campaign committee of Buron Fitts.

TAXI MAN WINS DIVORCE

Desertion concluded their twenty-seven years of married life, George S. Phelps yesterday testified in winning a divorce from Cora A. Phelps. The husband is 64 years of age, a taxi operator of Long Beach. Superior Judge Falk granted him a divorce.

LATIN CRUISE CALLED OFF

Lassco Line Official Announces Cancellation of City of Los Angeles South America Tour

The cruise of the S.S. City of Los Angeles around South America, announced to sail October 8, next, has been canceled, according to a statement issued yesterday by Ralph J. Chandler, vice-president and general manager of the Los Angeles Steamship Company, which was to operate the cruise in co-operation with the American Express Company.

"A considerable number of people interested in the cruise have stated their desire to remain in close touch with their business during the coming fall, confident of a marked increase in general business activity," said Mr. Chandler. "Because of their representations and of the difficulty we have encountered in obtaining a ship comparable to the City of Los Angeles to take her place in our regular Hawaiian service as early as this fall, we have reluctantly canceled the cruise announced to sail on October 8, next.

HOPE FOR FUTURE

"It is our hope that, with the improvement of business during the next few months, we may be in position to announce a similar cruise with the same itinerary for the fall of 1931."

The City of Los Angeles sails for Hawaii September 6, next, taking a large list of passengers, including members of the fifteenth Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce Excursion to Hawaii. She will return to Los Angeles from Hawaii Saturday, September 27, or a day later than is provided by the regular schedule, so that the chamber group may have an extra day in the islands.

SAILING SCHEDULE

In order that the City of Los Angeles may take up as nearly as possible the sailing schedule originally announced for the Lassco fleet this fall, according to Mr. Chandler, she will sail again for Honolulu at noon on Monday, September 29, remaining six days instead of the customary eight days in the islands on that voyage. Returning to Los Angeles Friday, October 17, she will sail again on Saturday, October 18, and thereafter for the balance of the year will be on her regular twenty-day round-trip schedule with eight days in the islands and sailings from Los Angeles November 15 and December 13.

The four sailings of the City of Los Angeles for Honolulu now scheduled will carry special personally conducted fall tours as has been the established custom for this line during many years past.

BOND BIDS TO BE ASKED

The City Council will call for bids on the morning of September 3 for $566,310 St. Francis Dam refunding bonds. The interest rate must not exceed 5 per nt.

Mother's Plea for Probation will be Heard

Mrs. Gloria Burton, mother of three small children, pleaded guilty before Municipal Judge Curtis yesterday to selling beer and was remanded to jail to await hearing on her application for probation, set by the court for Thursday. Judge Curtis at first refused to grant the hearing but allowed it after plea by her attorney, Ralph Paonessa, who declared she is in ill health and that her children will be dependent on the charity of neighbors if she is sent to jail or fined heavily.

Paonessa told the court that Mrs. Burton was arrested at her home, 328 North Madison avenue, on the 21st inst., by officers after her daughter Virginia, 4 years of age, had pointed out the hiding place of her supply of home brew.

Plummmer Wins Indorsement of State Societies

Following a speech made by Clyde I. Plummer at a luncheon meeting of the Federated States Societies at Leighton's Cafeteria yesterday, unanimous indorsement of his candidacy for the office of Sheriff was voted by the organization. A resolution was passed recommending that the members and voters at large cast their ballot for Plummer.

"I will observe the law and will demand its observance from others," is the foundation on which Capt. Plummer bases his campaign for election. With more than twenty years' actual experience in the police department, and one year as chief of the enforcement bureau in the District Attorney's office, his supporters declare he is well fitted to direct the important work that passes through the office of County Sheriff. A long list of prominent citizens who believe he will make an honest, forceful, efficient Sheriff has sponsored his candidacy.

Today's Bible Text

For there is one God, and one mediator between God and men, the man Christ Jesus; Who gave Himself a ransom for all, to be testified in due time.—1 Tim: ii, 5-6.

HIS BUSY DAY

Man here plays 200 holes of golf in one day and travels more than fifty-two miles in the doing. It is well that he didn't have anything to do that day.

MALE AND FEMALE

The difference between the man and woman of it is, that a woman always wants to go to the gas station that washes the windshield. Likewise the woman always insists on buying the car with the beautiful lines and a fine paint job. There may be an equality of sexes; but there is a mob of artistic vehicles on the big road.

MUCH MARRIED

Jersey City has a young 20-year-old freak bride who insists on being married afresh every time she meets a minister. She has now had her nuptial knots tied and retied four times in six months. Possibly she wants to tie hubby up so tight that he will have to get four divorces before he gets his liberty. At that it is better than marrying four different men in six months.

ELOQUENCE IN ART

A prominent architect declares that men, women and horses are still the most eloquent form of expression in art—just as they were 3000 years ago. Take a look at the front page of the current magazines and it seems that the lady still has a little the best of it. The horse is still popular in paintings and in statuary. We have never yet seen a marble memorial of a great general riding in a Ford.

THE SILENT WOMAN

A Texas editor made in his paper an offer to bet good money that no woman could go ten hours without saying a word. He lost a number of subscribers for his bravado, and not only that but a bridge party of fourteen tables was made up one afternoon at which no word was spoken by any of the lady players. This, without doubt, is a world record. A bridge game without a fight—much less a spoken word, is a distinct rarity. Few folks will believe it.

THE CUCKOO CLOCK

If anybody cares to know it the cuckoo clock is just 200 years old. The first one was made by Franz Anton Ketterer of Schoenwald, in the German Black Forest, in 1730. That district is still heavily studded with them although their popularity in other sections of the world has greatly waned. Some of the department stores in Los Angeles haven't sold a cuckoo clock for a week. But the Black Forest is so thickly plastered with cuckoo clocks that when it strikes the noon hour it sounds like a convention of jaw-men in Hollywood.

THE UPSET IN PERU

President Leguia, who has virtually been dictator of Peru for the past eleven years, has been forced to resign by a coup d'etat, and will be replaced, for the time being at least, by a military dictator. The revolt which accomplished this result began several days ago in the Department of Arequipa under the leadership of Lieut.-Col. Sanchez Cerro and spread rapidly. It seems to have been confined to the army and to have been quite peaceful.

Since American capital has flowed freely into Peru and most of the development there is American-owned, the course of government affairs will be watched here with great interest. So far as the dispatches indicate, these American interests are not threatened as yet and there may be no intention of disturbing them. The Leguia version of the cause of the revolt is that it was occasioned by a forged army order purporting to discharge a number of officers and men, though no such discharge was intended by the administration. This seems an inadequate explanation.

President Leguia seized office by a coup d'etat in 1919 and was reinaugurated in 1924 and again in 1929; his present term would have ended in 1934. He is a cultured and highly polished gentleman and appears to have attempted to rule Peru for its own good, but with a strong hand. Such efforts on behalf of a country are not always appreciated.

THE BUSINESS SITUATION

The President's prediction that the income-tax slash granted for 1930 can probably be made again for 1931, plus the surprisingly low unemployment figure shown by the census, throws considerable new light on the business situation. The unemployment figure of approximately 2,500,000 is an estimate, the official figures not yet being complete, but is regarded by the Census Bureau as probably accurate. The figure is not much higher than estimates for the prosperous years of 1927, '28 and '29 and is much less than the Democratic estimates put forward during the 1928 campaign.

But if the national income is such that the income tax slash can be continued without putting the surplus in jeopardy, it is plain that pessimism is unwarranted and that conditions must actually be improving. The vastly increased tourist traffic of 1930 has already been commented on; additional evidence along the same line is now in hand in reports for commercial aircraft operation, which show an increase in passenger carrying of almost 100 per cent. The number of airports has increased by ninety-six since the first of the year. Orders for replacement of airplanes have taken a sudden spurt in the past few weeks, the Department of Commerce reports; aircraft factories were doing a slack business during the first half of the year.

So far as the drought situation is concerned, that may be regarded as well in hand, though distress is not over by any means. President Hoover is meeting today representatives of the banking business concerning the utilization of the Federal farm-loan system to finance farmers in the drought-affected States. This system consists of three kinds of banks—Federal land banks, which loan only to farmer organizations; joint stock land banks, which loan to individuals, and intermediate credit banks, which loan to organizations and discount farm paper. No extension of the system is planned, but attention of farmers and rural banks will be called to the facilities available.

Further efforts of the administration to aid business recovery are to be seen in the announcement that work on the inland waterways and on the Mississippi project is to be accelerated. The $35,000,000 appropriated, which ordinarily would be spread out over the whole year, will all be spent during the winter months, according to present plans.

The Federal road-building projects also are to be pushed, especially in the drought States, and it is expected that many distressed farmers will be able to find employment in this way to help tide them over the winter.

Hanford MacNider, American Minister to Canada, has been instructed to take up with the new Canadian government the subject of the St. Lawrence waterway and renew negotiations for joint action for its early construction. The Conservatives during the campaign favored somewhat an all-Canadian route, to be built and controlled by Canada alone, but there is still hope of smoothing out the difficulties in the way of cooperation. While Congress took a definite stand against the proposed all-American route across New York State at the last session, this attitude might, of course, be modified by developments in the St. Lawrence situation. The all-American route is feasible from an engineering standpoint, but very costly compared with the St. Lawrence route. It would, however, be available for a longer season.

At any rate, St. Lawrence construction cannot be begun this year and probably not next, so that may be regarded as out of the present picture. The Lakes-to-Gulf waterway through Illinois is, however, one of the projects in hand and arrangements are being made for Illinois to advance money to the Federal government for immediate work, the Federal appropriation not being as yet available.

Locally it is expected harbor and breakwater work will be pushed as rapidly as possible and give employment aid as well as putting a considerable amount of money in circulation.

All in all, business prospects are probably better than they are thought to be. If so, the energy and thought expended by President Hoover on the problem should receive due credit.

MA AND PA LOSE OUT

Texas has declined the inestimable privilege of having "two Governors for the price of one" and has defeated Ma and Pa Ferguson in the run-off Democratic primary by approximately 100,000 votes. Inasmuch as there were 836,000-odd voters this margin is not a large one, but 'twill serve. The Fergusons obtained 371,000 votes and it is rather disheartening to learn that there are 371,000 folks of that kind even in the immense State of Texas.

To those who do not know their Texas history, it may be explained that Jim Ferguson was impeached and removed as Governor in 1917 for sufficient reasons and also disqualified from holding office. Mrs. Miriam Ferguson ran as his proxy several years later and was elected. She devoted her term to emptying the State prisons by the pardon route and to getting her administration involved in a highway scandal. She was beaten four years ago for renomination by Gov. Dan Moody. In the first primary this year she led the list of eleven candidates, with the present victor, Ross R. Sterling, Houston publisher, second. Now Sterling obtains the nomination and almost certainly will be elected.

In view of the large vote the Fergusons polled, it can hardly be said they are eliminated from Texas politics, but at least they are shelved for the time being and neighboring States are reasonably safe from an invasion of Texas convicts who probably would have been released wholesale had Ma been successful.

LOOKING BACKWARD

Recent discoveries of the delvers and diggers include a copy of a dictionary that is declared to be nearly 5000 years old. That was long before Noah Webster had learned to spell the simplest words. This work is written on papyrus and is said to be written in no less than six languages. There are some low-brows who do not know that there were that many tongues 5000 years ago.

This discovery was made by scientists and archeologists who have been exploring the ancient site of Zapouna, which was a rather busy seaport on the coast of Syria more than 3000 years before Christ. The place was mopped up and left in ruins by the enemy about 3100 years ago. The sands of time covered it up and it is only now that the evidences of the ancient civilization are found by explorers who are uncovering a princely mansion of the long ago. The volume found is doubtless the oldest dictionary extant. Even the literary lights of those days were not given to compiling dictionaries. The six languages involved include the Egyptian and Babylonian tongues, besides others that are not so certain.

One profane critic insists that the volume is very incomplete. There is nothing in it about radio or television and even the family garage is overlooked.

STILL THE RECORD HOLDER

By James J. Montague

One Simeon Stylites
Who lived some years B. C.—
There being then, on moor or fen
No semblance of a tree—
And having made his mind up
That he'd be widely known
And win wild cheers, sat thirty years
Upon a pole of stone.

For thirty years the people
Who dwelt near Antioch
In much surprise would lift their eyes
To that slim spire of rock,
And when their starlied vision
Those placid features met,
They said, "Well, well! Don't that beat all?
Old Sim is up there yet!"

Eftsoons throughout the region
A host of ardent souls
Who hoped to claim a meed of fame
Were perched on marble poles.
But lacking in endurance
They soon would fall and fall;
As all men know the records show
That Sim out-sat them all.

MORAL—
Folks may become immortal
By sitting in a tree,
As that stout kid Stylites did
So many years B. C.,
But they will not be by-words
In anybody's ears
Unless they sit and do not quit
For more than thirty years.

THE LEE SIDE O' L.A.

By Lee Shippey

UNEASY lies the head that, for the moment, wears the endurance-flight crown.

Not to Mention the Coast

Temperature reports from the Middle West indicate that it would have been a great treat to the folks back there if they had come out and spent the summer in Imperial Valley.

Practical and Then Some

Miss Olive Kenyon, a practical nurse from New York who is spending the summer here, reports that by means of a $1 Sunday pass she visited eleven famous Southland beaches and three mountain resorts last Sunday—that is, she went up Mt. Lowe as far as Rubio Canyon, did a little hiking on Mt. Wilson Trail at the end of the Sierra Madre line and took the bus trip from Upland to San Antonio Heights, which gave her enough of an idea of what Mt. San Antonio is like. Miss Kenyon says she has decided to stay in California because she never saw any other place where one can get so much for one's money.

We'll say she's a practical nurse.

Why We Boost For Simple Joy

We can't visit even one beach, or one mountain trail, for $1. We often write the very best we can about the simple, old-fashioned pleasures of the days of our childhood and, confidentially, nothing makes a man such a booster for that kind of pleasures as having five children. Unfortunately, though, our children never read what we write, and so far we have never been able to make any boost for simple, old-fashioned entertainments register with them.

They are strictly modern and think that spending money is the only sure way to have a good time, even if it is spent for something nobody really wants. We believe any modern kid could get fun out of dropping money into a hole which led clear down to China, but it's hard to get them interested into dropping any of it into a toy bank.

It used to be that when we took our children to the beach they had a wonderful time playing with the waves. But that was before we visited beaches lined by merry-go-rounds, choo-choo trains, shooting galleries, "haunted houses," mirror-mazes, U-drive speed cars and motor boats and 100 different sorts of venders. The children don't have half as much fun as they used to have. They used to be having fun all the time. Now they are whining and begging for something three-fourths of the time and getting more or less disillusioned the rest of the time.

Foreign Students Here

While Los Angeles is more or less educating the world, via motion pictures, young men and women from many odd corners of the world are coming here to study in our schools. A bulletin just issued by the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce shows that during the school year recently ended nearly 600 foreign students were enrolled in the four largest universities of this city, the University of Southern California, the University of California at Los Angeles, Occidental and Loyola. And the probabilities are that more than 600 will be enrolled during the school year which will begin in a few weeks, as the number keeps growing steadily.

Canadians head the list of foreign students, there being a total of ninety-five of them. Japanese follow closely with ninety-three, with English and Russians quite a distance behind with thirty-six and thirty-five, respectively. Thirty Chinese, twenty-five Filipinos, fifteen Germans, ten Italians, eight Koreans, twenty-five Mexicans and nine Armenians are included in the list.

Other nations represented are Argentina, Austria, Belgium, Chile, Colombia, Denmark, France, Guatemala, Holland, Hawaii, Ireland, Lithuania, Norway, Panama, Peru, Persia, Poland, Rumania, Scotland, Spain and Syria.

Joshua Little Says

When I'm king I'll give endurance flyers the air, but not the first page.

Yet flyers and nonflyers alike are interested in planing. The pedestrian is thrilled by the hope that airplane speeders will let him live and go after the man higher-up.

The "forty-niners" of the next generation will boast: "I was born in a covered plane."

What you don't know certainly does hurt you, if it's something you vaguely suspect.

The hop, skip and jump go together. You can't hop a paragraph or skip a page without jumping to conclusions.

I see that both the city and county budgets are to be slashed. We householders could slash ours, too, if we'd do as politicians do—just go ahead and spend more each succeeding year.

Mr. Ford's theories about how to improve business would comfort us a lot more if we could only forget some of his other theories.

I like to read advertisements in the paper, where I can read 'em or leave 'em alone, but resent them via radio, where I have to like 'em or else hop up and switch off the program.

WHAT OTHERS THINK ABOUT IT

All Can Profit

[New York World.]

How much worse crime conditions really are in Chicago today than in a number of other cities it is impossible to say precisely. Several localities seem qualified to dispute Chicago's pre-eminence, but none of them has been so well advertised. At Boston Dean Roscoe Pound, in addressing the National Conference of Social Workers, said:

"Crime is no longer a local affair in respect to participants or instruments or constituent acts or effects. Lawbreakers extend their organized efforts over many States. The maintenance of ordered society has come to involve much more than repression of local offenders against local laws."

If Mr. Dawes, or anyone else Chicago may discover, will show how to put down gang rule, then New York and Detroit and Boston and Philadelphia should be glad to profit by the needed lesson. It so happens at this moment that Chicago is stirred to exert itself by the fear that its evil reputation as a gang center may threaten the success of its World's Fair in 1933. New York needs no such pretense for getting busy.

"More Than Gags"

[Chicago Daily News.]

In an interview with the comedian, Will Rogers, in a recent issue of the Daily News there is food for serious reflection. Rogers explained how and why "I give 'em more than gags."

In the interview the humorous entertainer formulated his code of professional ethics, a code which many a purveyor of information or amusement would do well to paste in his hat.

Describing himself as an "uneducated man, so to speak," who tries to know what he is talking about, he frequently engages in serious conversation with public men who are as eager to learn from him as is he to learn from them. His assertion that he "does a lot of studyin'" in order not to say things that might mislead people reveals a sense of responsibility which is vitally needed in a republic. "As a man thinketh, so is he," is as true of nations as of individuals. Men and nations often think about the things at which they laugh.

It is evident that the inimitable Rogers does not regard the masses of people from whom an entertainer derives his following as possessing underdeveloped minds capable of receiving only chaff. His wide popularity indicates that it pays—though some have doubted it—to "give 'em more than gags."

Indians on Display

[Kansas City Times.]

We believe it would be found, on close scrutiny, that if the Indian has come to be regarded as a show and an entertainer, there are other Americans in the same category. Shall these latter be taken in hand, too, and induced to speed the wheels of industry? Where, we wonder, would government start on that job? With the marathon dancers, perhaps, the cabaret singers or the tree-sitters?

Aplenty

[Detroit News.]

The Democratic party, says the Cleveland Plain Dealer, needs a voice in the wilderness. It is pretty generally understood it has the wilderness.

SOME CONSOLATION

[Indianapolis News.]

Well, anyhow, our bandits don't run around in gangs of 20,000 as is done in China.

BOYHOOD OF FAMOUS AMERICANS

IX

JOHN J. RASKOB

[This is the ninth of a series of eighteen articles on the boyhood of famous Americans and telling how they got their start in life.]

BY J. V. FITZ GERALD

[Copyright, 1930, by The North American Newspaper Alliance.]

The boys in Lockport, N. Y., snickered, back in 1900, when they heard that John J. Raskob had put a price of $1000 a year on his services as a stenographer and secretary. Why that, as they figured it out, was more than $83 a month. Young professional men were lucky to be making as much money in Lockport in those days.

But John Raskob got the job and at his own price. The man who hired him was Pierre S. du Pont, then owner of the traction system in Lorain, O. Lockport residents thought that the youth was lucky in landing such a plum.

Before he left Lockport young Raskob had been making $30 a month. He had asked for a raise to $10 a week. When this was refused him he decided that his talents were not appreciated. He made up his mind to seek fields in which he would be better rewarded.

So he wrote to a friend, a young draughtsman, Sterling H. Bunnell by name, asking him if there was any opening for him in Lorain. He received a reply that Pierre S. du Font was seeking the right sort of a young man to act as his secretary and aid in the street railway business.

When John Raskob told his friends that he had applied for the job and had asked for a salary of $1000 a year they thought at first that he was fooling. When they were convinced by the earnest young man that he actually had asked for such pay they were certain that he would not get a reply even. But they were wrong and John Raskob was right. He invariably has been on financial matters ever since.

The boy who surprised his Lockport companions in the matter of getting such a big salary was born in that up-State New York city in 1879. His father, a solid and substantial citizen, was in the tobacco business.

John was an average student in school. His quick smile and pleasant manner made him popular. He early showed a liking for business and an aptitude for figures. His father died when John was in high school. Mrs. Raskob was left with four children.

The future chairman of the finance committee of General Motors didn't try to complete his education by working in his spare time. He decided that the sooner he got a real job the better. He realized that he needed special equipment to get ahead in the business world.

He left high school and took a commercial course in stenography and book-keeping. He buckled down to his studies and soon qualified to take dictation and to keep a set of books. He got a job at $5 a week. That was considered fair wages for a beginner in Lockport in those days.

After six months he asked for an increase to $7.50 a week. His employer agreed to give it to him, but it was some months before the raise materialized. Following two years' work, during which he became an expert stenographer, an excellent typist and a first-class book-keeper, he asked for $10 a week. His employer didn't think the youngster was worth such wages to him.

That was the turning point in John Raskob's life. He wrote to Pierre du Pont and went to work for him in 1900. The next year he represented his employer as treasurer of a street-car line in Dallas, Tex. His salary had been raised to $3000 a year, proving to skeptical Lockport friends that he hadn't thought too well of his earning capacity after all.

He went to Wilmington, Del., in 1903 as assistant treasurer of the E. I. du Pont de Nemours Company. Later he became treasurer and then vice-president of the big chemical concern. Mr. du Pont joined him in buying General Motors stock and John Raskob soon became the directing financial genius of that vast corporation and one of the country's outstanding business leaders.

Is he still tracing genealogy,
As was his occupation here below?
Upon some species' origin does he
His patient penetration still bestow?

And does he, from some far-off vantage shade,
We earth folk contemplate and ponder still—
We who have dwellings in the tree tops made,
Who perch on flagpoles with the utmost skill?

And sometimes does he yearn, girt with a glow
Of vindication well and truly earned,
To finish that remark of long ago . . .
"From ape thou art"—
"To ape thou hast returned"?

KING'S ENGLISH

Now that a dispatch from London by no less an authority than F. G. Blandford, lecturing at Cambridge University, tells us that the King's English and the Prince of Wales's English are entirely different in vocabulary and pronunciation, we may draw a long breath and concoct a little English of our own. If even the royal family has its deviations in lingual eccentricities, we, so far removed from the cradle of our mother tongue, may well be pardoned for acquiring Americanese novelties of speech.

FOUR SCORE YEARS

BY ROCKWELL D. HUNT

Dean of the graduate school, University of Southern California.

California enjoys the reputation of having the second oldest State Fair in the United States. Her expanding exhibits have been displayed every year, beginning in 1854. Last year was the occasion of the seventy-fifth anniversary of its founding and the Diamond Jubilee was celebrated with right good will, greatly to the delight and edification of throngs of interested people. Never had there been such an exhibition of California's varied products or such an exposition of her marvelous resources.

The splendid achievement of 1929 has proved to be a powerful stimulus for still greater things in 1930. Looking back through the fascinating pages of the Golden State's history, it was noted that this year of grace brings us to the eightieth anniversary of our Statehood—four-score years ago California was gloriously admitted into the American Union, Admission Day is September 9. From 1850 to 1930—what a magnificent setting is here for the State Fair Supreme, an exposition that would do honor to any State in the Union.

Fresh attention will rightly be called to the vast historical significance of California's admission. The stranger within our gates—and his name is legion—will come more readily to understand why the Native Sons of the Golden West celebrate with glad acclaim on each September ninth.

The bill admitting California into the Union as the Minerva among commonwealths—springing, as it were, full-grown from the brow of Jupiter without passing through the status of an organized territory—was signed by President Millard Fillmore, although for its final passage we are more indebted to President Zachary Taylor, whose untimely death prevented his formally approving the momentous measure.

With the affixing of his signature to the California bill, President Fillmore welcomed into the sisterhood of States the fair addition which Mr. Seward with consummate grace referred to as "the youthful queen of the Pacific, in robes of freedom gorgeously inlaid with gold." California's Senators and Representatives at once took their seats in the halls of Congress and the Empire State of the Pacific assumed her full and complete prerogatives.

Thus had ended one of the stormiest of all sessions in the entire history of Congress. The national significance of California's admission would be difficult to overstate.

We have long been acquainted with the salient features of the American conquest of California—Fremont's third expedition, the Bear Flag Revolution, Gillespie's Mission, Sloat's raising the American flag at Monterey, Larkin's service as American Consul, the recapture of Los Angeles, the capitulation of Cahuenga—with these episodes every true Californian is presumed to be familiar.

But does the average intelligent citizen know that by coming into the Union as the sixteenth free State (there then being fifteen free and fifteen slave States) California destroyed forever the equilibrium between South and North, thus foreshadowing the ultimate downfall of human slavery? Does he understand that it was the gold of California that so strengthened the finances of the nation during the dark days of Civil War as to enable the Union cause ultimately to triumph victoriously? Has he become aware of the fact that the great project of the Pacific railroad, promoted by the Big Four of California (Stanford, Crocker, Huntington and Hopkins) was a determining factor in holding our national boundaries intact at a time when powerful forces were at work for the establishment of a Pacific republic?

The intelligent Californian should also acquaint himself with the national and international economic significance of his State, with her phenomenal educational progress and cultural development and with the supreme importance of her natural resources as well as of her industrial expansion.

Four Score Years of Progress is a worthy slogan, indicative of our wonderful career as a State. The theme is an exalted one—it is a challenge to the State Fair and Western Exposition to present such a panoramic picture of achievement as could never have been presented in any other State, nor even in California before.

This fair, opening August 30 and continuing through September 7, does well to place emphasis upon the historical background as well as recent accomplishment, upon the educational progress of the State as well as her agricultural and mineral production, and upon her artistic achievements as well as her commercial greatness. Such a State Fair, on this anniversary occasion, will form a fitting prologue for the greatest Admission Day of any State in eighty years.

Small insular territories, such as Bermuda, St. Helena, etc., have long barred the motor car, but the last named has lifted the embargo and the ubiquitous automobile has appeared on the small island where Napoleon was exiled. There are only two miles of level road on the island, which abounds in steep grades, narrow trails and hairpin turns.

Miss Lillian Douglass of Covina was the recent house guest of Dr. and Mrs. Harvey David Thornburg, 3545 West Knoll Drive, West Hollywood. During her stay, Miss Douglass was honor guest at a beautifully appointed dinner party given in the patio of the Thornburg home.

The guests included Mr. and Mrs. K. O. Bolte, Mrs. Charlotte Mann and son, Keller Mann of New York, and Mrs. Laura B. Thornburg of Culver, Ind.

During the week, a box party at the Hollywood Bowl was given in honor of the visitor.

Friday noon, the Thornburgs motored to Arrowhead Lodge, where they will remain for several days.

Former Student Marries

Miss Lalla R. Selbie, former student of the University of Southern California, became the bride of Dale Downey Stoddard at a pretty ceremony in the Wee Kirk o' the Heather Thursday afternoon, the 21st inst. The bride is the daughter of William Elliot Selbie, 62 North Meredith, Pasadena, and the bridegroom is the son of Lynn Stoddard of Escondido.

Miss Muriel Elizabeth Lawford, a Delta Delta Delta Sorority sister of the bride, was her only attendant, and Fred Brown, a Gamma Epsilon Fraternity brother of the bridegroom, served as best man. Miss Selbie was given in marriage by her father.

Returning from their honeymoon on the 28th inst., the newly married couple will be at home at 4262 West First street.

Among the many lovely prenuptial parties for the bride-elect was a linen shower given by Miss Pauline Hazzard and Miss Thelma Grubbs, at the home of the former, 1622 Norodo Place, Pasadena, the 14th inst. The guests were Delta Delta Delta Sorority sisters of the honoree and hostesses.

Visitor

The Misses Esther, Alice and Goldie Jacobson entertained their house guest, Miss Alda Lois Braunig of Amarillo, Tex., with a smart reception the night of her arrival recently. Fifty guests were bidden to meet the young visitor and to enjoy dancing and bridge.

Friday, Miss Braunig was again the honoree at a luncheon given at her hostesses' home at 1809 Victoria avenue. Other events are planned before Miss Braunig goes on to the University of Washington, where she enters her junior year.

Swimming and Buffet Supper

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd B. Austin of Tamarack Lodge, Mammoth Lakes, were hosts recently at a novel swimming-supper affair at Horseshoe Beach, when a score or more were numbered among the guests. Bridge-Luncheon

A bridge-luncheon honoring Mrs. Richard Johns of New York and Mrs. Thomas Orr of Anderson, Ind., was given Friday by Miss Etta McCrillus, the affair taking place at The Town House. The large round table for twenty-four guests in the French window of the Wedgewood Room was unusually lovely in its decorations of lemon-colored pompon dahlias and blue delphinium.

Wedding Anniversary

Celebrating their seventeenth wedding anniversary, Mr. and Mrs. Danny Hall, 221 South El Camino Drive, Beverly Hills, entertained a group of friends at a delightfully appointed dinner party Thursday evening, the 21st inst.

The long table was beautifully adorned with varicolored flowers and a low mound of the blooms formed the center decoration. After dinner the group was entertained with music and miniature golf.

The invited guests included Messrs. and Mmes. John Youn, Frank Grant; Misses Gladys Stafford, Charlotte Rogers; Messrs. David Garber and Harold Swisher.

No Bother

If you do not care to bother about labels on your jars of preserves, scratch the name of the jelly or preserves into the paraffin that covers it. Use a pointed skewer for this work.

Practical Bibs

One new dress shield will make the drooling baby two very practical bibs. Cut in half and bind the edges with tapes to tie in back of baby's neck. Nothing will go through this soft rubber and yet the outside will not chafe that little wet chin.

YOUR BABY and MINE

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

This department offers leaflets on weaning and feeding the child from 6 weeks to 6 years, prenatal care and diet for the nursing mother, constipation, eczema, outfits for the new baby, sleeping, walking, teething, thumb sucking, ammoniacal urine, bed wetting, training in cleanly habits, periods of anemia, cod liver oil, orange juice, hives, worms, tonsilitis, redstrawberry children, prune juice, limp watery rupture, stress and boils and cradle cap. Before asking a personal question about one of these subjects, it is better to send a self-addressed stamped envelope for the leaflet you need. If your particular problem is not covered in the above list, Mrs. Eldred will be glad to give you a personal reply.

REGULAR SCHEDULE FOR BABY IS INDISPENSABLE

We talk so much about the vital need for a regular schedule that young mothers are no doubt convinced of its necessity. However, unless a nurse starts baby "off" at the hospital or at home, the mother may be undecided about just when to fit in the daily bath, the sun bath, the twice-daily naps, and still manage baby's feedings with clock-like regularity.

"Please outline a schedule for me, Mrs. Eldred," comes a plea from A Young Mother. "Include baths and naps. Baby is 2 months of age and I feed her the first meal at 7 in the morning and the last one at 10 at night."

SCHEDULE FOR SUMMER MONTHS

Your baby's feeding hours are 7-10-1-4-7 and 10. So this is the way the schedule would work out:

Seven a.m. Breast feeding. Short nap. Five to ten-minute sun bath, between 8 and 9.

Nine a.m. Drink of water. Orange juice. Attention to daily bowel movement.

Nine forty-five to 10 a.m. Bath. Feeding. Long nap outdoors unless day is very, very hot, in which case put baby in coolest possible place to sleep. Just a cotton band and diaper, or just a diaper is enough during hottest days.

One p.m. Feeding. Wakeful period. Drink of water.

Four p.m. Feeding. Short nap indoors or out.

Six p.m. Undress baby (unless she is already undressed.) Cool sponge bath. Put on cotton band, diaper and cotton night dress. Give drink of water. Orange juice a second time if baby is constipated.

Seven p.m. Feeding. Put baby to bed for the night.

Ten p.m. Last feeding between this time and 12.

This schedule should be elastic enough to allow for baby's own vagaries, and one of the feedings about which we would be most lenient is that last feeding at night. Experience with three babies has convinced me that baby often selects better hours for this last feeding than does his mother.

NIGHT FEEDINGS DEPEND UPON BABY

The baby on a four-hour schedule may require two feedings at night, which can be arranged most conveniently at 10 and 2 o'clock. The baby who has five feedings during the day may not have any desire for two night feedings, and yet would find it difficult to go from 10 to 6 without a feeding. If allowed to sleep until she wakes naturally (never waken a soundly sleeping baby for any night feeding,) baby may elect to nurse at 12 o'clock at night. In fact, this happens frequently and we believe in allowing baby to make his own night feeding hours rather than forcing any arbitrary rules of feeding upon him. Then he more rapidly outgrows these hours and learns to sleep through the night.

Daily schedule for the child of 2 to 6 can be obtained from this department, which, with a week's menu for this same age child, makes a complete outline for the mother to follow. Self-addressed and stamped envelope for the two of these leaflets is the only requirement.

Health and Diet Advice

CARE IN THE SICK ROOM

A sick person is not feeling at his best and waiting takes his strength and wastes time that could be better spent in resting. Do not allow others to whisper just outside his door. Let the members of the family see him for short sessions but discourage running in and out.

In making the patient's bed be sure that there are no wrinkles under him. Smooth the sheets and plump the pillows. It is better to make up one side of the bed first and then move the patient over on the finished side. This avoids moving him unnecessarily or taking him out of bed. The sheets should be changed every day, and the patient should have one or more sponge baths for the sake of cleanliness.

In sponging off the bed-confined patient, first wash the limbs, beginning at the extremities, and working toward the heart. Wash and dry each part carefully without uncovering the rest of the body, and cover it up and go on to the next part.

There are many gentle things which you can do for a sick person to ease his body and bring him comfort, such as bringing him a toothbrush so that he may brush his teeth. During sickness the mouth usually feels foul, and it is a relief to the patient to have a mouth clean and sweet tasting. Also, see that the face, hands and nails are kept clean.

In feeding the patient who is ill, keep the tray attractive; even if he is living exclusively on orange juice, it may be served in a nice clean, shiny glass, set on a clean doily in an attractive plate. Provide plenty of distilled water for the patient to drink.

One of the first signs of convalescene is that the ill patient notices the cheery light of the sun and wants to enjoy it. During a relaxing period be sure to darken the room so that the stimulus is removed from the eyes. If the patient wishes to be read to, then read some pleasing or cheerful news or book, but if he shows that he would rather lie quietly, do not disturb him. Do not keep up a steady stream of conversation, for sick people tire of talk even more quickly than well ones.

Getting well depends a great deal on faith and confidence. Keep up the patient's faith while you are doing everything else for his welfare, and he is a long way along the road to recovery. Never talk to the patient on harrowing subjects. Leave the latest murder, death, sickness, accident and such news alone. Do not tell him of other cases like his in which the patient died.

If the patient is in bed for more than a few days you must take precaution to avoid the bed sores. This can be done by giving the patient an air pillow to place under his hips to lie on, and by sponging off the parts, which are pressed against the mattress, with alcohol each day.

By all means see that the doctor's orders are followed out in regard to enemas. Never let a day go by without emptying the patient's bowels in some way. If the patient is too weak to go to the bathroom then give the enema in bed and use a bed pan. If the patient is very weak the enema can be given while patient is lying on the back, with a pillow underneath to raise the hips. The enema has the advantage of cleaning out the bowels without upsetting the patient's stomach as so many purges do.

After the patient has recovered and feels his appetite returning you should encourage him to take up a method of eating and living which will most quickly build up his strength and endurance. Right after a sick spell it is the best time to turn a patient's bad health habits into good health habits. The patient feels all cleaned out and ready to start life anew, and he also has had a recent lesson, which pain has taught him, that he should follow a more healthful way of living.

Children's Feet

Attention should be paid to the growing feet of children so they will not suffer from poor feet when they grow up. When possible it is wise to buy the child's shoes at the same store, so that he can wear the same last all the time his feet are growing. A reliable store will take care of the increase in size as the child grows. Frequently it does not pay to have children's shoes repaired, but allow that money on a new pair of shoes, as many children have feet that grow so quickly that the repaired shoes will not fit long enough to have them wear out.

CHEF WYMAN'S RECIPES

The Times' free cooking school conducted by Chef Wyman has been discontinued for the summer. Date for resuming has not been set but will be announced later.

FINNAN HADDIE SOUFFLE

Two cupfuls of flaked finnan haddie, one and one-half cupfuls of milk, the stiffly beaten whites of two eggs, six tablespoonfuls of oil, five tablespoonfuls of flour, one tablespoonful of lemon juice, one teaspoonful of Worcestershire sauce, one cupful of soft bread crumbs. Heat the milk, mix the oil and flour and gradually pour it into the milk, mix until smooth, add the seasonings, finnan haddie and bread crumbs, fold in the stiffly beaten whites of the eggs, place the mixture in a well-oiled baking dish, sprinkle with buttered bread crumbs, bake for twenty-five minutes in a medium oven.

CREAM CHEESE AND GRAPE SALAD

Beat to a cream two small packages of cream cheese and gradually add to it two tablespoonfuls of butter, continue the creaming and add three tablespoonfuls of cream, season with salt and paprika. Marinade lettuce leaves with French dressing and arrange them on individual plates, place in a small nest of the cheese in the center, make a depression and fill this with seedless grapes that have been marinaded in French dressing.

LEMON SPONGE TARTLETS

Cream three tablespoonfuls of butter and gradually cream into it three-fourths of a cupful of sugar, beat the yolks of three eggs until light and creamy with a half a cupful of sugar. Combine the two mixtures and beat until light, stir in two tablespoonfuls of grated lemon rind and two tablespoonfuls of lemon juice. Sift five tablespoonfuls of flour with one-half teaspoonful of salt and gradually stir into it one and one-half cupfuls of milk. When smooth combine it with the egg mixture, fold in the stiffly beaten whites of the three eggs. Line small individual pie tins with a rich crust and pour the mixture into them, place in a hot oven for the first ten minutes, then reduce the heat and bake until the custard is firm.

NUT DOUGHNUTS

One and one-fourth cupfuls of sugar, four tablespoonfuls of shortening, one and one-half cupfuls of milk, two eggs, four teaspoonfuls of baking powder, one cupful of chopped walnuts, one-half teaspoonful of vanilla, one-half teaspoonful of lemon, one-half teaspoonful of salt and flour enough to make a soft dough. Cream and shortening and sugar together, add the eggs well beaten, sift the salt, baking powder and flour and add it alternately with the milk, add the extract, roll out, cut with a cutter and fry in deep, hot shortening.

Mrs. Wyman does not reply to letters, but requests for recipes will be answered in the department "PRACTICAL EATING," published every Friday.—(All rights to reproduce reserved by A. L. Wyman.)

Discoveries

Keep canaries out of drafts to keep them in good health.

If you are in the habit of reading the newspaper in the trolley car or train you will be wise to first remove your gloves, as the printer's ink can soil them in one wearing.

Surfaces that are to be painted must be cleaned first or it will result in a streaky job that is apt to peel off readily. Remove all dust, dirt and blemishes before starting the painting job.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

A Modulated Voice

Don't laugh, joke and hold loud conversations in the room of the invalid unless he is practically well. Otherwise your trying to be funny will only make him very nervous. Be cheerful, but in a nice, quiet way.

Hand Work

Table linen should always be hemmed by hand. Handwork means a neater, more dainty job and there is never a streak of dirt under the edge after laundering as so often happens when the linen is stitched by machine.

So crisp!

Here's a breakfast treat that's so crisp it actually crackles in milk or cream! Kellogg's Rice Krispies.

Rice in its most delicious form. Toasted bubbles of flavor. Children love them. Extra good with fruits or honey added. Order a red-and-green package from your grocer. Handy to use in candies, macaroons, etc. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

I have already tried Flex on some of my chairs and am tremendously pleased. I don't know anything about the technic of painting. I fill my brush up too much. I can never paint evenly. But with Flex, it looks as if my chairs had been painted by an expert! Flex is for all woodwork, furniture and automobiles. I understand it is sold at almost every good paint or hardware store.

BOARD REPLIES TO A. C. MALONE

Civil Service Commission Hits at Charges

Candidate's Attack on Reid Held Unjustified

Accusations Declared to be "Wholly False"

Members of the Los Angeles County Civil Service Commission yesterday took occasion to make a formal answer to the political attacks of A. C. Malone of Long Beach, candidate for Assemblyman in the Seventieth District, and former member of the commission, against the County Civil Service Commission, and James K. Reid, a member of the body, and Malone's opponent in the campaign.

Reid formerly was president of the Long Beach Chamber of Commerce and is a business man of the beach city. The statement, signed by his colleagues on the commission, O. C. Mattison, R. W. Mostern and Sam J. Chappel, declares:

"The Los Angeles County Civil Service Commission is not in politics and its members are not concerned about the election of any candidate for political office.

"However, the undersigned deny in toto the unfounded, ridiculous and wholly false statements credited to A. C. Malone, candidate for Assemblyman in the Seventieth Assembly District, in so far as such statements reflect in the slightest degree upon the honesty, integrity and sincerity of purpose of the undersigned members of the Los Angeles County Civil Service Commission and Bureau of Efficiency.

"We unqualifiedly stamp all such statements to be without foundation, in fact, and offer in substantiation thereof the records and the minutes of the meetings of the Civil Service Commission and Bureau of Efficiency for the past eight years, which time includes Malone's term as a commissioner."

Consul Declares China Red Fray "Flash in Pan"

Chinese seaports are prospering and her internal strife is a transient thing; China's future is exceedingly bright, in the opinion of Joseph E. Jacobs, American administrative Consul at Shanghai several years. He arrived on the trans-Pacific Dollar liner President Taft this week-end, en route to Washington for another assignment.

JOSEPH E. JACOBS

"The present uprising is a mere flash in the pan," he declared. "The so-called Communists are a disgruntled lot, ostracised both by the Nanking government and by the North China group. They are a small minority."

Interior Chinese, he said, are largely small agriculturists and are barren soil for nurturing soviet doctrines.

Youth Causes Arrest of Self Due to Temper

Fear of Dewell Galloway, 23 years of age, of Graham, that his temper would get the best of him yesterday resulted in him receiving a suspended sentence of ten days in jail or $25 fine for disturbing the peace.

Galloway, according to a Sheriff's office report, called the Florence-avenue substation and requested that he be arrested before he lost his temper and did something for which he would be sorry. He told deputy sheriffs, they reported, that his sister, 20, had come home drunk and that he was afraid that after seeing her in this condition he would lose his head and kill her.

He pleaded guilty to disturbing the peace in the court of Justice of the Peace Miller of Huntington Park yesterday morning after having spent the night in the County Jail.

Police Slaying Confession to be Introduced

The asserted confession of Juan Reyna, on trial before Superior Judge McComb for the murder of Verne A. Brindley, police officer, will be introduced into evidence tomorrow, according to Dep. Dist.-Atty. Bialock.

Yesterday virtually the entire day was spent in the cross-examination of police officers by C. V. Rude, defense attorney, after they had told their story of the shooting as prosecution witnesses.

It is charged that Reyna, after being arrested, seized Brindley's gun, shot him to death and then turned on L. E. Williams, another officer, and wounded him before he was overpowered.

"TIMES" ELECTION SERVICE

As is its custom, The Times will collect, tabulate and make public State and county returns from today's primary election as rapidly as they become available after the close of the polls at 7 p.m. The Times will broadcast returns at frequent intervals from KHJ, the Don Lee radio station, will issue night street editions and will give information by telephone to all who call MAdison 2345.

EX-PLAYER IN ZIEGFELD'S FREE AGAIN

Mrs. Margery E. Wellman Granted Divorce Decree on Charges of Violence

Mrs. Margery E. Wellman, former Ziegfeld Follies beauty, was freed of the bonds of matrimony with William A. Wellman, Hollywood motion-picture director, yesterday, when granted an interlocutory decree of divorce by Superior Judge Hanby. The wife was given $200 a month for the support of their daughter, Gloria, 6 years of age.

WILLIAM WELLMAN

"His language toward me was terrible," Mrs. Wellman declared. "He swore at me, cursed me and on several occasions struck me. Then, too, he was always falsely accusing me of infidelity."

The wife further testified that once while on a trip to Agua Caliente her husband told mutual friends that he no longer cared for her. She was represented by Attorney Willard T. Bender.

Mrs. Wellman's testimony was corroborated by Miss Virginia Taylor, motion-picture actress.

WRIT GAINS RELEASE OF FRUIT MEN

Two Wholesale Dealers Freed from Jail by New Court Action

George Mefferd and Joseph Waldman, commission merchants, convicted of mislabeling grapefruit, yesterday obtained their temporary release from the City Jail on a writ of habeas corpus granted by the District Court of Appeal. The writ is returnable September 1.

Tried before Municipal Judge McCoy last January, Mefferd and Waldman were found guilty of stamping the word "Imperial" on grapefruit in violation of the California Fruit, Nut and Vegetable Standardization Act of 1927, as amended in 1929. They carried their case to the appellate department of the Superior Court, which affirmed the decision on the 13th inst. Accordingly, they were returned to jail to serve their sentence.

Mefferd and Waldman set up the defense that the standardization act was repealed in 1929 and is void because of its indefiniteness. They contended further that they purchased the grapefruit involved in belief it had come from the Imperial Valley. The pair have been in business for many years in the Wholesale Terminal Market.

Abe Lyman Held Up in Theater Dressing-room

Abe Lyman, orchestra leader, was confronted by a bandit in a dressing-room at the Carthay Circle Theater last night soon after the curtain had descended on the picture being shown there.

"If you want to live give me what money you have," said the bandit, a swarthy, black-bearded man, pointing a revolver at the orchestra leader.

Al Bernicicl, a member of Lyman's orchestra who shares his dressing-room, entered at this moment, and was quickly backed to the wall alongside Lyman by the bandit.

The bandit took $150 from each man after which he backed out the door, warning his victims not to raise an outcry until he had gained the street if they desired to live. Reaching the street the bandit quickly disappeared.

LASKY RE-SIGNS CLARA BOW

Bessie Love Will Play Lead in Fox's "East Lynne;" Laura LaPlante, Reg Denny to be Cofeatured; Edna Marion Wins Ingenue Lead in "Today"

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

The suspense is over, and we learn that Clara Bow is not, after all, to leave Paramount.

Indeed, far from it. She has just signed a new contract with Paramount at an increased salary, Jesse Lasky made the announcement yesterday. The new agreement, effective as of October 1, will mark the beginning of her fifth year as a Paramount player and her fourth year of stardom.

CLARA BOW

A series of strong vehicles starring Miss Bow in the type of role in which the public has most enthusiastically received her is being prepared by Paramount, Mr. Lasky states. It is said that in her current picture, "Her Wedding Night," Miss Bow gives her finest performance since talking pictures became the vogue.

BESSIE LOVE TO PLAY "EAST LYNNE" LEAD

Ever since Bessie Love grew up and reached the zenith in pictures she has been joking about playing all sorts of leads including "Uncle Tom's Cabin" and "East Lynne."

BESSIE LOVE

And now it has actually come to pass, we hear, that Miss Love is to play the leading feminine role in the Fox version of "East Lynne."

Conrad Nagel and Clive Brook are to have the two leading male roles, as heretofore announced in this column.

The picture is to be one of the big specials of the Fox year.

PAUL LUKAS GIVEN IMPORTANT ROLE

Before Paul Lukas starts out on his lone-star career for Paramount, he is going to play another leading role opposite a fair young actress.

PAUL LUKAS

Lukas has just been cast as leading man opposite Ruth Chatterton in the later sequences of "The Right to Love." As heretofore announced, David Manners is to have the juvenile lead, appearing in the sequence opposite Miss Chatterton when she is supposed to be 18 years old.

Following this role, Lukas will play the star role in "Ladies' Man," as heretofore announced.

Laura LaPlante With Fox

It is practically assured that Laura LaPlante will appear shortly in a Fox picture as featured lead, we learn.

It is understood that she and Reginald Denny are to be cofeatured in a Fox production, the name of which is not yet ready to announce.

Miss LaPlante was formerly a Universal star, and one of the organization's most popular luminaries. She completed her latest contract with that organization several months ago, and has lately been vacationing in New York. It is understood that Universal offered Miss LaPlante a contract, but she preferred to free-lance. She is known lately to have taken a screen-and-voice test at Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

Zelma O'Neal Goes East

That cute little comedienne, Zelma O'Neal, is going to shake the dust of Hollywood from her sandals and betake her to New York, we learned yesterday.

Miss O'Neal is to take a flyer into vaudeville but expects to return to Hollywood within a few months. Her husband, the well-known English actor, Anthony Bushell, will accompany her.

LeBaron Defers Trip

Not for several months at least, he declares, will William LeBaron go to Europe. His professional duties as head of R.-K.-O. are detaining him in Hollywood, he says. R.-K.-O. is about to launch a big production schedule, and his presence he finds is needed for some time to come.

Edna Marion In It

Our best little comediennes continue to hop into drama. Now it is Edna Marion, who has been signed for the ingenue role in "Today," who quits comedy for serious drama, although she will brighten up the said drama with some comic highlights.

EDNA MARION.

"Today" is to be directed by William Nigh, and will be made at Tec-Art studios, with Katherine Dale Owen and Conrad Nagel featured.

Miss Marion appeared not only in picture comedies, but also has had several comedy roles on the stage. She married a Los Angeles broker not long ago, and retired temporarily from professional life, but now declares that her return to work denotes not the slightest rift in her matrimonial happiness.

Bradley King Writes It

Looking as refreshed after her mountain resort stay as though she had never heard of a nervous breakdown, Bradley King is back in Hollywood.

Miss King, who has written so many successful screen stories, is engaged at present with Fox, writing the screen adaptation for that organization's talking screen version of "East Lynne."

MATE STABS WIFE DURING PEACE TALK

Police Station Becomes Setting for Knife Attack as Pair Fail to Make Up

Georgia-street Police Station was the scene last night of a stabbing in which a young husband concluded a vain attempt at reconciliation with his wife of six months by driving the blade of a long penknife into her breast.

Mrs. Norma Straus, 22 years of age, the wife, was treated at the Georgia-street Hospital and is expected to recover.

Fred G. Straus, 22, photographer, was overpowered by Policeman Morrison, who had stood outside the door of the room in which the young couple had made their efforts to reach an understanding. He was locked up on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon with intent to commit murder, signed by Detective Lieutenant Stevens. The Strauses live at 634 East Forty-ninth street.

GIRL'S SUICIDE TRY LAID TO SCOLDING

A reprimand for remaining out late the previous night was ascribed by deputy sheriffs yesterday as the probable cause of Irene Ashbran, 15 years of age, 1310 South Fetterly avenue, attempting to take her own life by drinking poison. After draining the contents of a small bottle labeled poison, the girl is asserted to have washed the container, making it impossible to determine the nature of the poison, Deputy Sheriff Murphy reported. She was treated at the East Los Angeles Emergency Hospital.

DEL RUTH TO LEAD BEAR HUNT IN WILDS

Remote wilds of the Canadian Rockies will be penetrated next month by Roy Del Ruth, film director, and a party of friends who will hunt bear several weeks. The party will use Indian guides in an effort to find one of the large grizzlies known to inhabit upper reaches of the mountains. They will depart the latter part of this week.

AIRY COMEDY AT BILTMORE

"Candle-Light" Visits Here as Attraction

Light Plot and Humor in Viennese Stage Piece

Eugenie Leontovich, Owen and Mowbray Head Cast

BY EDWIN SCHALLERT

The valet elects to impersonate the Prince, and the Baroness's maid pretends to be an aristocrat. They succeed in deceiving each other, affording great enjoyment to the royalty looking on at the little game of masquerade.

Tremendously light, if you want so to consider it, is "Candle-Light," which is available for inspection just now at the Biltmore Theater, as an attraction inaugurating a new season. Tremendously light—and frequently humorous, this play by Siegfried Geyer, adapted by P. G. Wodehouse, and staged by Reginald Owen.

It has the thoroughly continental attitude, though its piquancy is of the milder grade, and its plot spins out oftentimes almost too fragilely.

Eugenie Leontovich leads off the names in the cast, portraying the role which Gertrude Lawrence enacted in New York. Alan Mowbray and Reginald Owen, who staged the piece, are the other two leading players. Besides them, there are only three or four others. Owen plays his New York role.

The production is excellent as to staging, the one set that is used being unusually well designed. Worthy of their duties are most of those appearing. Miss Leontovich, schooled in the Russian theater originally, and scheduled, one hears, for prominent opportunities this season in New York, gives a particular tang to certain portions of her performance. I liked her better in the earlier act, however, than in the later ones. Mannerisms, rather too obvious, sometimes mar the impression.

The charge of the piece is conscientiously recited in a final bit of advice from the prince to his servant: "Choose neither woman nor linen by candlelight."

The words are from an old proverb and express the essence of the plot idea, but do not comprehend all the situations.

Some of these situations are very fortunately made delightful by the master's choosing to aid his man's deception, and don the garb of the valet. This colors the slender story agreeably. Especially is this true when the Baroness's maid lifts the mask and decides to be herself with the real Prince, acting like a servant. Need one mention further, that this means a romantic interest between them for the moment?

Again, at the end of the play, the Baroness herself appears in the maid's costume, prepared to wait upon her servant at the festal table. This, as it happens, is the ultimate and shocking (for the maid) revelation.

"Candle-Light" is really the sort of play that could be more gayly enjoyed for its fundamental theme of social distinctions in Europe than in America. It is a contest with very slight rapiers. The thrust and the riposte of its duel of wits are too delicately contrived to provide the broader spirit of laughter. It is clever of its kind, but caviar—and one act instead of three would quite suffice to tell its entire narrative for a public that, I believe, desires a bit more of excitment. Toward the end especially, I fear, "Candle-Light" flickers.

Mowbray, who portrays the valet, was seen here in "The Second Man" with the Theater Guild company that visited the Figueroa Playhouse. He is efficient in the role. Owen will be remembered from his engagement with Fay Bainter, and there are marked evenness and capability evident in his work. Of the lesser principals Eden Gray is the most pleasing.

The exactions of all the roles were unquestionably heavy upon the players, strangely enough because the play itself is of such feather weight. However, even with its faults there is a degree of charm to "Candle-Light."

Egan Theater Holds Court

Marian Shockley

"OLD ENGLISH" DUE FRIDAY

George Arliss's newest film vehicle, "Old English," which comes to Warner Brothers' Hollywood Theater Friday, is said to be one of the most anticipated events of the current picture year.

The combination of Arliss and John Galsworthy's play won unstinted praise of those who saw the production on the stage and the same is presaged for the picture by several who have seen it.

There is a love interest in "Old English" which delves into the somewhat purple past of a delightful bachelor who strives to leave something in his will for the benefit of his grandchildren.

A typical English cast of players is seen in support, headed by Doris Lloyd and Leon Janney. Alfred E. Green directed.

CRITERION TO SCREEN 'ALL QUIET'

"Our Blushing Brides" is in the last few days of its engagement at the Criterion Theater. "All Quiet on the Western Front" arrives Friday.

Showmen were surprised when "All Quiet" was abruptly closed at the Carthay Circle, it is said, but Fox West Coast Theaters had its own reasons for this move, and the Criterion is the fortunate house to profit by the change in booking, the management reports.

It has been estimated by the studio exchange that 400,000 Los Angeles regular theater-going fans failed to see "All Quiet" at the Carthay Circle.

West Coast Theaters has a special mailing list of nearly 80,000 Angelenos who belong to the "Best Pictures Only Club." Owing to the fact that more than half of these patrons missed "All Quiet" the Criterion is sending special invitations to the list.

PLAY SHOP OFFERS SUDERMANN DRAMA

"Honor" Presents Ironic but Philosophical Theme; Cast Efficient

BY KATHERINE T. VON BLON

Slightly ironic in treatment, "Honor," by Sudermann, now running at The Play Shop, rather falls the master dramatist through lack of constructive manipulation, though its philosophical contention is well taken.

"Honor" somehow leaves a bitter taste in the mouth. However, after the second act, one feels constrained to agree with the wit who declared that "a gentleman is a person who can do something that no gentleman would do in a manner which only a gentleman could do it." The fourth act leaves one convinced that, contrary to general opinion, there is quite as much honor in high places as in low, and that human nature is much the same whether garbed in ermine or rags. Also, it is discovered that it is invariably impossible for one stratum to understand the social edicts of another.

The philosophy and shrewd, but kind worldly wisdom of one Count Von Trost, who though belonging to the aristocrats, yet understands human nature, clears the road for the plebian son and enables him to make his adjustment to life with less difficulty. This young bourgeois possesses an instinctive idealism and a real feeling for the honor of his family which is quite beyond the horizons of his own people.

In proving his thesis Sudermann invents a perfectly plausible though overworked situation, with a wronged sister, a valiant brother, who is also a properly romantic lover. Some of the speeches are a bit tedious for modern fare, and could profit by cutting. However, there is power and a certain vital quality which holds the interest.

As the philosophical Count Von Trost, Bruna Barnabe acted with finesse and poise. John Werner gave an excellent characterization as the old father. Charles Maurice was convincingly bombastic and masterful, and Eleanor Mather brought pathos to the part of the old mother. Robert, the idealistic son, was played with emphasis by Arnold Walsh. Leslyn Keith was not especially convincing as the sister, and Vard Adam was more or less miscast. Norma Sears and Adele St. Maur also appeared.

Large Party to See Hughes Film Tomorrow Night

Tomorrow evening is to be celebrated as Goodrich Night at Grauman's Chinese Theater when attaches of the B. F. Goodrich organization will visit the theater to see "Hell's Angels," Howard Hughes's aerial film.

The committee in charge of arrangements for the party includes T. G. Graham, S. B. Robertson, F. E. Titus and E. T. Morris.

"Hell's Angels," introduced by a colorful stage show, now is in the fourteenth week of its engagement at the Chinese, and numbers of civic, fraternal and industrial organizations are making block reservations.

Follies Plans Gala Reopening

Bearing its banner of burlesque forward into a new season, the Follies Theater is preparing to reopen Saturday at midnight. The management announces that a notable burlesque cast has been assembled, in addition to a lively ensemble of girls.

The new company will number eighty persons. A special attraction will be a troupe of colored entertainers. Designers have been working night and day on new costumes, drapes and stage settings.

Warners Sign Harvey Thew

Harvey Thew, who has fifteen dialogue scripts to his credit after eighteen months under contract to Warner Brothers, is one of the first of a group of authors signed for the new Warner program of activity to start in December.

Thew's latest job for the Warner studio is "Illicit," now in production. "The Matrimonial Bed" and "Penny Arcade" are others of his authorial accomplishments.

FORMER AIR PILOT ACTS AT BELASCO

Minor Watson Restrained from Flying by Clause in Present Contract

Minor Watson, leading man in the original David Belasco cast of "It's a Wise Child," now playing at the Belasco Theater, was an instructor during the war in the United States Army Air Service at Love Field, Dallas, Tex., and kept up his flying until he signed with Belasco for the present role.

When the producer heard that Watson was an aviator he promptly inserted a clause in his contract that Watson must remain on the ground during the engagement with the company, it is reported.

Watson began his stage career with Belasco in "Nobody's Widow" in 1916 and in the interim has played in stock, vaudeville and motion pictures.

VEHICLE OF M.-G.-M. STAR ANNOUNCED

"Call of the Flesh" will Start Run at Loew's State Theater Thursday

Ramon Novarro's characterization in "Call of the Flesh," announced as the next Greater Talkie Season attraction for Loew's State Theater, starting Thursday, is said to reveal a wide range of emotional acting.

The Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer star is first seen as a whimsical singer-comedian. Two women of varying types fall in love with him—one from a near-by convent, the other a dancer. Dramatic sequences in the story convert the singer-hero into a tragic figure.

NEWCOMER SCORES IN FILM DRAMA

Fern Andra

Fern Andra plays the fascinating Mrs. Taine in "Eyes of the World," the current attraction at United Artists' Theater.

Miss Andra came to Hollywood some months ago with a record of achievements both on the stage and screen of England and Germany. Although American born, she had her own producing unit at the Ufa studios. She speaks fluent German and English.

Whispers in the Wings

BY MURIEL BABCOCK

WELL, the Macloons have bought their foreign operetta. In a cable to The Times from London yesterday, they announced acquisition of the American and English production rights to Emmerich Kalman's Viennese musical, "La Violette."

Furthermore, Mr. Macloon, probably considerably to the delight of the transmitting cable company, went on to remark, "This is now the biggest success in Vienna and Berlin. We predict Viennese waltzes will sweep America this winter, in keeping with the graceful fashions of the new women's clothes now being shown in the Paris salons."

The message was dispatched on the eve of the Macloons' sailing from London for New York.

They expect to arrive in Los Angeles September 10, and the operetta premiere is set for the first week in November. And that's that—except as it has already been announced, Perry Askam and Josephine Houston are to have the principal singing roles.

More Shows In Sight

Things appear to be picking up in the theatrical way. Here are two new shows arriving next week. "A Cup of Sugar" at the Vine street and Kolb and Dill at the Hollywood Playhouse. The first named is Mr. Lynn Starling's new play with Dorothy Mackaye in the lead.

Katherine Cornell in "The Dishonored Lady" comes into the Biltmore on September 3. Pauline Frederick will follow "It's a Wise Child" into the Belasco and there's a revue of proportions—or so the advance copy goes—shortly to make a bow at the Mayan Theater. Not to forget "The Missing Witness" with Maude Fealy, arriving at the Egan tonight, and "The Poor Nut" off to a good start at El Capitan.

And that doesn't account for the plans of either Arthur Collins or George Holland, both of whom are pretty sure of popping into sights before long with likely pieces of theater. Collins, it was, who produced "Fata Morgana." Holland did "June Moon."

The Yiddish Invasion

A troupe of Yiddish Art Players will move into the Beaux Arts Theater shortly. They plan to open a season of some thirty-two to forty weeks on Wednesday, September 24, giving four performances weekly, mostly in Yiddish and occasionally in English.

According to notes left on this desk yesterday, Ben Adler, described as the leading actor of the Second-avenue Theater, a director as well as an actor, will head the troupe. Other members are Pauline Offerman, Ruth Battini, Lea Tuchman, Gussie Carp, Ruth Millers, Esther Glickman, Julius Mikelson, Sam Klinetzky, Joseph Birnberg, Albert Friedman and Abraham Rosenthal. Abe Cogut, who recently brought the New York Yiddish Art Players here, is in charge of the organization.

News from the Eastern Front

Colleen Moore, picture star who will appear on the stage this season under the management of Arch Selwyn, will arrive tomorrow from Hollywood to begin rehearsals of her play, "Foam." Rod LaRocque, who will be seen with Vilma Banky in another play for Mr. Selwyn, "How to Be Happy," is already in New York.

With its brace of Barrymores, "Scarlet Sister Mary" will open up in Albany the week of September 22. The following week the play will go to Cleveland and it will also be seen in Pittsburgh before coming to New York on Monday, October 13. Incidentally, just to make it tough for the first-nighters and reviewers, the Lunts are scheduled to open on October 13 in "Elizabeth the Queen," while at the same time Miss Le Gallienne will reveal the first of her season's new plays, the French "Siegried." Mrs. Fiske will begin preparations for her repertory season on September 21 and since she plans to act in five of her past vehicles Equity has granted her five weeks of free rehearsals to get them ready.

College Life Theme in Next Boulevard Film

"Cheer Up and Smile," a Fox college romance starts Thursday at the Boulevard Theater. Arthur Lake and Dixie Lee will be seen in the featured roles, supported by a group of seasoned comedians including Johnny Arthur, Franklin Pangborn, Charles Judels, Buddy Messinger and Sumner Getchell. Other roles will be enacted by Olga Baclanova, John Darrow and "Whispering" Jack Smith.

To provide authentic college atmosphere for the picture, director Sidney Lanfield engaged a large number of University of Southern California students, among them being fourteen members of last year's football squad.

"Common Clay," with Constance Bennett and Lew Ayres, closes tomorrow night.

Kolb and Dill Pick Cast for 'Good Old Days'

Kolb and Dill have completed the cast for "Good Old Days," the Aaron Hoffman farce-comedy in which the two stars come to the Hollywood Playhouse Monday.

In addition to Marguerite De La Motte, leading woman, the cast will include Julia Blanc in her original role of Fritzie Wagner, and Franklyn Farnum as Parker, the prohibition officer. James Bush, A. Arthur Harris, Allyn Lewis, Henry Shumer, Charles Esler and Ben Taggart also will appear.

One of the features of the offering will be a Free Patio Cabaret in the patio of the Playhouse.

NOON ROBBERY SETS NEW MARK

Incerase in Hold-ups for Year 74 Per Cent

Collector for Hotel Chain Victim of Bandit

Cigar Stand Broken Open and Safe Hauled Away

The daring daylight robbery of Robert Porter, collector for the Consolidated Hotels system, yesterday noon, was the 138th hold-up since the 1st inst., a figure revealing an increase of 74 per cent when compared with a total of fifty-nine robberies for the same period last year.

Porter had just started to drive away from the Victor Hotel at Sixth and St. Paul streets when a bandit, carrying a revolver concealed under his coat, stepped into the front seat beside him. He was forced by the bandit to drive to Sixth and Boundry streets. At this quiet intersection the bandit made him get out of the machine and walk south. When he looked back a few moments later the bandit had vanished.

Porter reported that a satchel in the car contained $1500 in cash and $3300 in checks. When the car was found ten minutes later by detectives within a few blocks of the scene of the robbery the satchel was gone.

Burglars who broke into the cigar stand and fountain of C. C. Thomsen at 145 West Eleventh street early yesterday morning, carried away a 1600-pound safe containing $900 in cash, a watch, a revolver and a quantity of papers. The safe was taken through a rear door and apparently loaded on a truck.

Autoist to Face Murder Trial in Death Case

J. T. Nicholson, 42-year-old oil worker of Whittier, must face trial for murder in Superior Court as a result of striking down J. F. McMahan, night watchman, with his automobile on Whittier Boulevard, near Pico, on the 18th inst., Municipal Judge Wood so ordered yesterday at the conclusion of his preliminary hearing.

Nicholson was arrested, testimony showed, for being drunk in his car near the scene of the accident shortly after it occurred. He admitted, Deputy Sheriff Gray told Judge Wood, that he had run over some one.

GARAGE KILLING CHARGES FILED

George Knobloch Accused in Formal Complaint

Young Man Declared Slain in Fight Over Bill

Coroner's Jury Brands Deed as Intentional One

George Knobloch, garage owner of 5401 South Figueroa street, is charged with the murder of Rowland Kenville, 21 years of age, in a complaint issued by the District Attorney's office yesterday as a result of a fatal quarrel between the two men over collection of a 25-cent bill.

Miss Jeanette Ferguson, who was with Kenville, told officers that Kenville had asked Knobloch to repair his automobile horn but considered the work unsatisfactory and declined to pay the bill. In the fight that followed, Knobloch stabbed Kenville with a screw driver, the girl said. Kenville collapsed and died after driving his car two blocks.

Knobloch yesterday was found by a Coroner's jury to have intentionally stabbed Kenville, the wound causing death through penetrating the chest and heart. The jury declared the stabbing to be homicidal.

Knobloch refused to testify.

GIRL FRIEND CALLED FOR IMY INQUIRY

Miss La Raut Asserts County Architect's Aide Heavy Spender

Delving deeper into the personal affairs of Harry Imy, chief clerk of the County Architect's office charged with twenty counts of grand theft, District Attorney's investigators yesterday questioned Miss Gladys Le Raut, motion picture actress and a close friend of the defendant.

Miss La Raut, however, was unable to give the officers any addition information except to say she knew that Imy spent a great deal of money and "went to lots of parties." After questioning she was released.

In a complaint issued yesterday Imy is charged with forging the names of fictitious persons to payroll checks which he is accused of cashing and converting to his own use. According to Dep.-Dist.-Atty. McIsaac and Steve Novakowski, investigator, these checks amount to approximately $8000.

Federal Trial of Oil Man as Perjurer Set

A. F. Luse, oil promoter, will go to trial September 3, for the second time it was decided yesterday by United States District Judge Cosgrave. He will be tried on three counts of perjury, asserted to have been committed in testimony in his trial on a charge of misuse of the mails.

In the first trial the jury failed to agree and was discharged by the court. As the result of an investigation, the charges of perjury were brought against the defendant. Luse was accused of misrepresenting the value of oil leases in Texas. Texas.

VICE SQUAD WARRANTS PLEA FAILS

Judge Curtis Refuses to Issue Orders for Arrest of Mayor Porter's Aides

Declining to issue warrants for the arrest of five members of Mayor Porter's undercover vice squad, Municipal Judge Curtis yesterday transferred a complaint charging them with false imprisonment to Municipal Judge Russell for action. Judge Russell said he either will issue the warrants or decline to do so when court opens tomorrow. Judge Curtis gave no reason for refusing to issue the warrants.

The five men are named by Leigh H. Hill, attorney who filed the complaint, as Floyd Goldsberry, Eugene Boydstun, W. R. McNeal, John Doe and Richard Roe. Thelma Stone, Hill's client, was acquitted by Municipal Judge Marchant last week of vagrancy charges. Testimony showed that she had been arrested in a lodging-house which she was operating under a city license.

Chicagoans Buy Large Apartment Structure Here

Sale of the Country Club Manor Apartments, 316 North Rossmore avenue, by the Frederick M. Simpson Corporation to a Chicago syndicate represented by G. R. Boling, was reported yesterday. The sale price was $715,000, with the consideration represented by mortgages and Chicago property which the sellers expect to operate with other Chicago holdings.

Country Club Manor is of the French chateau type of architecture, and contains forty-four five and six-room suites. Charles J. Baxter, realty broker, represented the Simpson Corporation, while S. L. Krebbs of Burton & Co., represented the Chicago interests. The property was purchased by the Simpson Corporation last December from Garfield R. Jones, vice-president of the International Harvester Company.

Victim Identified in Fatal Mishap

Sheriff's office investigators yesterday identified a motorcycle rider who was fatally injured on the Ridge Route, a short distance north of Castaic, as Joseph W. Phall, 30 years of age, 802 Niles street, Bakersfield.

Phall died at the General Hospital a few hours after he fell from his motorcycle when it is believed to have hit a bump in the road.

ESTIMATES OF ROAD COSTS TO BE POSTED

An order was issued yesterday by the Board of Supervisors that in the future all county road improvement notices along the routes of proposed highway projects must contain estimates of the cost of the work, prepared by the County Road Department. The order was issued on motion of Supervisor Shaw, who declared it is only fair to the property owners that they know the approximate cost of the improvement.

HEARING DELAYED

The probation hearing for Ella Fernekes, who was convicted of aiding her husband, Frank Fernakes, in passing worthless checks on Los Angeles business men, was deferred one week yesterday by Superior Judge Wood.

"TIMES" ELECTION SERVICE

As is its custom, The Times will collect, tabulate and make public State and county returns from today's primary election as rapidly as they become available after the close of the polls at 7 p.m. The Times will broadcast returns at frequent intervals from KHJ, the Don Lee radio station, will issue night street editions and will give information by telephone to all who call MAdison 2345.

Plans Approved for Police Radio

Specifications for a complete medium high frequency radio telephone remotely controlled transmitting plant for the police department, to be located on a site selected in Elysian Park, were approved by the Police Commission. City Purchasing Agent Oughton was asked to advertise for bids.

The specifications call for the latest design of transmitter and it must not be a used or rebuilt set. It was decided to accept used microphones.

MURDER RETRIAL ASKED

Convicted of the murder of Leon Hill, a Negro, K. L. Washington, also a Negro, yesterday sought a new trial when he appeared before Superior Judge Wilson for sentence. Judge Wilson continued the matter until Friday for further argument.

PAIR FACING MURDER TRIAL

Youths Reported to Have Confessed to Killing of Trump in Hold-up Held Without Bail

Jacques Samaniego and Wilbur Mossberg, 20-year-old former Manual Arts High School students, were held without bail to await trial by Superior Court for the murder of Ralph O. Trump during a hold-up on October 24, 1928, following their preliminary hearing before Municipal Judge Turney yesterday. Preliminary hearing for the two youths on seven counts of robbery was postponed by Judge Turney until tomorrow.

Marjorie Ullman, 6535 Homewood avenue, testified that she was seated by Trump's side in this car in front of her residence when the two youths approached and that when he attempted to resist, Samaniego fired a bullet into Trump's head, killing him instantly. Dep. Dist.-Atty. Coleman had Mossberg's confession to police after his arrest, in which he admitted the hold-up and declared that Samaniego fired the bullet which killed Trump from an automatic pistol which he had borrowed, from Mossberg, read into the record, as well as Samaniego's confession.

The two youths were arrested on the 2nd inst. by Police Sergeant Greeton at Hollywood Boulevard and Garfield street, while "acting suspiciously" in an automobile. He took a large caliber pistol from them, and after questioning them at police headquarters, filed the murder charge, he reported. Both said they were narcotic users, police said.

Search Starts in Poison Case

An unidentified man was being sought yesterday by deputy sheriffs for questioning in connection with the asserted suicide attempt Sunday night of Anne Acuna, 24 years of age, 308 Sunset avenue, San Gabriel.

Miss Acuna applied for aid from a resident in Monrovia after having taken poison while in her mother's automobile on the road near by and while she is believed to have been accompanied by a man, according to a Sheriff's report. She was in a critical condition yesterday in the Garfield Hospital, Monterey Park, officers reported.

Vacation Costs Teacher Liberty

When school ended last term Agnes Bowen, 25 years of age, teacher at a junior high school, determined to have a good vacation.

"Before I knew it my money was all spent," she said yesterday at Central Police Station, "and so I—"

She didn't finish, but Detectives Lieutenants Posner and Crowley, who arrested her yesterday in a downtown department-store, declare she admitted having cashed seven spurious checks for $40. She was booked on a suspicion of forgery charge.

WHEN THE SANDMAN COMES

by THORNTON W. BURGESS

WHAT REDDY'S MISTAKE WAS

To act, not knowing what you do, Chagrin will often bring to you.
—Reddy Fox.

Black Pussy the Cat is very black indeed. There isn't a white hair in her coat. She lives at Farmer Brown's. She is well cared for. She has all she can eat and more. She never has to go hungry at all. Nevertheless, Black Pussy goes hunting every day. You see, the love of hunting is in her, as it is in most cats. She doesn't hunt because she is hungry. Oh, no! This isn't it at all. She hunts because she loves to hunt. She likes the excitement. Sometimes Black Pussy hunted in the Old Orchard; sometimes she went down the Long Lane to the Green Meadows; once in a while she hunted along the edge of the Green Forest. But she didn't like the Green Forest so well.

This morning Black Pussy decided to try the old stone wall again. She was curious. Some one all in black was living there and she wanted to know about him. Once she had almost caught him. It was the first and only time she had seen him and he looked very much like a Chipmunk. Black Pussy did not believe he could be a Chipmunk, because she had never heard of a black Chipmunk. It didn't make any difference; she wanted him anyway. So that is how it happened that on this particular morning Black Pussy went to the old stone wall to hunt.

Before going to the old stone wall, Black Pussy went down through the Old Orchard and finally came to the stone wall at the end nearest the Green Forest. She saw no signs of striped Chipmunk, or of Impy the black Chipmunk; but that didn't discourage her at all. You know, Black Pussy is another one of those patient people. She long ago learned that often patient watching and waiting is rewarded. So she isn't disappointed if she doesn't see right away what she has started out to hunt. She moved along on the side of the old wall nearest the Old Orchard, stopping to look into and smell of all the holes between the stones. Once or twice she got a faint scent of Chipmunk. It was just enough to excite her a little, but she knew that it was old.

Once or twice she got a faint scent of Chipmunk

By and by Black Pussy sat down at a point where a big stone had fallen out of the old wall. Scrapper the Kingbird was making a fuss over in the Old Orchard and Black Pussy sat with her back to the wall, looking into the Old Orchard to see what the fuss was about. Now, you know that, no matter how still Black Pussy herself may be, the tip of her tail is apt to keep moving, especially if she is interested or excited. It was so now. Her tail lay in such a way that when she straightened the end of it out it could be seen between the stones of the old wall from the other side. She straightened it out and curled it back. Then she straightened it out again, without really knowing what she was doing.

Something happened right then and there. Black Pussy gave a yell of fright. Something had seized the end of her tail. It let go instantly and Black Pussy whirled about with every hair standing on end, as she hissed and snarled. Through the little gap in the wall made by the fallen stone she stared into the startled face of Reddy Fox. It was a question which one was the most surprised. You see, Reddy had made a mistake. He had seen the end of Black Pussy's tail without really seeing her and had seized it thinking it was Impy the black Chipmunk. So it was a question which was the more surprised and which was the more angry, Black Pussy or Reddy Fox.

Stars Open Series Against Missions Tonight

INDIAN AND TROJAN LEAD ALL-AROUND PARADE

Wilson Charles (left,) Oneida Indian from the Haskell Institute, and Jim Stewart of the University of Southern California, finished one-two in the national decathlon championship at Pittsburgh yesterday. Charles came from behind to nose out Stewart in the concluding event, the gruelling 1500-meter run. Charles competed at Denver in the nationals last year and finished third. He led the field for five events—until a foot injury in the high jump slowed him up.

Seven Birdies Enable Star to Score Under Par

BY J. H. ANDERSON

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 25. (AP)—Mrs. O. S. Hill, Kansas City golfer, stroked a magnificent 75 today to win medalist honors in the twenty-eighth annual woman's western golf tournament and start impressively the defense of the crown she won a year ago at Cleveland, where she also was medalist with a 77.

MRS. GREGG LIFUR.

Seven birdies and eleven holes in par placed Mrs. Hill seven under women's par of 82 and only two over men's par on the treacherous Hillcrest Country Club course.

A stroke behind the Kansas City woman, who took up golf for her health a few years ago and developed into one of the nation's leading players, was Mrs. Gregg Lifur of Los Angeles. At Cleveland la year Mrs. Lifur was runner-up to Mrs. Hill, forcing the champion to take an eagle on the thirty-seventh hole to win the title. Mrs. Lifur also had seven birdies, but went one over par on the twelfth.

OTHERS CLOSE

The only other golfer to finish under 80 was Miss Dorothy Page, Madison, Wis., who had a 79. Twice on the last nine Miss Page's putts stopped on the lip of the cup.

BY BOB RAY

Still intrenched in first place, two and a half games ahead of Jack Lelivelt's crippled Cherubs, the Hollywood Stars of Oscar Vitt come home tonight to open a nine-game series against the Mission Reds at Wrigley Field. The two extra games take place next Monday, Labor Day.

OSCAR VITT.

Skipper Vitt's Sheiks, who took the odd game from Oakland last week, have sixteen consecutive games slated with the Reds during the coming two series here and at San Francisco. The Missions aren't as tough as they used to be and the Stars ought to gain quite a bit of ground on their nearest rivals—the Angels and Seals — who are also billed for two series in a row.

The Stars played very good ball up at Oakland, the three games they dropped being by one-run margins, and ought to be hard to catch if they pile

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 25. (AP)—Loping along with the free and tireless stride of his Indian forebears, Wilson Charles, steel-muscled Oneida from Haskell Institute, won the national decathlon championship this afternoon by running Big Jim Stewart of the Los Angeles A.C. into the ground in the final event, the gruelling 1500-meter run.

JIM STEWART

Trailing Stewart with nine of the ten events completed as the sun sank over the rim of the big Pitt stadium, the lithe 180-pound Indian athlete sped along like a brave on the warpath to cover the distance in 4m. 55s., and beat the giant Texan by more than an eighth of a mile.

SLIM MARGIN

Turning in the best performances of the day in the running broad jump and 1500-meter run, the latest of an illustrious line of Indian athletes that included such as Jim Thorpe and Pait Elkins, won with a slim but conclusive margin of 193.738 points from Stewart, while a sturdy newcomer from the University of Florida, Joe Hall, nosed

BRIX'S WEIGHT TOSSING FEATURE AT PITTSBURGH

BY HECTOR DYER
Intercollegiate 220-Yard Champion

PITTSBURGH (Pa.) Aug. 25.—The results of today's relays, the last day of the national A.A.U. championships, will give the eastern scribes some more reasons to moan about the crushing defeat handed to them by Vic Williams, Ray Alf, Bob Maxwell and myself in the quarter and the half-mile four-man relays. Had the Denver or the Newark Athletic Club teams been able to put up more competition, the records would doubtless have fallen, as both races were not more than a second over the records, and the first two passes in the longer races were slow as the baton was almost carried over the finish.

But at that, every man on the team contributed his share to the lead so that at all times the L.A.A.C. runners were in a class by themselves.

Another very interesting feature

Nine of Ten Seeded Teams Led by Defending Champs Advance in National Doubles

BY W. R. KING
Associated Press Sports Writer

BROOKLINE (Mass.) Aug. 25. (AP)—Tennis' return to normalcy appeared in sight here today when thirty-two strong teams engaged in the opening round of the national doubles championship play on the Longwood courts without registering anything resembling an upset.

Nine of the ten seeded teams, led by George Lott and Johnny Doeg, the defending champions, won. The other team did not play because Sydney Wood, New York youngster, paired with Frank X. Shields, arrived too late to take the courts against Richard Lusch and Keith Werner of Los Angeles. They will play tomorrow.

JOHNNY DOEG

The defending champions defeated Albert and Robert Turner of Newton, 6-4, 4-6, 7-5. Wilmer Allison and Johnny Van Ryn, the Davis Cup doubles team, drew another pair of brothers, Leo and Charlie Lejeck, the western titleholders, and made even shorter work of them, 6-3, 6-0, 6-2, than did the the top-seeded players with their set of brothers.

Big Bill Tilden and Frank Hunter, fresh from their Newport victory, had an easy time getting a winning start at the expense of the Middle Atlantic champions, Dooley and Mitchell and Robert Consodine of Washington, by scores of 6-1, 6-3, 6-4.

Berkley Bell and Gregory Mangin, the Davis Cup alternates, had quite a session with G. Lyttleton

The turnout, which was the largest and most enthusiastic since Price undertook the defense of California's football honor upon the death of Andy Smith, was informed by Price as to a number of radical changes in the policy of the Golden Bears this season on the gridiron.

CUP DEFENSE HOPEFULS AGAIN WITHOUT BREEZE

NEWPORT (R. I.) Aug. 23. (AP)—Lack of wind today continued the lull in competition between the four contenders for the honor of defending the America's Cup against Sir Thomas Lipton's fifth challenger, Shamrock V. What breeze there was came from the southeast and it was accompanied by a dense fog which prevented many of the spectator fleet from finding the starting line.

The four defender candidates—Yankee, Enterprise, Weetamoe, and Whirlwind—never cast off their tows. By the time they reached the ocean course in which the trials are being held and over which the international classic will be sailed, the selection committee decided against a race. The committee called the contest off at 1:30 p.m.

Shamrock V took another trial spin along the west passage of Narragansett Bay. It was clearer in the inside and the light air seemed to be sufficient for her propulsion.

HOPPING RETURNS TO "BIG FOUR"

Two Texans, Cecil Smith and Rube Williams, Found Wanting at No. 2 Position on Hitchcock's Whites; Trial Match Slated Tomorrow Afternoon

NEW YORK, Aug. 25. (AP)—The two hard-riding Texans, Rube Williams and Cecil Smith, have been tried and apparently found somewhat wanting, youthful Earle A. S. Hopping will return this week to the much-discussed No. 2 position on the American polo "Big Four," undergoing final tests for the international cup matches with England starting September 6.

E. S. HOPPING.

Hopping, after a week's absence, is slated to return to Capt. Tommy Hitchcock's varsity "Whites" this Wednesday at the Piping Rock Club in the eleventh test match. He will ride No. 2, with Eric Pedley, Capt. Hitchcock and Winston Guest retaining their usual positions at No. 1 and No. 3 and back.

Williams was given a tryout at No. 2, last Wednesday and Smith tested, for the second time, in this position yesterday, when the varsity side was held to a tie score by the "Reds." Neither Texan appeared to satisfy the exacting demands of the team leader, Hitchcock, who has had Hopping as a playing companion since youth.

The Reds this Wednesday will line up with Pete Bostwick and Laddie Sanford dividing No. 1, Smith at No. 2, Williams at No. 3 and Elmer Boeseke at back.

BRITISH POLOISTS IN PRACTICE TILT

GLENCOVE (N. Y.) Aug. 25. (AP) The British polo team played its second practice match at the Piping Rock Club today, defeating Roslyn, 12 to 8. The British failed to defeat Roslyn by a margin equal to the five-goal difference in the official handicaps.

The English side introduced a new reserve player in today's game in J. B. Balding, a younger brother of Gerald Balding and a five-goal player. With the loss of Aidan Roark, the English team is short of reserve strength. The younger Balding replaced Capt. Richard George in the sixth period. George was missing his shots frequently.

PETROLLE STOPS LAFAY

Ace Hudkins Returns to Ring Tonight at Olympic, Meeting Jack McVey in Main Event

WILDCAT DOPED TO COP BATTLE

Black Middleweight Making Second Local Start

McVey Credited with Beating Shade and Latzo

Ace's Brothers Direct His Scrap Tonight

BY PAUL LOWRY

Under the management of his brothers again, Ace Hudkins returns to the ring after a three-month lay-off to battle Jack McVey at the Olympic tonight.

McVey is a black middleweight whose chief claim to fame is that he "beat" Dave Shade and Pete Latzo and received nothing better than draws for his efforts.

His only local start was made against Joe Peregrina in one of Carlo Curtis's outdoor shows at the White Sox ball park some two months ago. McVey won easily.

The showing with Shade is McVey's best bid in view of the terrific lacing Shade handed Hudkins in the latter's last local engagement.

WON EVERY ROUND

Shade won every round from the Wildcat, and the result brought an open rupture between Hudkins and Tom Kennedy, his manager.

In three bouts under Kennedy's management Hudkins won from Arthur Flynn and was beaten by Maney Rosenbloom and Shade.

The Wildcat never had such a record with his brothers so the Kennedy contract was broken, and back to his brother-in-Clyde and Art—the Wildcat returned.

He had been training at the brothers' Woodland Riding Academy for over a month, and is reported to have put his good-time Charley antics behind him.

He will weigh close to the middleweight mark of 160 pounds, and this indicates he is in good condition.

McVey is an orthodox boxer who stands up straight and is credited with being one of the smartest negro fighters in the game. He doesn't swing wildly and has a fair string of knockouts.

However, unless all the cards read wrong Hudkins will win tonight, and open up a field of future activity in local circles.

WALKER AGAIN?

The Wildcat still entertains suspicions he can beat Mickey Walker, and he may receive another chance although Walker's victory last year was so lopsided this hardly seems necessary.

Lieut. Jack Kennedy is said to be slated to be tonight's referee. He handled the bitter Hudkins-Anderson fight. Both fighters—Ace and McVey—lean toward Kennedy.

The election returns over the hotly contested race for Governorship will be broadcast from ringside, the Olympic management announced last night.

Jimmy Martin, the Idaho boy who has looked like main-event material at times, bones Fred Cullen in the six-round semifinal. Cullen is a boner.

Big Ecklund, a Nebraskan brought here by the Hudkins boys, faces Slutts Rouck, a puncher, in the special event. They are 168-pounders.

The two fours are Marcelino Lomeli vs. Willie Fausto, lightweights, and Al Cruise vs. Frank Rossey, middleweights.

GENARO CALLS OFF NEWSBOY BROWN BOUT

Frankie Genaro, N.B.A. flyweight champion, yesterday called off his bout with Newsboy Brown slated for September 9, here. His reason, according to the wire, was that he had signed to box Midget Wolgast at Madison Square Garden.

The Olympic has forwarded all communications between Billy McCarney, manager of Genaro, and Matchmaker Wad Wadhams to the New York Commission for settlement. The planned Genaro-Wolgast bout isn't slated until October. Brown whipped Wolgast here last week.

BRIX IS STAR AT PITTSBURGH

of the day was the exhibition shot putting of Herman Brix, the L.A.A.C. star, who broke the national record last Saturday in the sixteen-pound shot put. Today, after warming up by heaving the sixteen-pounder 50ft. 3 3-4in., he let go and put the twelve-pound shot out to fifty-eight feet eight and a fraction inches to a new world's record.

Then the next moment Herman broke the eight-pound world's record of 67ft. 7in., to a new all-time world's record of 68ft. 8 7-8in. Not only that, but the combined total of these three puts give Brix a new medley shot-put record for the world at 177ft. 8 5-8in.

After eighteen holes of golf yesterday out at McKeesport, Big Jim Stewart decided to while away the day by entering the decathlon. Tonight he came home with 7200 points, the second-place winner of the country's best. Rothert of the Olympic Club, was only a few points behind, and the winner was in the 7400. Jim's only comment on his accomplishment was that he was in a big rush to the dining-room to get back some of the ten pounds he lost during the day.

Tomorrow morning we will be in Chicago for the English meet Wednesday evening at Soldier Field.

SHEA, MASSEY DRAW

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 25. (AP)—Eddie Shea, flashy Chicago featherweight, and Lew Massey, hard-hitting Philadelphia Italian, fought 10 whirlwind rounds to a draw decision here tonight. In a six-rounder Gene Buffalo, Philadelphia, 152, won the decision over Billy Alger, Phoenix, Ariz., 152.

RABBIT PUNCHES

PAUL LOWRY

ALONG THE TRAIL

TWO weeks away from the lookout post and important events have taken place in the sport world:

The Brooklyn Dodgers, leading the National League by a fairly comfortable margin a fortnight ago, have been dumped into the third spot by the indomitable Cubs and the relentless Giants.

Jim Dandy, a 100-to-1 shot, beats the season's star 3-year-olds, Gallant Fox and Whichone, and San Diego makes much of the fact that the Dandy never placed better than third in nine races at Agua Caliente.

Rumblings of the approaching football storm grow louder as the shifting and nonshifting advocates toss verbal shells before retiring into the trenches for heavy warfare three weeks hence.

The L.A.A.C. wins its second national A.A.U. track-and-field crown in three years by defeating the cream of the country in the East's own backyard, more than doubling the point score of its nearest rival, a western contender.

A flatic gigantic is announced for Wrigley Field September 15, but with only one name in the hat, suspicions prevail that the only thing gigantic about it is the date—the opening of the Pacific Coast Conference football training season.

THE L.A.A.C. RECORD

IT MAY have been the Pittsburgh smoke or it may have been their California ways, but the L.A.A.C. track boys cleaned up with a vengeance in the A.A.U. nationals.

Seven firsts and forty-five points speak volumes for the ability of the Mercury spike wearers, not to mention the new American records in shot and javelin by Herman Brix and Jim De Mera, respectively, and the victory in the low hurdles by Bob Maxwell, the perennial timber topper, who improves with age.

Washington, too, has a lot to cheer over with a third place in the team standings, Jessup's new world's record in the discus throw and Genung's splendid 1m. 53 4-10s. half—a new meet record.

Some of the chroniclers, however, were slightly inaccurate in referring to Genung as an "unheralded runner." He competed at Denver last year and placed second to Phil Edwards, beating Martin of the Boston A.A.

And it was only in the last ten yards that the long-striding Edwards nipped Genung, a University of Washington sophomore, in time which, but for the gale coming off Pike's Peak, would have been every bit as good as that at Pittsburgh.

Genung was low in his studies, and did not compete for Washington last spring. He won the half in the national collegiates at Chicago a year ago last June.

Vic Williams, who has another year at Troy, also deserves a cheer for the way in which he rounded out his 1926 season, literally grinding Pete Bowen, last year's A.A.U. champion, into the cinders. Also Pomeroy, another veteran, for his win in the 440 high sticks.

Jim Stewart's accident in the high jump was regrettable. Doc Rowe, on the first tee at Palos Verdes Sunday morning, told me Jim admitted to him he had beaten the world's record by jumping 6ft. 9in. in practice at Rovard Field just before the Mercury team departed for the East.

JIM DANDY'S CAREER

JIM DANDY'S victory over Gallant Fox and Whichone was a personal triumph for John McKee, San Diegan, who is credited with putting more Californians into the racing game than any other one man.

Although his nine starts at Agua Caliente since the first of the year Jim Dandy never finished better than third—this in its last race, the Brisbane handicap, to Seth's Hope and Brown Windsor—the horse made good at Saratoga on August 14, and confirmed McKee's judgment in his purchase for Chaffee Earl, youthful California millionaire.

This is McKee's record:

Started John McKeon, owner of the Meadowbrook farm at Ontario, with Prince Ti Ti and Bon Homme.

Secured Cherry Tree and Dr. Clark for Baron Long.

Purchased Sunspero, Sweeping Away, Sandy Man, Moonraker and Sarsander for Hamilton Cotton.

Bought Flagstaff for Norman Church.

And Nalshapur and Jim Dandy for Chaffee Earl.

NATIONAL CROWNS

A PROUD boast by Mr. Leslie B. Henry of the national A.A.U. and big squeeze at the L.A.A.C.:

Four national outdoor championships for the L.A.A.C. this year—men's swimming, women's swimming, gymnastics and track and field, plus the indoor swimming by Hollywood.

A BOBBY JONES PUTTER

AND oh, for a perennial partner like Walter Braunschweiger, whose putting is easier to look at than his name to spell—a man with the courage of his convictions, who will step up to a forty-five-footer and ram it home on the eighteenth like a Bobby Jones when it counts for one-one-one. Even when the opposition is a "Maj." Low and an ex-quarterback like Les Henry.

were Miss Florence Beebe, Chicago, 80; Mrs. Lee Mida, Chicago, 81; Miss Jean Armstrong, Chicago, 81; Miss Virginia Van Wie, Chicago, 82; Miss Helen Lawson, Los Angeles, 82.

All four women who competed abroad for America this year against Great Britain qualified; Mrs. Hill, Mrs. Mida, Miss Van Wie and Miss Bernice Wall, Oshkosh, Wis., although Miss Wall was six over par.

SEVEN YOUNGSTERS

Seven of the younger players who threaten the supremacy of the veterans gained places in the select thirty-two, although Edith Begg, Cleveland, had to play off for three holes to win a place. Others are Mary Elizabeth Ford, Kansas City; Betty Bruen, Kansas City; Lucile Lobinson, Des Moines; June and Florence Beebe, Chicago; Rena Nelson, Chicago. Miss Begg had a 92 as did Mrs. J. W. Beyer, Tulsa, Okla.; Miss Ann Webster, Fort Leavenworth, Kan., and Mrs. W. W. Haerther, Chicago. Scores of 91, nine over par, safely made the championship flight.

First-round match play will begin at 8:30 o'clock tomorrow morning. The matches will be at eighteen holes. Play in four lesser flights will follow.

Included in the championship flight pairings for the first-round matches tomorrow are:

Mrs. Roy Green, Los Angeles, (85) vs. Mrs. Nathan Reiger, Kansas City, (91;) Mrs. Gregg Lifur, Los Angeles, (76,) vs. June Beebe, Chicago, (87,) and Helen Lawson, Los Angeles, (82,) vs. Mrs. Lillian Zech, Chicago, (89.)

McLOUGHLIN, SAL TO MIX AT MAIN STREET

Carlo Curtis has matched Baby Sal Sorio and Mickey McLoughlin for the six-round main event at the Main Street Club Saturday night. It will be Sorio's first start in a local ring in months. Shortly after he boxed Tod Morgan for the world's junior lightweight title the Mexican was forced to undergo an operation. During the past few weeks he has been going like a house afire at the smaller clubs, and is rapidly rounding into his old-time form. McLoughlin is a Chicago boy, a very fair boxer and puncher.

SAD SAM JONES DRUBS CHAMPS

Athletics Stopped 3-2 in Close Contest

Joe Cronin's Timely Hits Cop for Senators

Rookie Pitcher Wins Game for Detroit

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 25. (AP)—Joe Cronin's timely hitting in support of Sad Sam Jones's brilliant pitching gave the Washington Senators a 3-to-2 decision over the Philadelphia Athletics today and cut the first-place lead of the world champions to six and one-half games.

Lefty Grove, seeking his ninth straight and twenty-second mound victory of the season for the Mackmen, also was in rare form but he caught Jones on a day when the 38-year-old Washington ace had the Athletics swinging wildly at his curve ball while Cronin was connecting with hits when hits meant runs.

Cronin's first part in the Senators' victory came in the fourth, when he drove in Heinie Manush with a homer into the left-field stands. The A's were not long in tieing the count, however, coming back with two runs in their half of the same frame. Successive doubles by Bishop and Summa, followed by Foxx's sacrifice fly, were responsible for the two tallies.

In the eighth Cronin came to bat again and this time Sam Rice was perched on third with the score still tied. A sizzling single to right produced what proved to be the winning run.

Meanwhile Jones was breezing along, issuing a base on balls now and then, but tightening when the Athletics got a man on base. The champions placed two men on base in the fifth and again in the seventh but each time they were forced to go scoreless.

In everything but hitting Grove had the better of Jones. The Philadelphia speed-ball king struck out five to Jones's two while issuing only two free tickets to the Washington hurler's five. Grove, however, was touched for eight hits as Jones held the champions to six safeties.

The game, witnessed by 20,000 persons, took on a world series atmosphere with four umpires on the job. Hildebrand was behind the plate, Moriarty at first, Guthrie at second and Nallin at third.

BROWNS BUMPED

DETROIT, Aug. 25. (AP)—Tom Bridges, rookie right-hander making his first major league start today, held the St. Louis Browns in check for eight and two-thirds innings to give the Detroit Tigers a 7-to-2 victory, although Waite Hoyt had to go to the rescue of the former Three Eye League ace. Hoyt pitched to the last batter after the Browns had rallied to score four runs in the ninth.

Bridges was in trouble most of the time because of twelve bases on balls but tightened in the clinches, holding the Browns to seven hits. Hoyt went to the mound after Farrell had cleaned the loaded sacks with a triple.

The Detroit sluggers found Coffman, Holshauser and Collins for eleven hits, including a homer by Bill Akers. The Tiger infield backed Bridges's hurling with four double plays.

PERERINA, DOZIER TO TANGLE TOMORROW

Seeking his fifth straight knockout Joe Peregrina, Mexican middleweight, will meet Battling Dozier in the ten-round main event at Ocean Park tomorrow night. The distance is in the Mexican's favor. Dozier might get a break if it were a six-rounder.

Harry Wallinder, a clever featherweight, meets Frankie Hirsh, a good puncher, in the six-round semi-wind-up. It should be a fast bout. Other bouts scheduled, all four-rounders, are: Eddie Rubio vs. Jess Gabaco, 124 pounds; Hymie Rudin vs. Tony Galton, 133 pounds; Joe Comeaux vs. Ralph Leonard, 145 pounds.

INDIAN TAKES DECATHLON

Haskell Redskin Noses Out Jim Stewart for National Crown at Pittsburgh

out Harlow Rothert of Stanford University football fame for third place. Fifth also went to an unheralded representative of the Florida institution, Forest Munger, the lightest man in the entire starting field of thirteen, as he weighed but 140 pounds.

Thirteen athletes drawn from all parts of the country began the exhausting ten event test at 10 o'clock this morning and eleven of them stuck to the finish more than eight hours later.

Here is how they stood in points at the end of the program, which consisted of the 100-meter run, broad jump, shot put, high jump, 400-meter run, 110-meter hurdle, discus throw, pole vault, javelin throw and 1500-meter run in that order:

Charles, first, 7313.343 points; Stewart, second, 7119.805; Hall, third, 7075.071; Rothert, fourth, 7073.13; Munger, fifth, 6480.005; Howard Jones, New York A.C., sixth, 5917.753; Ivan Dyckman, Denver R.A.C., seventh, 5613.00; Walter Hutchison, Ithaca (N. Y.) School of Physical Education, eighth, 5706.867; Edward Wlodyka, Boston A.A., ninth, 5645.57; Fred Pusch, Grove City College, tenth, 5600.463; Louis Peresenyi, Union A.C., Pittsburgh, eleventh, 5286.30, and Jim Deering, Yale, twelfth, 4584.005.

Everett Utterback, former University of Pittsburgh athlete, dropped out when in second place at the end of the first two events, and Dyckman was forced to give up after he had finished nine of the ten. His nine-event point total gave Dyckman a place in the final standing, however.

Charles's winning mark, although a creditable performance, was some 471 points short of the American record established by Ken Doherty of Detroit before he retired from amateur competition to become a coach.

The finish of the grind was dramatic in the extreme. Charles took the lead in points when he won the broad jump early in the day, and held it most of the way until with seven events completed he was still in front with a point total of 5437.83, to Stewart's 5420.89. Hall and Rothert were so close behind that only 26 points separated first and fourth.

The powerful Texan all but speared the title for himself when he threw the javelin 168ft. 6½in. to Charles 141ft. ¾in. With this Stewart forged into the lead, but the fleet Indian loped on through the final grind of nearly a mile at a pace that gave him back the lead in points and with it the title.

A fast quartet of sprinters from the Los Angeles Athletic Club, won both the 400-yard and 800-yard relays in the National Amateur Athletic Union championships today, but the Denver A. C. entering every relay event on the program, won the point trophy with 13 to the Los Angeles club's 10.

RETAIN TITLES

Bob Maxwell, Vic Williams, Raymond Alf and Hector Dyer carried the baton to victory for the Los Angeles A. C., in both of the shorter events, successfully defending titles won by their club last year.

The two-mile relay title event went to the Pennsylvania Railroad A.A. of Chicago; the four-mile to the Pittsburgh A.A. quartet, and the mile to the Boston A.A., a pack of quarter-milers.

In points the Newark A. C. was third with 8; Pennsylvania Railroad, Pittsburgh A. A., and Boston A. A. tied for fourth with 5, and the Union A. C., brought up the rear with 2.

The Los Angeles A. C. led all the way to retain the 440-yard relay championship. The speedy Pacific Coast quartet won by three yards from the Newark A. C., with the Denver A. C., third and last. The time was 43.2s.

The Los Angeles A. C. after taking the 440-yard relay, won the 880-yard event with the same quartet. Again the Newark A. C. was second and Denver third.

A heavy rain descended upon the stadium immediately afterward, driving spectators, athletes and officials to cover.

BRIX SETS MARK

Competing in a special shot-putting contest with eight and twelve-pound weights, Herman Brix of the Los Angeles A. C., set new American records of both of the lighter missiles. He heaved the twelve-pound shot 58ft. 8 1-4in., to beat John Kuck's previous mark of 58ft. 7 3-4in., without even removing his sweat shirt, than outstripped Ralph Rose's eight-pound record of 67ft. 7in., with a put of 68ft. 9 7-8in.

STARS, REDS TO TANGLE TONIGHT

up the lead they figure to during the coming two weeks. Gordon Rhodes, who has been on the shelf with a lame shoulder for almost three weeks, is expected to be ready for duty again this series and that will give the Hollywood mound staff the one more good hurler needed to steady the hurling corps.

Frank Shellenback, who has won his last three starts, will probably be Vitt's choice for mound duty in tonight's series opener, although George Hollerson or Emil Yde are also available for duty. Herman Pillette looms as the Mission moundsman for this evening.

The Reds, who haven't the punch that made them so dangerous since they sold Harry Rosenberg and Pat Boone, lost five out of seven at Sacramento last week and are now tied for fifth place with Oakland.

Ladies will again be free to all night games this week and Secretary "Spider" Baum says that Bill Lane is going to have another surprise for the fans who attend next Sunday's twin bill.

With Jesse Hill hitting the ball hard and often and Mike Gazella and Otis Brannan also raising their averages, the Stars will have their offense all polished up to make things tough for the Mission flingers. Hill had a great week in Oakland and his average is now hovering around the .330 mark. Gazella and Brannan are above .300 and with them lending a lot of batting support to the wicked willows of Hank Severeid, Johnny Bassler, Dave Barbee, Bill Rumler and Mickey Heath, the Sheiks have a line-up that is full of dynamite.

The Angels, with their line-up crippled by the absence of Johnny Moore and Carl Dittmar, who are laid up with injuries, go north to San Francisco in none too good shape to start the crucial series with the Seals. Neither Moore nor Dittmar made the trip north last night but Ditty is expected to join the Seraphs by Saturday. With both Moore and Dittmar out it leaves quite a hole in the Angel defense on the left side of the diamond for neither Harper nor Rawlings covers the territory that the men they replace are capable of. The batting of Moore and Dittmar will also be missed.

However, Lelivelt has his athletes hustling and, inasmuch as the Angels have always played their best in Recreation Park, they may upset the Seals anyway.

Nick Williams's Seals have a powerful hitting club but their defense is nothing about which to brag. The Seals also are short on mound talent for Jimmy Zinn and Elmer Jacobs are really the only dependable hurlers on the club. The Seal mound staff has quality but is away short on quantity and this string of sixteen straight games will find the Angel pitching corps in better shape to face the long test.

Other series starting tonight take place in the Northwest, the Oaks and Indians clashing in Seattle and the Portland Ducks entertaining the Sacramento club.

SANTA ANA NINE WINS

Santa Ana ball players won the right to face Colton in the Southern California night baseball playoff by defeating Whittier last night, 6 to 4. The game was staged at Whittier.

BARTLETT IN DRAW BOUT

FRANKLIN, BAKER TANGLE

Jack Franklin will meet Bud Baker in the eight-round main event at Compton Friday night. They are 165-pounders. Other bouts listed, all four-rounders, are: Bert Smith vs. Bob Martin, 150 pounds; Sal Ortega vs. Dan Solas, 133 pounds; Young Ralph vs. Don Arnoth, 122 pounds; Peter Pena vs. Joe Ray, 118 pounds.

Sauer Signed by Mercuries as Mat Coach

Pete Sauer, heavyweight professional wrestler, is the new wrestling instructor at the Los Angeles Athletic Club. The announcement will be made in the current issue of Mercury, club weekly publication. Through a recommendation made by Eddie O'Connell, himself one of the finest wrestlers in the world at his weight, Sauer was secured for the position by Frank A. Garbutt. He replaces Waino Ketonen, who has returned to the East.

stead of the usual first string. This experiment will be tried for the Santa Clara contest on September 27, at least. If it works well it will be employed for the early season contests and then for the more important scraps with Washington, the University of Southern California and Stanford.

Next, Price this year will send his gridders through a modified line-shift plus a shift for the backfield. The line shifted last season, but the backfield was quiet. This year there will be action a plenty and this is what the fans will want, including the California alumni.

Another big change will be the offensive psychology which the Californians will employ. It no longer will it be a matter of waiting for breaks to occur, but of stepping out to score more than the enemy. This is a decided digression from what was Price's policy.

Net Favorites Perform Today

The annual Alhambra tennis tournament got under way yesterday with a number of preliminary matches played, although none of the seeded players got into action. The affair will settle down in earnest this afternoon, with most of the leading stars performing.

Elbert Lewis, Pacific Coast collegiate champion, and Frank Wetsmith, two of the favorites in the men's singles, open their campaigns today. Schedule:

9 a.m.—Cramer vs. Setzer, Hayes vs. Woodside, Chambers vs. Miami, Steves vs. Steen.

9 a.m.—Loveland vs. Ratliffe, Lacks and Lang vs. Hesse and Miller, Jones vs. Wilson.

9 a.m.—Hall vs. Russell, Thomas and Hall vs. Hall and Miller, Barker vs. Charnock.

9 a.m.—Wright vs. Dixon, Lorenz vs. Miller, Lewis vs. Wright
